Assessment Complaints Heard.
OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The County Court of Clackamas County has transformed itself into a board of equalization and spent today listening to the complaints that have been filed against the assessments made by the County Assessor. The court is expecting a large number of complaints this year, and will be in session for several days hearing the arguments of those opposed to the present valuations.

Portland Engineers Seek Job.
OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Several Portland civil engineers have already applied for the position of consulting engineer when Oregon City builds its pipe line to Mount Tabor reservoir, if it should decide to do so, and tap the Bull Run water supply at that point.

Man Bounced From Auto.
CORVALLIS, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—With a badly scratched face and probably a fracture at the base of the skull, Frank Lawrence lies at the Corvallis Hospital in a precarious condition. Lawrence was riding in a bed extension on an auto driven by Ed Williams. In crossing a bridge at a good speed, Lawrence bounced out, landing on his head.

Centralia to Send Delegation.
CENTRALIA, Or., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Numerous Centralians are planning to attend the quarterly congress of the Southwest Washington Development Association in Goldendale on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Hot Box Causes Small Fire.
OREGON CITY, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—A small fire caused by a hot box in one of the machines of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company at 12:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon burned the dryer felt and overhead timbers and was extinguished by the mill hose. An hour later the machine began to smoke again, but was soon drenched with water and no material damage done. It will be in operation again in a few days.
