COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF. Lease taken on building for municipal garage and store

Ordinance sent to final reading providing for creation of four new city positions. Parole granted to J. R. Selberg, Public markets plan considered.

Portland now has a municipal garage for the housing and repairing of all automobiles and trucks belonging to the city. At a special meeting of the Commission yesterday morning a building at East Water and East Mudison streets was leased for a year and will be fitted for garage and storehouse purposes for the city at once, A monthly rental of $500 will be paid in addiamounting to $35 a month.

The lower floor will be rearranged and fitted with the latest appliances for the maintenance of the automobiles.

The upper floor will be used for storing city supplies, which are purchased in bulk at wholesale prices and kept in stock for use as needed. Among other things it is proposed to establish an office in the bullding, to be conducted by a stock clerk whose duty it will be to give out supplies as required. Arrangements have not been made for the selection of a man feet this position as yet.

Four Pinees to Be Filled.
Ordinances were sent to third reading by the Commission yesterday providing for the creation of four new positions. They are information clerk at the City Hall, assistant park superintendent and additional deputy City Attorney. The information position will pay $100 a month. The duties will be to give out information regarding city affairs and to direct people to various city departments at the City Hall, the duties will be taken by automobile to the lim this sary information, and is being assisted by the police, who are prosecuting a large number of immoral women in order to lay the foundation for action. The new law provides that the District Attorney shall, and any citizen may, bring proceedings in Circuit Court to abate the nuisance of a disorderly place. No other testimony is needed than, the common fame of the place. If the order is granted, the equipment of the house may be selzed and sold to defray the costs of the action, and the house may not be reopened for affairs and to direct people to various city departments at the City Hall. The Hall messenger will be paid $40. a month and will run errands for city officials. The additional deputy City Attorney will receive $150 a month. His work will be that of codifying the city ordinances. The position will be only temporary. The assistant park superintendent will receive $150 a month. He will have charge of park work under Park Superintendent Mische.

Mische.
Indicating for the first time their policy regarding the pardoning and parolity of city prisoners, the Commission granted a parole to J. R. Selberg, who was sent to fall July 25 for carrying concealed weapons. Selberg was convicted of driving his wife and family into an attic and then dashing out of the house with a revolver is but out of the house with a revolver in his hand. He has served only 11 days of his 25 days' sentence. This is the first leniency case of the kind brought before the Commission.

who wished to get her clothes from the hotel, the officer noticed, as they entered the door, a saunterer, apparently a business man, who moved in their direction. Going to the room formerly occupied by the girl, they were startled a few minutes later by a furtive knock, and upon opening the door, the woman-officer saw the man in the hall.

Without a word the intruder walked over to the younger girl and, placing his hand under her chin, remarked. "Hello, chicken."

Frobably restrained by the presence of the officer, the girl looked at him haughtily, and said, "You've made a mistake, sir."
