RABBI VOICES PROTEST

BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL BE OPPOSED.

Proposal Declared to Be Attempt Toward Tyranny in Religious Matters.

Emphatic opposition to the proposal of reading the Bible in the public schools was voiced in an address before his congregation last Friday evening by Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, of Temple Beth Israel. He viewed the plan as an injustice to those Americans whose religious beliefs do not conform in every particular to the teachings of the Bible,
and branded it as an attempted form
of tyranny, against which he urges the Jewish people to protest.

"The proposal that the Bible be read in the public schools is dangerous and short-sighted," he said "The Additional Proposal Control of the popular Baker Players.

short-sighted," he said. "The constitution of our state and county provides explicitly and implicitly for absolute cial system of church propaganda. Such an act, therefore, is a distinct violation of our contract as citizens to support a non-sectarian school system, and is a distinct violation of political rights. This has been passed on in several state Supreme Courts. Wisconsin has decided it notably.

"We who oppose this step take no ground of choice of version, translation or even what Bible; be it the Old Tes-tament, acceptable to Jews; the Old and New, used by Christians; the Koran and New, used by Christians; the Koran of the Mussulmans, or any of the sacred books of religious societies. That Christians form a majority of our population is a fact, but we assume, with justice, that willful oppression of a minority by a majority, in our society, is a tyranny repellant to the letter and spirit of our fundamental political contract. Upon this we base our protest and propose to support with our most and propose to support with our most tract. Upon this we base our protest and propose to support with our most loyal afforts the government principles which promise justice, happiness and freedom to American citizens."

The barometer is unusually low and the temperature is unusually high in California. At San Francisco a maximum of 102 degrees was registered during the afternoon, which is the highest temperature on record in that city. A small depression overlies the Gulf States and the tropical storm yesterday over Arkansas has moved north to Wisconsin and lost much of its energy in the last 12 hours. Light to moderately heavy rains have fallen in the Mississippl Valley, Ohio Valley and Lakes Region, and local rains, heavy in places, have fallen in Valley, Ohio Valley and Lakes Region, and local rains, heavy in places, have fallen in the east Guif States and in Northern Wyoming, Eastern colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and Western South Dakota. At Rapid City, S. D., the phenomenally heavy fall of 464 inches occurred in the last 24 hours. Temperatures have also risen in Oregon, Washington and Montana. It is cooler in Messian Colorado, Eastern New Mexico and in Western Kansas and Western Nobraska. Conditions are favorable for generally fair weather in this district Wednerday, except in Southern Oregon, where thunder showers with lower temperatures will probably occur.
