

OLD GUARD SEEMS GLAD TO RETIRE

Smoot Alone, of Seven "Stand-pat" Republicans, Likely to Be Re-elected.

OTHERS ARE UNPOPULAR

Gallinger Talks of Voluntary Withdrawal—Penrose Faces Fight of Life—Root Able but Not "Good Candidate."

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 2.—The United States Senate will be a topsy-turvy place for "stand-pat" Republicans after the close of the present Congress, on March 4, 1914. Out of 22 Senators whose terms expire on that date, seven are members of the "stand-pat" group.

Under the old system most of them probably could be returned, but Senators in these days are being chosen by direct vote of the people, and a majority of this little band probably will retire to private life at the close of their present terms.

The turn of fortune's wheel brings up for re-election next year Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Senator Root, of New York; Senator Dillingham, of Vermont; Senator Stephenson, of Wisconsin, and Senator Smoot, of Utah. All are "stand-pat" Republicans and all were prominently identified with the Aldrich organization when the Rhode Island Senator was master of the upper branch of Congress.

They seven embrace most of the "stand-pat" element remaining in the Senate, and in their number are the present "stand-pat" leaders of the Senate, except Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts.

In a recent colloquy with Senator Gallinger over the income tax, Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, the human hornet, angered by a remark of Gallinger, expressed himself rather frankly about the future of the "stand-pat" group, and those who stood with him on public issues, and he made the prediction that in a few years several of the long-promising "stand-pat" faces would turn up missing.

BANKERS OUTLINE CURRENCY VIEWS

Changes Declared Necessary if State Institutions Are to Be Drawn In.

PENDING BILL CRITICISED

Senate Committee Told Central Bank Would Be Preferable and Would Place Reserves Exactly Where Needed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Support for many principles of the Administration currency bill was drawn from leading members of the American Bankers' Association today at the first session of the hearing begun by the Senate committee on banking and currency.

Representatives of the recent conference of bankers at Chicago, who appeared to present recommendations for amendments to the bill, emphasized the fact that they did not come in a spirit of antagonism to the bill, but in the hope that it could be so amended as to make the new system "more attractive and more flexible."

"We do not fear Government control," said Sol Wexler, vice-president of the Whitney Central Bank, of New Orleans, and one of the chief spokesmen for the delegation.

"We want only minority representation on the Federal reserve board, not to exercise undue influence over the currency, but to prevent abuses that might arise."

Amendments Are Suggested. James B. Forgan, president of the First National Bank of Chicago and chairman of the Chicago conference, and Mr. Wexler, called for amendments to the bill made public by the bankers.

Suggestions on which they dwelt with chief emphasis today were: That the banks, rather than the Federal reserve board, should be authorized to issue currency.

That a central bank, or not more than five regional banks, would be preferable to the proposed 12 regional reserve banks.

That membership of National banks in the new Federal system should be optional, not compulsory, as the bill provided.

That the amount of regional reserve bank capital for which each National bank must subscribe should be reduced from 25 per cent to 10 per cent of the bank's capital stock.

That one regional reserve bank should not be compelled to rediscount the commercial paper held by another.

Division in Senate Indicated. The sharp struggle that is to be waged in the Senate committee before the currency reform legislation becomes law is apparent early in the hearing.

Questions by Senators Hitchcock and O'Gorman (Democrats) indicated the views on certain provisions of the bill were at variance with those of the party leaders and Republican opposition to many features of the bill was pronounced.

The suggestions made by the bankers' committee that representation be given to the banking interests on the Federal reserve board were met with a counter suggestion by Senator Weeks (Republican), which it is understood will be advanced as possible amendments to the Senate committee begins consideration of the bill.

This was that the bankers of the country should be allowed to submit to the Federal reserve board a list of the four members of the Federal reserve board.

Central Bank Preferred. Both Mr. Wexler and Mr. Forgan said they believed the banking interests ought to retain control of their property. Both advocated a central bank or not more than five regional banks.

Under a central bank, they said, reserve money could be "fed out" through 200 or more branches, to the precise spot where it was needed, without forcing one independent reserve bank arbitrarily to rediscount the paper of another.

Mr. Wexler declared that under the proposed system of 12 regional reserve associations it would be impossible to secure enough capital in some districts to meet the minimum of $25,000,000. They declared many changes must be made in the amount of capital required by each bank, including the reduction in the amount of capital required by each bank, and trust companies were to be induced to enter the new system.

PREMIER AGAINST THAW

ing of fraud and hypocrisy. Mr. McKeynolds spoke last night at the meeting of the "hard-coal trust" he said, "by reason of wide publicity, has assumed a position of international importance. The eyes of the world are centered here. The writ of habeas corpus is known throughout the world."

"Although he has searched every record we have failed to find an instance where the writ was resorted to in a case like this. If it is sustained, it will revolutionize the whole basic principle of habeas corpus."

He emphasized the use of the writ by Boudreau in Thaw's behalf without Thaw's consent was in his opinion a fraud and subterfuge. "It is being used," he continued, raising his voice, "to hand Thaw from one jurisdiction to another. The hypocrisy of Boudreau's attitude is apparent."

"As an alien under the British flag, Thaw has his rights and is entitled to his full measure of time to prepare for trial. We shall carry the case to the foot of the throne if necessary."

Mr. Geoffrion left Sherbrooke this afternoon for Quebec, and did not announce whether he would return.

