BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. With the regular lineup in harness again Portland signalized its return from a disastrous slump yesterday by drubbing Venice 5-0 in the opening game of the series.

Little Eugene Krapp was blessed with his usual wildness—walking eight Tigers and hitting two others—but the damp thrust twirler was invincible in the pinches and was never in real danger. He allowed only four hits to 12

ger. He allowed only four hits to 12 for Portland off three of Hap Hogan's celebrated pitching corps.

Koestner, Ferguson and Griffin were the hurlsmiths trotted out for the approval of 2500 opening-day fanatics.

"Silent Elmer" — meaning Koestner, this in the enginettis. the Sphinx—got his in the epiglottis, assophagus, or call it just plain "neck," in one torrid and tumultuous inning. Five hits scored four runs amidst wild excitement, and then Elmer slowly and lugubriously filed into the subway lead-ing to the clubhouse under the grandstand.

There was never a question about the result after Elmer's rout.

Rodgers Pulls Everything. The crowd amused itself by speculat-ing on the number of walks Krapp would dole out the succeeding inning, and varied this at regular intervals by uniting in applause for Captain Bill Rodgers, of the Beavers. Rodgers pulled everything but the trunk trick. He was here, there and everywhere over the field, manipulating some of the greatest plays of the sea-Bill handled 10 chances around second base, and fully halt at that number were near impossible plays. Krapp can felicitate himself that he had Rodgers behind him, for Bill put a shoulder to the wheel on several occasions when padded portions of the male anatomy were much a necessity.

Twice the Venice bunch had the bases full, only to sink back to oblivion amidst hoots from the boisterous crowd. In the sixth Krapp walked two men, and Kores' juggling of McDonnell's grounder filled the bases with one out. Sterrett then forced O'Rourke at the plate, Krapp to Fisher, and Meloan re-lieved the tension by flying out to hit Patterson and Carlisle and walked Bayless, but two strikeouts and a weak grounder, pitcher to first, quieted the disturbance. Portland's scores came four in the first off Koestner and one in the fourth off Ferguson. Griffin went the last three innings unscathed. Chadbourne opened with a single in games in a row with one or more safe-ties—and was sacrificed down by Der-Rodgers singled into left, scoring Chadbourne, and, after Lindsay's out, registered on a screaming triple to deep center by Doane. Kores drove Doane across, stole second and himself cored the fourth tally on Lober's sin-

In the fourth Fisher bent out a hit to short, ambled to second on Chad-bourne's safe bunt down the third base line, and then electrified the stands by stealing third. Derrick's infield out

Game Ends With Near Fight. The game ended in a storm of hisses and an embryonic Donnybrook fair

Patterson started the fuss by threat-ening Krapp with a bat when Gene bounced a maverick spitter off his breast at the plate. Derrick admon-ished him for his lack of poise—as the slangless sect would put it-whereupon Patterson spat out a few yards of vo-cabularly that will hardly bear repeat-

After the game the two strutted up to each other with one of those "Some-hody Grab Me" airs, and members of both clubs promptly accommodated the combatants by interfering. In consequence no gare was spattered over the

DUCK HUNTERS STAY AT HOME

Coming of Winter Birds Awaited but

Many Go Out After Pheasants. Although the duck season was officially opened two days ago by the measure passed at the last session of the Legislature, the crack of the shot-gun has been scarce. There are ducks in the country; in fact, many of them in the bottom lands and aloughs down the river, but they are mostly majard and wood ducks which have remained in the country all year. Game Warden Finley expects the lakes to be well stocked with good ducks late in Octorest.

The Tigers had to make the long jump from Los Angeles and the game was delayed 55 minutes in starting.

Happy Hogan was given a royal reception by the fans. Hap is by far the most popular rival Coast Lengue manager in the business and the local enthusiasts are pulling for him to isnd next to Portland.

"We will win the pennant despite our bad week at San Francisco."-Walter McCredie, manager of Portland Coast club.

"It's between Portland and Venice. We got a bad start and I havn't been bragging, but the club is going good now and we have a fighting chance. Happy Hogan, manager of Venice club.

With both managers optimistic of success and only six games between them for the Coast lead, Portland ball fans should get a rare treat this week.
Portland lost seven in eight to the former standards,

"If I could have taken Bancroft several weeks ago this race would be over now," said McCredle. "I needed him badly last week, and without him we simped four or five games that we might just as well have won."

Captain Rodgers says the pitchers went fine and the club played against bad breaks up to the last three games. "Then we went to pieces," said the scrappy lieutenant. "Some one stole my red shirt Wednesday and I think that loss was our jinx. I had to play the rest of the week without it. Today I bought me a new one and the luck returned."

Manager Hogan, of Venice, says his club is slightly crippled just now. Patterson is hurt, Hosp and Litschi are ill and Elliott is a trifle under the weather.

ANDERSON TO RENEW TRAINING

Bud Returns From Hopyards to Pre pare to Re-enter Ring.

Bud Anderson, much the better for his month's stay in the open on hop farms in the Willamette Valley, turned to Portland yesterday and will open training for his second try for lightweight honors at once.

He is still in a quandary concerning the first of the leading lightweights to be met as a step in the climb, and, further than a preliminary match with Sammy Goode at Walla Walla next month, nothing is sure.

Goode is a clever little fighter who has managed to clean up the Puget Sound and Inland Empire country pretty thoroughly and the mix between
