

HUERTA SENDS WORD HIS MIND IS CHANGED

Bryan Issues Statement Saying Fuller Understanding May Bring Change.

HASTE WILL NOT BE MADE

Envoy to Act With Propriety and to Convey Official Information as to Attitude of Washington Administration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Receipt today by Secretary Bryan of a message from the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs...

Bryan Issues Statement

Mr. Bryan also issued the following statement: "The statement of the Mexican foreign government was based on misrepresentations for which this government is not responsible."

It also was announced by Secretary Bryan that Mr. Lind would not arrive at Vera Cruz before Saturday night...

Some officials saw an advantage in proceeding slowly, however, so as to afford the Huerta administration an opportunity to become more fully acquainted with the purposes of Mr. Lind's visit.

Administration officials take the position that objections to Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico are unwarranted as the general public is not acquainted with the proposals which he carries...

On Mr. Lind's arrival these proposals will be made public in Mexico City and Washington and transmitted from here to all the foreign governments represented at Washington.

Further emphasis was laid by Administration officials on the point that Mr. Lind, as adviser to the American Embassy, would occupy no unprecedented position...

Proprieties to Be Observed. The inference that he would interfere directly in Mexican politics, which it appears had spread through Mexico, was declared without justification.

Most of the Republicans, as well as the Democrats of the two Congressional committees on foreign relations, have indicated that they would support the efforts of President Wilson to bring about peace in Mexico.

Several young women teachers who have been in Mexico in the Tampico district have been carried for by the consulate of the port and sent to Galveston, with the exception of one, who has refused to leave Valles.

Refugees from the Coco and Chamal colonies are reported and it is intended to send them either to Galveston or New Orleans.

The situation at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz is reported unchanged, the rebels being still at Monclova and the rebels between that place and Hermosillo. Small skirmishes take place daily, but with small results.

VICTORY WORSE THAN DEFEAT. London Editor Predicts Difficulty in Quitting Mexico.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Commenting on the Mexican situation, the Spectator says: "If America gets involved in a Mexican war she will be lucky if it lasts only three years and stops short of forcing her to raise armies on the European scale."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—State Department advices today said that a small plantation belonging to Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, situated near Ciudad Carman, State of Tabasco, and adjacent property owned by the Mexican exploitation company (American) Mexico, has been occupied by insurrectionary forces under the leadership of Manuel Pascual.

Several young women teachers who have been in Mexico in the Tampico district have been carried for by the consulate of the port and sent to Galveston, with the exception of one, who has refused to leave Valles.

Refugees from the Coco and Chamal colonies are reported and it is intended to send them either to Galveston or New Orleans.

The situation at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz is reported unchanged, the rebels being still at Monclova and the rebels between that place and Hermosillo. Small skirmishes take place daily, but with small results.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Commenting on the Mexican situation, the Spectator says: "If America gets involved in a Mexican war she will be lucky if it lasts only three years and stops short of forcing her to raise armies on the European scale."

NEW YORK BANKER AND HIS WIFE, PARDONED VALET AND NEW YORK GOVERNOR, MENTIONED IN SCANDAL

Above, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer L. Schiff. (Photo by Hays).—Below, Left, Pauline E. Brandt; Right, Governor Sulzer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The $50,000,000 of Federal funds about to be deposited in the National banks of the West and South to assist in moving the crops will be increased to $150,000,000 if necessary.

The dominant tone of the bankers' expressed conviction is that the Treasury Department announced tonight that business conditions were good, but that the proposed deposits would relieve the usual strain.

The 21 bankers gathered at the meeting seized the opportunity to present their views on the proposed bill to the Government. They urged two material amendments to the pending Glass-Owen bill—one curtailing the powers of the Federal Reserve Board proposed to control the reserve bank system, and the other essentially modifying the reserve requirements of the measure so as to minimize the decentralization of credits.

Amendments to the bill were proposed to Chairman Owen, of the Senate Finance Committee after the conference with Treasury officials regarding the deposits. It was urged that the Federal reserve board be deprived of all powers of initiative, judging that action with the proposed advisory board, composed of bankers.

Another angle of the case which interests the committee is one that has been developed in the Schiff scandal to be threshed out again. Schiff, it is charged, gave Sulzer $25,000 for his campaign, which does not appear in the returns.