"I do not know," he said, "whether the writ will be resorted to or not. But our provincial jails cannot be used as a boarding-house or as a place to escape the immigration laws."

The belief prevailed in Sherbrooke tonight that if the writ was thrown out, the Attorney-General will take immediate steps to have the commitment quashed. Thaw will be free; that is taken in charge by the immigration authorities.

SAND ISLAND BILL UP AGAIN

Senator Chamberlain Again Seeks to Restore Land to Oregon.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Sept. 2.—Senator Chamberlain today reintroduced his bill of last session transferring Sand Island, at the mouth of the Columbia River, to the State of Oregon. This island formerly owned by the state and was granted to the Federal Government by the state act of October 21, 1864.

Because of valuable fishing rights on the island, and a dispute between Oregon and Washington, as to which has jurisdiction, Senator Chamberlain is desirous that the question be settled as proposed in his bill.

The bill was before the last Congress no action was taken on it.

SULZER ISSUE NEAR

New York Governor Attempts to Pardon Banker.

CASE TAKEN INTO COURT

Pardon Granted Against Advice of Close Friends—Validity of Impeachment Raised by Legal Proceedings.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Announcement that Governor Sulzer had pardoned Joseph G. Robin, who is serving a term in the New York penitentiary at Blackwell's island for wrecking the Northern Bank, of New York, was made at the executive chamber this afternoon, although the pardon was granted last Saturday.

Simultaneously word came that Supreme Court Justice Hasbrouck had issued a writ demanding the production of the pardon papers.

Both the King and the Governor's friends and opponents of Governor Sulzer regard this proceeding as a court test of the validity of the impeachment of the Governor.

It is known, however, that Judge D. Cady Herrick and others close to the Governor advised strongly against issuing the pardon.

Acting-Governor Glynn refused tonight to comment on the circumstances.

Whitman to Oppose Writ. While Attorney-General Carmody seemed loath to discuss the case, it was pointed out at his office that under his opinion on the status of the gubernatorial tangle Governor Sulzer is disqualified from exercising the pardon function pending the result of the impeachment trial.

"I stand on that opinion," was all Mr. Carmody would say. District Attorney Whitman, of New York, has notified the Attorney-General's office that he will oppose the granting of the writ sued out in behalf of Robin.

As Robin is confined in a county jail, the writ cannot be served on him. For this reason the people's case will be conducted by the New York District Attorney.

Sulzer Gives Reasons. In a statement explaining his reasons for pardoning Robin, Governor Sulzer points out that as Robin never was tried, the justice who sentenced him acted without hearing evidence. It also is asserted for Robin, he says, that in pleading guilty he did so with an understanding that no sentence would be imposed.

Robin was sentenced to a year's imprisonment last November, so that in the ordinary process his term would expire in about two months.

MALE ATTIRE ALLOWED

JUDGE SAYS WOMEN MAY DRESS AS THEY PLEASE.

Wife, Masquerading as Man on Trip With Husband, Is Freed in California Court.

WATSONVILLE, Cal., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—"A woman has the right to dress the way she pleases," declared Justice Rohrbach, of Watsonville Junction today, in dismissing the case against Mrs. Lottie Hans, of San Francisco, arrested on a charge of masquerading in male attire. The vagrancy charge against her husband, Henry Hans, was also dismissed at the same time.

The couple were taken into custody today. It was while the officers were searching the pair for concealed weapons that it was found one of them was a woman. She brought out a marriage license to prove she was the wife of her companion.

When taken before Judge Rohrbach, the woman told a story of hardship and poverty which greatly moved the spectators. They were married in San Francisco two years ago and for a time everything went well in the family.

Then Hans lost his position, sickness came and all their savings disappeared. Two months ago he was discharged from the hospital, helpless and penniless. Last Friday they decided to walk to San Diego, where relatives were promised help.

They were footsore and weary this morning. They went on their way rejoicing after Judge Rohrbach heard their story.

CENTRAL MARKET WANTED

Farmers' Union Proposes to Create Agency to Aid in Marketing.

SALINA, Kan., Sept. 2.—More liberal agricultural appropriation, the abolishment of dealing in futures, the establishment of a bureau of marketing in the Agricultural Department, rural credit extension, stricter immigration laws and a protest against the proposed central bank currency plan were some of the recommendations to Congress contained in the report of the legislative committee of the Farmers' Union as drawn for presentation at the opening session of the National convention of the association here today. Delegates representing 31 states were present.

Establishment of a great central agency to assist in the marketing of rural products was recommended in the report of the board of directors. The principal object of the central marketing bureau, the report said, would be to draw business and farming interests closer together.

NINE INJURED IN CRASH

Cable Snaps Under Car at Los Angeles and Collision Results.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Thirty persons returning to their homes in the hills back of the business center were jumbled into the wreckage of two inclined plane cars tonight at the base of Angels' Flight. Firemen were compelled to cut away the wreckage before rescuing the passengers. Only nine were hurt, mostly by cuts and bruises.

Work among the Nez Percés for broke with a snap. The car shot down with the sharp angle of the plane, with a crash of breaking glass and splintering wood it bumped into its twin car, jumbling cars and passengers into a bundle of wreckage.

Investigation indicated that the front axle of the runaway car had broken, jerking the cable until that too gave way to the weight of the car and passengers, heightened by the high grade of the tracks.
