25 CLERKS CONFER County Officers Discuss Plan for Uniform Accounting.

FERGUSON IDEA EXPLAINED State Insurance Commission Prepares System to Be Adopted by Counties Throughout Oregon. Scheme Meets Approval.

A two days' conference to discuss the uniform accounting system, which Insurance Commissioner Ferguson is preparing for all the counties of the state, opened at the Courthouse yesterday with 25 County Clerks in attendance. John Y. Richardson, chief deputy under the Insurance Commissioner, in preparing the new scheme of procedure explained the Ferguson plan. Adoption of this plan by all counties of the state is mandatory.

The new system will go into effect the first of 1914. The idea of calling the County Clerks of the state into conference was to give them an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the various forms and also that suggestions might be received from them.

Mr. Richardson stated last night that for the most part the system was in accordance with the existing practice. In few instances complaints were heard that the system will be too elaborate.

The Insurance Commissioner's plans call for monthly reports to his office of sums expended and the conditions of the various funds. After the system has been installed it will be the duty of his office to check up the various county officials periodically to see that they are not spending money illegally and are keeping their accounts properly.

At noon the visiting County Clerks were the guests of County Clerk Coffey, of Multnomah County, at luncheon at the Commercial Club.

GUARDIAN IS DESIRED SISTER WANTS WM. C. BARKER DECLARED INCOMPETENT.

Youth of 28, Recently Divorced, Is Said to Be Squandering Inheritance of $150,000.

Asserting that William C. Barker, aged 28, her brother and heir to property of the value of $150,000, is an habitual drunkard and spendthrift and incompetent to manage his own affairs, Alice R. Barker has filed at the Courthouse a petition requesting the County Commissioners to join with her in petitioning the Circuit Court that a guardian be appointed for him.

"Oh, Promises Me," preceding at Oregon Agricultural College at the same time.

Under the law, as it existed prior to the abolition of the County Court, provision was made for the County Court joining in the petition for the appointment of a guardian for a spendthrift or drunkard and the present request on the County Commissioners comes from the fact that they are successors of the County Court. The petition has been referred to District Attorney Evans for an opinion as to what the Commissioners should do in the premises.

In the petition filed yesterday it is declared that William C. Barker has wasted and squandered $75,000 in the last five years in drink and riotous and expensive living. He inherited $100,000 from the estate of his father and $50,000 from the estate of his mother, Rose C. Barker, who died recently. His monthly allowance is $125.

Cornie R. Barker, nee Riley, secured in the Multnomah County Circuit Court last day a divorce from William C. Barker. In settlement of property rights she received the equivalent of about $50,000. She charged her husband with habitual drunkenness, gross neglect and cruelty and with associating with lewd and worthless characters.

ARENA CLUBS PROPOSED Pertinent Questions Will Be Discussed at Y. M. C. A. Meetings.

Arena Clubs, which have been a notable success in Cleveland, O., will be organized by the Portland Young Men's Christian Association this Fall, and will be one of the most important features of the religious department's work. There will be four of these clubs, which will meet one night a week throughout the winter for an informal and democratic discussion of problems vitally affecting young men.

The Arena Clubs will meet on Sunday afternoons, beginning October 5, immediately after the regular men's meeting. They will be led by H. W. Stone, C. S. Woodcock, E. R. Perkins, W. B. Platt and H. C. Melby. Any man between the ages of 18 and 25 years will be eligible to attend.

"Why should a young man marry before he is 21?" is one of the questions that will be discussed. Among other problems that are to be brought up for consideration are the following: "Why are so many young men dissatisfied with their jobs?" "Why must a man be a Christian to succeed in politics?" "Why is it hard for an honest man to be a millionaire?" "Why can a church do more for men than secret societies?" "Why do men defend certain sins as necessary?" "Why is profanity tolerated?" "Why are there more hypocrites outside the church than inside?" "Why don't more men make good husbands?" "Why do men have one standard of honesty for their personal lives and another for business?"

SCENIC ROUTE LAUDED A. R. MORGAN TALKS OF COLUMBIA HIGHWAY FUTURE.

View From Rooster Rock Described as "Switzerland of America." New Road to Be Good One.