Witness Tells of Attention Called to Account, Then "Bad and Weak," and Insistence on Deposit of $15,000 More.

Melville D. Fuller, a member of the firm, who on Wednesday had refused to answer the questions of the committee. Before Fuller testified today his counsel announced that the Governor had agreed that "Mr. Fuller's lips should be unsealed."

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

$150,000,000 CASH IS READY IF NEEDED

McAdoo Indicates Willingness to Go Limit in Aiding Movement of Crops.

BANKERS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Opinion Is $50,000,000 Originally Offered Will Be Sufficient for Purpose—Early Currency Legislation Favored.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The $50,000,000 of Federal funds about to be deposited in the National banks of the West and South to assist in moving the crops will be increased to $150,000,000 if necessary.

The dominant tone of the bankers' expressed conviction is that the Treasury Department announced tonight that business conditions were good, but that the proposed deposits would relieve the usual strain.

The 21 bankers gathered at the meeting seized the opportunity to present their views on the proposed bill to the Government. They urged two material amendments to the pending Glass-Owen bill—one curtailing the powers of the Federal Reserve Board proposed to control the reserve bank system, and the other essentially modifying the reserve requirements of the measure so as to minimize the decentralization of credits.

Amendments to the bill were proposed to Chairman Owen, of the Senate Finance Committee after the conference with Treasury officials regarding the deposits. It was urged that the Federal reserve board be deprived of all powers of initiative, judging that action with the proposed advisory board, composed of bankers.

Another angle of the case which interests the committee is one that has been developed in the Schiff scandal to be threshed out again. Schiff, it is charged, gave Sulzer $25,000 for his campaign, which does not appear in the returns.

Witness Tells of Attention Called to Account, Then "Bad and Weak," and Insistence on Deposit of $15,000 More.

Melville D. Fuller, a member of the firm, who on Wednesday had refused to answer the questions of the committee. Before Fuller testified today his counsel announced that the Governor had agreed that "Mr. Fuller's lips should be unsealed."

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

whose names appeared on the hotel register he had with him.

E. W. Miller, a grocer's solicitor, told of supplying provisions ordered by "Mr. Ross" for the Reno bungalow. He called at the cottage and found the two girls "at their usual work, doing nothing."

Diggs Mentions His "Wife." Mrs. Kate Moore, wife of the District Attorney of Washoe County, whose home is on the corner opposite the Cheney-street bungalow, told of a conversation with Diggs as "Dunham" who asked her to call on his "wife."

A. J. Mergen, the real estate clerk who showed Diggs and Caminetti the bungalow, was so successful in picking out the two men from the throng before him. He pointed out Diggs correctly, but selected His Honor's private secretary, James Ryan, as "Ross."

Not until court convenes again next Tuesday will come the testimony for which the Government is preparing. The case pivots on the testimony of the two girls. It is they who must make good the Government's statements of its case.

What the Government has not yet proved is the fact that the man in which the party got to Reno and who paid for the tickets, and since the Mann act makes it a felony to transport women from one state to another for immoral purposes, it is precisely this point that must be settled, as Judge Van Fleet made plain in his judgment that the character of the girls was not an issue.

At the close of the day's session court was adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Samuel P. Hall, of Oakland, Judge of the Appellate Court. Judge Van Fleet said he proposed to adjourn court for the entire afternoon but for the fact that the witnesses from Reno would be obliged to remain here until next Tuesday.

Both Diggs and Caminetti are to be put on the witness stand to testify in behalf of the former if the manager in plans of the defense hold. Attorney Marshall B. Woodworth said at the conclusion of the day's proceedings today that the defense intended to call both of them.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—All predictions of an early passage of the Democratic tariff bill by the Senate are going glimmering. Majority leaders realize that, notwithstanding the fact that they have set a new record in pushing consideration of the measure, only a beginning has been made and the earliest anyone now will promise completion of the task is September 10.

Two days ago, when a member of the finance committee said he thought the Senate would pass the bill by August 20, there were some who thought it might be possible, but that date is less than two weeks away and only four schedules have been considered, 34 paragraphs in these having been passed over for future consideration.

