Committee Appointed on Merits to Chaperone 'Most Beautiful' Ones From Southern State When They Call on Portland.

Confusion, excitement and uncertainty reigned at the meeting of the Royal Royarians at the Commercial Glub year terday, when it became necessary to select a committee of 12 to entertain the Portola girls, who are billed as "the most benutiful women in California," and who are to be guesta of the Royarians in Portland about two weeks hence.

W. J. Hoffmann, prince regent, was dased, stupefied and confounded by the uproar that followed an announcement that the Portola girls would visit and that a committee would be appointed to act as their official entertainers. Every Rosarian wanted a job.

They climbed on their chairs, they flourished their arms and all at once shouted at the top of their lung power for recognition from the chair that each might explain his particular fit ness to serve on the committee. Mr. Hoffmann battered his gavel to a pitful pulp without restoring order, and them announced above the uproar that, he would go linto executive session by himself and report through the medium of the press his 12 appointments.

Last night he announced the committee, with his reasons for each appointment each with his reasons for each appointment fee, with his reasons for each appointment and then intimated that he would go linto executive session by himself and report through the medium of the press his 12 appointments.

To eliminate the multiplicity of electric light and telephone poles in the residence district. City Commissioner Daly has prepared an ordinance which will be brought before the Commission today prohibiting more than one line of poles in any street and subjecting the line to the common use of all companies.

The plan has been under consideration for some time, but no means of eliminating the numerous poles has been found possible without the adoption of an ordinance. It is believed the companies affected would not eliminate the poles voluntarily. Commissioner Daly in a series of trips about the city recently has secured much data concerning the matter. He says that on one corner on the East Side he counted it poles. In all parts of the street it is said there are many more poles than would be necessary if the companies would use the poles together.

He had been under investigation by Detective Maloney and the Federal authorities for several days, on account of his possession of a note hinting at the presence in Portland of a large quantity of cocaine.
