LENTS LIBRARY DISCUSSED.—The Lents Commercial Club is considering the question of a site for a permanent modern library building for that district.
A special committee has been working on the proposition for some time and has assembled considerable data on the cost and location of a suitable site. At Lents it is considered that the library cost and location of a suitable site. At Lents it is considered that the library should be built near Main street, on the Foster road, where it would be in the center of the district. It is the opinion of many residents that an entire block should be secured. duced in England by a British factory and in which nothing but English actors are employed. A young girl abducted by the chief of a gang of counterfeiters lives with the evil gang on the estate of a British nobleman. In looking over his estate he discovers the house of mystery. In investigating the ghostly place he goes through a lot of thrilling adventures. Finally, with the aid of a squad of Scotland Yard detectives, the mystery is solved and the entire gang brought to well-deserved punishment.

Three other fine pictures adorn the Arcade's programme. "Binks and the Bathing Girl" is quite humorous and entertaining. Antics in ink by Hi Mayer are always clever.