Intervention, he thinks, would be unfortunate. Former Provisional President Believes Wilson and Huerta Can Find a Solution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Intervention in Mexico by the United States is scarcely more than a remote possibility, but should there be intervention it would be fraught with the gravest consequences. It is the opinion of Francisco de la Barra, former provisional president of Mexico and former Mexican Ambassador to France, who arrived today from Mexico, that the United States should not intervene.

"I am firmly of the belief," said Senor de la Barra, "that the intelligence of the American and Mexican peoples and the spirit of justice and fair play by both countries will prevail in the present situation and that the possibility of anything akin to international complications is the most remote."

Intervention, it seems to me, is hardly to be thought of. High officials in Mexico do not seriously consider the possibility, let alone the probability, of such action on the part of the United States. I will say, however, that should there be any chance of intervention, the universal feeling in Mexico would be such that it would be difficult to predict the outcome.

Senor de la Barra would not commit himself so far as to say that all the warring factions in Mexico would be united against the United States in case of intervention.

"That would be presuming too much," he said, "I do not know now any way of telling what stand would be taken by all factions, but the indubitable fact is that there is a great number of people in Mexico do not want foreign intervention in their affairs and probably would do what they could to prevent it."

I have the greatest faith in the ability of President Wilson and Provisional President Huerta, to solve the present situation. I am sure that both men are prompted by motives of justice and fairness and will see to it that nothing precipitate is done. Personally I have no reason to feel that existing difficulties will be settled before long.

Senor de la Barra said he could not discuss the mission of ex-Governor Lind as President Wilson's special representative to Mexico, since he had not read the newspapers the last few days and so was not acquainted with the facts.

Senor de la Barra was accompanied to New York by a party of prominent Mexicans, including Carlos Fereyra, Mexican Minister to Belgium, and Juan Cabel, secretary to Provisional President Huerta.

WASHINGTON, Wash., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The forthcoming report of the bureau of inspection of the Washington Industrial Insurance Department will contain recommendations for radical increase of compensation for workmen temporarily disabled. It will be in spite of the fact that the examination was made by State Representative McArdie, of Jefferson County, who was originally an opponent of the bill in 1911 and who has always been opposed to the present clause proposed by the commission which drafted the compensation act.

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

Japan and Return Now $300!

On the Wonderful, New Canadian Pacific Empresses—two finest ships on the Pacific! Time Reduced Nearly One Week 10 Days to Japan 15 Days to China

Brand new, these splendid Royal Mail Steamers are superbly equipped—nothing like them in Pacific waters. Elaborately furnished single and two berth staterooms and suites with private bath, sumptuous library, lounge, smoking and writing rooms. Splendid dining saloon, unique veranda cafe, spacious promenade decks, a gymnasium and laundry.

The most delightful 10 days that anyone can spend is on the cool, blue Pacific Ocean between Vancouver and Yokohama, enjoying these luxurious surroundings and the superb service.

The voyage is shortened almost One Week, saving two on the round trip, affording extra time for sight-seeing or for transacting business.

The EMPRESSES reach Japan in 10 days, China in 15 days. Each day affords new pleasure and interests. While Japan holds a world of fresh and fascinating experiences for the tourist and is scenically one of the most beautiful countries in the world.

NEW FOLDER FREE.—Travel lovers should get a copy of our new folder, just off the press, and learn of this new cruise and the new ships which offer such wonderful opportunities for pleasure touring.

Yours, with full information as to Canadian Pacific Oriental, Australasian and 'Round the World' trips, by phoning, calling on or writing FRANK R. JOHNSON, General Agent, Cor. 34 and Pine Sts., Portland, Oregon. Phone Main 96, or A 2390.

TARIFF WILL DRAG

Leaders Give Up Hope of Hastening Final Action.

MANY SCHEDULES REMAIN

Wool, Sugar and Agriculture Yet to Be Settled, Among Others, and Earliest Date Now Predicted Is September 20.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—All predictions of an early passage of the Democratic tariff bill by the Senate are going glimmering. Majority leaders realize that, notwithstanding the fact that they have set a new record in pushing consideration of the measure, only a beginning has been made and the earliest anyone now will promise completion of the task is September 10.

Two days ago, when a member of the finance committee said he thought the Senate would pass the bill by August 20, there were some who thought it might be possible, but that date is less than two weeks away and only four schedules have been considered, 34 paragraphs in these having been passed over for future consideration.

