CARS WILL BE REROUTED
Street Railway Officials Plan Many Changes for Spring.
A rerouting of streetcars to relieve traffic conditions on Morrison street and to give better service to Southeast Portland is to be put into effect next Spring, according to assertions made yesterday to City Commissioner Daly by representatives of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

COUNTRY SPEEDERS TAKEN
Fines in Week Amount to $90, Says County Patrolman.
Eugene White, county motorcycle patrolman, charged with the duty of preventing speeding on county roads, yesterday reported to the County Commissioners that in the last week he has arrested and convicted seven drivers, the fines amounting to $90, as follows: W. C. Williams, $10; P. N. Averill, $25; C. E. Stenier, $15; A. Mills, $10; Bert Morse, $10; Harvey Wood, $10; A. L. Lyzack, $10.

SACK RUSH OPENS REED
College Starts Year With 185 Registered and Dormitory Full.
Reed College opened Monday for its third year. About 185 students registered. The rooms in the dormitory are nearly all filled.
All day Monday and yesterday the students registered and held conferences with the instructors. Monday evening a bonfire was built on the athletic field and a general "mixer" followed, where the new students were introduced to the old ones and to each other. The big event of the evening was the "sack-rush" between the freshmen and sophomore classes.

FRANK L. SMITH ACQUITTED
Butcher Says He Will Not Keep Meats Under Cover.
Though all the defense made by Frank L. Smith, meat shop owner, as to his having meat on display without proper covering was that he did not and would not comply with the law, a jury of six business men in Municipal Court yesterday pronounced him not guilty.
Evidence was produced before Judge Stevenson that Smith's meat was exposed in opposition to the law, which provides for covering from flies and dirt. Mr. Smith did not contend that he had been negligent, but stated that he did not and would not cover the meat.

E. H. SMITH GETS VERDICT
Inventor Awarded Large Damages Against John W. Hurley.
Edward H. Smith, a paralytic who accused John W. Hurley, a promoter with offices in the Henry building, with practically beating him out of his invention, an improved monkey wrench, was given judgment for $150 against Hurley by Judge McGinn yesterday. This is half the sum for which the plaintiff charged Hurley sold the patent rights less $250 previously paid to Smith by Hurley.
Unable to market or finance his invention Smith gave Hurley a half interest for $10 on Hurley's promise to dispose of the patent rights at a good price. Later Hurley purchased the second half for $350, telling Smith that the invention could not be sold and was worthless. At that time, according to the court's findings, he had already sold the patent rights for $1,000.
Judge McGinn confirmed Hurley in his ownership of the patent and left him to his further details, particularly

INCREASE OF PAY IS ASKED
County Bridge Builders' Request Indorsed by Murnane.
M. J. Murnane, county superintendent of bridges and ferries, yesterday notified the County Commissioners that county employes belonging to the Piledriving and Wooden Bridge Builders' Union are demanding an increase of pay from $5 to $8 a day for foremen and $3.50 to $4 a day for carpenters. He recommended that the increase be granted; also that laborers in the county employ be increased from $3.50 to $4 a day.
Mr. Murnane says that he has interviewed private interests employing members of this union and has found them willing to allow the raises in pay asked. The report was referred back to him for further details, particularly
