Efficient Fighting Forces in Majority of States Evident by Lack of Call on Emergency Funds. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. I .- Reports of forest fires

ore of the states with which the Federal Government is co-operating show that there has been a general lack of unusual fire danger this year. This is not taken to mean that there have not been a great many fires, but that an efficient fire-fighting force has been adequates. Only two states, Massachusetts and Maine, have thus far found it necessary, because of extra serious fire charard, to call upon the emergency provisions of their agreements with the Federal Government.

Maine has found it necessary to employ extra men over and above the normal allowance provided in its agreement. This any state many do under the terms of the state officer in charge of thusual shared before the extra men will be paid. The Forester at Washington has the forther right under a serious emergency to waive this maximum provision, within the limits of the funds available, and authorize the state to employ any number of additional transfer. Against 27, a son. In Massachusetts this emergency has been of a somewhat different sort. Normal conditions of fire hazard, upon Mair and the agreements of the Federal Government with the Federal Government with the States, in Massachusetts call for a distance, in Massachusetts call for a distance of the Massachusetts call for a dist tinct dry spring and fall fire season.

finct dry spring and fall fire season.

Fire protection work may thus largely be discontinued during the midsummer months. However, because of long drouths, there has been practically no let-up in the fire danger to the present. A shortage of funds was imminent, but relief was secured by an amendment to the agreement, approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, by which the Federal Government expends $500 more and the state $1000 more. Under any conditions, the law re under any conditions, the law feedures the state to spend as much money as the Federal Government. In the usual summer, the state spends on an average three dollars to the Federal Government's one; New York will expend at least ten dollars. The Government's one; will not necessarily ad-expenditure of money. Under the plan proposed, the sewage, after treatment, can be discharged into the New Jersey of health and as without injury or offense either to New Jersey or New York. The question is one of public health and as such it is one of the most important of the many similar questions which are now before municipalities in various parts of the United States.