Intervention, he thinks, would be unfortunate. Former Provisional President Believes Wilson and Huerta Can Find a Solution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Intervention in Mexico by the United States is scarcely more than a remote possibility, but should there be intervention it would be fraught with the gravest consequences. It is the opinion of Francisco de la Barra, former provisional president of Mexico and former Mexican Ambassador to France, who arrived today from Mexico, that the United States should not intervene.

"I am firmly of the belief," said Senor de la Barra, "that the intelligence of the American and Mexican peoples and the spirit of justice and fair play by both countries will prevail in the present situation and that the possibility of anything akin to international complications is the most remote."

Intervention, it seems to me, is hardly to be thought of. High officials in Mexico do not seriously consider the possibility, let alone the probability, of such action on the part of the United States. I will say, however, that should there be any chance of intervention, the universal feeling in Mexico would be such that it would be difficult to predict the outcome.

Senor de la Barra would not commit himself so far as to say that all the warring factions in Mexico would be united against the United States in case of intervention.

"That would be presuming too much," he said, "I do not know now any way of telling what stand would be taken by all factions, but the indubitable fact is that there is a great number of people in Mexico do not want foreign intervention in their affairs and probably would do what they could to prevent it."

I have the greatest faith in the ability of President Wilson and Provisional President Huerta, to solve the present situation. I am sure that both men are prompted by motives of justice and fairness and will see to it that nothing precipitate is done. Personally I have no reason to feel that existing difficulties will be settled before long.

Senor de la Barra said he could not discuss the mission of ex-Governor Lind as President Wilson's special representative to Mexico, since he had not read the newspapers the last few days and so was not acquainted with the facts.

Senor de la Barra was accompanied to New York by a party of prominent Mexicans, including Carlos Fereyra, Mexican Minister to Belgium, and Juan Cabel, secretary to Provisional President Huerta.

WASHINGTON, Wash., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The forthcoming report of the bureau of inspection of the Washington Industrial Insurance Department will contain recommendations for radical increase of compensation for workmen temporarily disabled. It will be in spite of the fact that the examination was made by State Representative McArdie, of Jefferson County, who was originally an opponent of the bill in 1911 and who has always been opposed to the present clause proposed by the commission which drafted the compensation act.

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

"The compensation law is one of the best that has ever been placed on our statute books. I am convinced," McArdie stated, "but it contains some glaring errors."

At the close of the week in close inspection of the department McArdie has been converted completely.

SULZER'S DEBT BIG

Governor Accused of Speculating With Campaign Fund.

CALL MADE FOR "MARGINS"

Witness Tells of Attention Called to Account, Then "Bad and Weak," and Insistence on Deposit of $15,000 More.

Melville D. Fuller, a member of the firm, who on Wednesday had refused to answer the questions of the committee. Before Fuller testified today his counsel announced that the Governor had agreed that "Mr. Fuller's lips should be unsealed."

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

There were no other purchases of stock recorded on this account, according to the witness, until December 5, 1912, when the Governor bought 100 shares of "Big Four," making $60 in all.

In October of the same year the evidence indicated that Frederick Colwell, the Governor's alleged "dummy," purchased from Boyer, Griswold & Co. 200 shares of "Big Four" railroad stock outright at $5 for $1,000, and the $25 representing commission.

IMPEACHMENT SEEMS CERTAIN

Committee's Report Will Amount to Demand for Trial.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Special.)—The first impeachment to be held in this state has ever known seems inevitable as the result of the blows at Governor Sulzer's reputation before the Frawley committee at the City Hall today.

The committee found itself so stuffed with evidence today that it would be without hearing all the witnesses who were expected. It will meet in Albany Monday to consider the next step.

Monday night, when the House of the Legislature is resumed, a report prepared by Eugene Lamb Richardson, Jr., the Frawley committee's counsel, and covering all of the investigation has found out up to this time, will be submitted to both Houses.

No formal recommendation will accompany it, as Chairman Frawley believes that the committee is not so empowered. Others, however, good reason to believe that the report itself will amount to a demand for impeachment, and that after receiving it, there will be nothing for the lower House to do but order that Governor Sulzer be put on trial before the court of impeachment, which consists of the Senate