"If you want to see the Switzerland of America, come to the heights above the Columbia River and Rooster Rock," said A. R. Morgan in his address yesterday at the luncheon of the East Side Business Men's Club at Hotel Clifford. His subject was "The Columbia River Highway," and he spoke to an interested audience. He told of the beauties of the elevation above the Columbia and declared that at no place in America can one have the advantage of such scenery—the Columbia River east and west, the Cascades to the east and Washington to the north.

"The chief thing I want to speak about is the Columbia Highway up the Columbia River, which starts at Chanticleer Heights. The county is assembling lumber and material for the camp at Multnomah Falls. A new road down the hill to the railroad on a 2 per cent grade will be built, starting near the Chanticleer Hotel. This bluff will wind down the side of the bluff overlooking the Columbia River. Within a year, or less, it will be possible to travel to The Dalles along the Columbia River Highway with the great river always in sight.

"Plans will soon be prepared for a 50-foot high and 20-foot wide road on the heights above Rooster Rock."

After hearing the talk by Mr. Morgan, the club decided to make an official visit to the Dalles, and the C. C. Hall, assistant secretary, reported good progress in securing automobiles for the trip to the County Fair at Gresham next Thursday. The trip will be made through the East Sixth and East Morrison streets, September 18, at 12:30 o'clock.

SCHOOL RALLY IS HELD OPENING OF FALL TERM CELEBRATED AT CHURCH.

Mrs. Robert H. Tate Believes Idea of Highland Congregation Should Be Extended Throughout City.

O. M. Plummer, of the Portland School Board, and Mrs. Robert H. Tate, president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' Association, spoke at the Highland Congregational Church Sunday night at the annual rally preceding the opening of the public schools. The custom of holding a school rally each year has been observed in the Highland church for the past three years.

Mrs. Tate expressed her approval of the rally and said it would be appropriate to extend the idea to churches throughout the city.

Referring to the address of Superintendent Aikman before the teachers Saturday, Mrs. Tate pointed out that while it is necessary for teachers to study the individual aptitudes of the pupils, they will be handicapped in their work unless the parents give them the closest co-operation.

A movement which is to be of nationwide scope has been launched, with the further development of the home department of educational work as its object. Mrs. Tate referred to this movement and expressed a hope that it may rapidly be brought to effective working.

An Old Saying Has It "Opportunity Knocks Once at Every-body's Door"

Never was a truer saying, when applied to the Graves Music Company. Removal sale of both new and used. Reduced Pianos and Player Pianos.

Fresh carloads of new Pianos arriving too soon for 149-151 Fourth St. Need be sold now at 111 Fourth St.

Prices are 30 per cent to 50 per cent less than you would ordinarily have to pay.

A remarkable money-saving sale of Pianos and newest, up-to-date Player Pianos.

Here Is Another Way to Accumulate

You buy a new $375 piano at our Removal Sale price of $235 and pay $10 cash and $6 monthly or $1.25 weekly—and when the piano is paid for such a used piano will still represent a cash value of $235, while it is necessary for others to pay $375 for it new. Consequently, after—we will say ten years of use—after the benefit of a musical education and you may want the use of this money, you can sell this piano for $235 or we will pay at a forced sale for $200 cash, if you should ever want to sell it. Does this not show a saving—an accumulation which you can realize upon in cash when necessary or desired? Therefore, what better proposition, what better investment than the one we offer?

Let your son or daughter accumulate this purchase and saving out of his or her earnings, if you yourself do not prefer to do so.

One is at a loss for expression sufficiently strong to emphasize the wonderful success of this great Removal Sale of fine new and used pianos and player pianos, but recognize the main reason to be the keen perception of the purchasers in recognizing true values when subjected to reductions of such magnitude as here made. The great selling suggests, therefore, taking advantage at once of opportunities for savings which can hardly be expected to come again in their store or in the advertisements.

They will take your old pianos or organs, even talking machines, in part payment for a piano or player piano, and if you do not pay cash, pay $6 or more monthly for the balance until fully paid. You can, therefore, now buy these reduced pianos on a rental basis in addition to the savings of $140 or more. Cash goes far now, but you see, we are ready to sell you on easy "usual rental basis terms of payment—you can afford to pay, for instance, $6 monthly or $1.25 weekly. You can therefore afford to buy a new piano during the Removal Sale. You can afford to pay $10 monthly for a new player piano. You can therefore afford to buy a new player piano now.—Adv.
