SANATORIUM FIGHT IS ON

EAST SIDE RESIDENTS SEEK LAW TO PREVENT INSTITUTION.

Ordinance Drafted to Drive All Such Buildings From City—Commissioners Consider Bill.

Providing for the prohibition of sanatoriums for treatment of tuberculosis within the city limits of Portland, and for the removal within one year of all sanatoriums now established for such purposes, an ordinance will be brought up for passage by the Council today.

Headed by a delegation from the Waverly-Richmond Improvement Club several East Side residents will wait on the Commissioners to urge the passage of the ordinance and to present petitions signed by citizens in all parts of Portland.

The fight against the tuberculosis sanatoriums in the city limits centers particularly about the Waverly-Richmond district, because it is at Twenty-eighth and Tibbets streets that the tuberculosis sanatorium is proposed. Co-operating with the Greater East Side Association the Waverly-Richmond residents had the ordinance drafted and submitted to the Commission. It was revised in its present form by the City Attorney on recommendation of the Commission.

D. C. Zink and L. D. Heater from the club waited on the School Board last night and requested that a committee representing the schools be sent to appear before the Commissioners. It was pointed out that it is proposed to build the sanatorium near one of the public schools, and that it may become a source of danger to school children.

WOULD-BE LODGER SHOT

Rooming-House Man Says He Was Forced to Use Gun.

Louis La Chapelle, aged 35, farmer, of St. Louis, Or., is at the Good Samaritan Hospital with a bullet wound in his left breast, and W. R. Johnson is in jail on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon as a result of La Chapelle's attempt last night to obtain a bed at a rooming-house at 25 1/2 Market street, conducted by Johnson, Dorothy Dunn, landlady of the rooming-house, and Clarence ("Mutt") Clark are held as witnesses.

According to the story told by Johnson, La Chapelle came to the rooming-house in an intoxicated condition and asked for a bed. Johnson refused him and conducted him downstairs. Johnson locked the door at the top of the stairs when he came up. La Chapelle came back up in a short time and broke in the door. He was armed with a knife, with which he struck at Clark. Johnson shot, he says, to save his life.

La Chapelle will recover. He virtually verifies Johnson's story.

BRIDGE RENTAL IS FIXED BY OFFICIALS

City to Receive Three Cents for Each Car Crossing Willamette Spans.

OLD CONTRACT ABOLISHED

New Agreement, if Granted After Legal Formalities Are Completed With, Will Mean 45 Per Cent Increase in Revenue.

Under the rental provision of a blanket franchise, agreed upon yesterday by City Commissioner Daly and President Griffith, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, the revenue to the city for use of the bridges for streetcars will be increased 45 per cent. The company will pay 3 cents for each car operated over any one of the five bridges. The new agreement will do away with the present contract and revocable permit system, used in the past in fixing the bridge rental and which has been the cause of much legal controversy.

Under the old system the company paid the city a total of $3782 a month for the use of the bridges. Under the new schedule the revenue will be $5500 a month, according to estimates prepared by officials of the company based upon present traffic conditions on the bridges. Under the settlement the contracts held by the company will be abolished, including that on the Hawthorne bridge which is now before the courts. The city and company will agree to keep tabs on the number of cars going over each bridge.

In the Hawthorne bridge controversy the company agreed not only to pay the regular cent rate, but to make up back payments at that rate as far back as December 20, 1910, when the bridge was completed. This will mean a payment of $45,000 as accrued rentals.

The question of compensation for the use of the bridges has bothered the city for many years, inasmuch as dispute was arising constantly regarding the provisions of the contracts and permits under which the company was using the bridges. Out of the whole mass of trouble city officials and representatives of the company decided to formulate a plan to place all the bridges on the same basis. The present franchise for a vote of the members of all the branches, inasmuch as the details unsettled the salient provisions of the grant have been determined and it is believed the franchise will be granted as soon as it has gone through the required legal formalities.

To make it possible for the company to use the Broadway bridge as soon as the tracks are completed on Broadway, the Commission will today grant the company a revocable permit to hold until the new 3-cent rate franchise is passed and becomes effective. The company will pay 2 cents a car under the provisions of the revocable permit.

At yesterday's meeting the question of compensation was considered, to determine whether the rental should be higher. It was pointed out that as the city grows and additional cars are placed in service the revenue to the city on the bridges will increase comparatively.

It was said by President Griffith that the average gross earning of each car on each trip crossing the bridges is $1.15 and that at the rate of 3 cents toll the company will be paying 2.8 per cent of its gross receipts. This, he said, will be in addition to all other license fees, taxes and paving expenses paid by the company for the right to operate a car. The average number of cars crossing the bridges in a day is 6049.

MAN ASKS "DOWRY" BACK

Woman Refused to Marry After Getting Cash, Says Complaint.

The woman wouldn't marry him and now he wants his money back.

This is the substance of the complaint of M. Murakinn, who yesterday started suit in Circuit Court to recover $465 from Sadie Miller, attaching some of her property to make sure that the judgment is satisfied if obtained. He asserts that during July he gave her $465 on the express understanding that if she did not become his wife or before August 1 the cash was to be refunded. He declares that she failed to make good on the promise of marriage, yet wants to retain possession of the cash.

KUHLMAN IS EXONERATED

Indiscreet 'Mashing' Preacher Keeps Pastorate at Tillamook.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Aug. 25.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which Rev. H. W. Kuhlman is the pastor, the matter of his mashing sermons in Park street was discussed and after listening to a detailed statement from the minister, he was exonerated from blame and will remain the pastor of the church until the annual conference. The members of the church said he had been only indiscreet in his actions.

An effort to reopen the case of Rev. H. W. Kuhlman, the Tillamook minister convicted in Murkinn's Court of "mashing," was made yesterday when Rev. Delmer H. Trimble and Attorney

Roscoe P. Muret appealed to Judge Stevenson to set aside the verdict of a jury. The application was taken under advisement.

As the verdict was returned by a jury of six out of which number four were in court on behalf of the defendant to plead for mercy, the court takes the tentative view that its finding must be above criticism and probably will allow the conviction to stand. No penalty was imposed on the defendant, but his friends seek to expunge the record of conviction because of its stain to his reputation.

BURNS'S CALP WANTED

SOCIALISTS DIVIDE OVER READING AGITATOR OUT OF PARTY.

One Faction Refuses to Recognize Action of Rival Wing and Appeal Goes to Secretary.

Tom Burns, Socialist agitator, whose incendiary utterances precipitated the street speaking trouble in Portland, is the object of a movement to read him out of the organization.

Members of Branches 2, 3 and 4 of the Socialist party in Portland recently took a vote on the expulsion of Burns. The vote is said to have stood 57 to 3 in favor of ousting him.

Branch 1, the most radical of the Socialist organizations here, with which Burns is directly affiliated, has refused to recognize the vote of the other branches. An appeal to the secretary of the Socialist party in the state has been taken, and the question of his expulsion probably will be referred back for a vote of the members of all four branches. It is said Branch No. 1 has a membership large enough to overcome the vote in the other branches, if its members stand behind Burns.
