Deputy Constable Hunter left last night to bring back the pair.

Shafer is accused of making false representations to procure discrimination in railroad transportation. The proceeding was instituted by the O.-W. R. & N. Company, which, under the law, is accountable if it does not use due diligence to prevent abuse of the ass privilege. Shafer was employed by the railroad mpany as an operator at Hunting-n and applied for transportation for ton and applied for transportation for himself and wife, which was issued. Then it developed that the wife had not joined in the trip. Mrs. Shafer made inquiries at the railroad offices and the exposure followed.

The wife is employed as telephone operator at an apartment-house in the northwest section of the city.

Detectives Languish for Parrot's Voice

Tropical Bird Sold for $17.50, but Check Comes Back and Equivalent Does Not.

F only the parrot could talk, as parrots are supposed to do, Detectives Royle and Goltz wouldn't have to work so hard.

Somewhere in Portland or elsewhere is a vivid bird of the tropics, estranged from its lawful owner, and the detectives are on the trail. Up to a late hour last night they had not closed in.

Mrs. G. H. Boyd, who keeps a bird store, was the owner of the bird, which just had arrived from the tropics and had not acquired the flow of language which a real parrot ought to have. Beurday. They are still after the parrot.

"Oh, if I had $50,000,000, I could do a world of good in this world and I would not care if it was tainted money. would not care if it was tained money.
Why, I would take money from the devil and then fight him with it," said Dr. Ezra C. Clements, secretary of the Conference Claimants' Society, in a sermon at Centenary Methodist Church yesterday.
