it is o'clock, as Portland will not arrive until late, because of the long haul from Vancouver.

This will be the second time this season that the Tillicums have appeared on the Portland meadow, and if the second series goes the way the first did, Portland will take a good rise in the percentage column. Seattle managed to shock but two of the eight games of the last Portland meet.

The two teams are both in the first division, Portland just one step ahead of Seattle. Portland has a margin of 20 points and a week of reversal would put Seattle in second place.

As far as dope has it, the series ought to be a tight one, with both clubs weighing about even in the batting and pitching figures.

Portland bas Eastley, somewhat ahead of the majority of the Seattle top. Todd leads them all with but a few games. He is one of the stars developed in the last northern tour of the Colts and distinguished himself on one occasion by winning two games the same afternoon.
