BY ROSCOE FAWCETT, San Francisco made the series two all yesterday by grubbing the Beavers 3 to 2 before 3500 ladies' day fans and fanctics.

To make matters worse, a fat man furned the trick.

Dolled up in Seal livery, roly poly Hub Pernoll, of Grants Pass, van-quished Higginbotham in a fair and stand-up fight. Not satisfied with pitching an excellent game, the ex-Oaklander delivered the tying run in the eighth with a two-base swat to deep right center. turned the trick.

A tiny pebble inserted itself into the strife at this juncture and sent Higginbotham to the clubhouse, where he had it out with the ground-tender.

Ball Takes Crazy Hop.

Perhaps it wasn't a pebble, after all, but whatever it was, Mundorff's single to center took a crazy hop high over Chadbourne's head and allowed Pernoli to canter home from second with the winning run.

Three of the Seals' four hits were hunched in the eighth and Hig's pebbly afternoon ended right there. Hagerman relieved him for the third out, and Stanley held the Seals hitless in the ninth. Meantime Cal Ewing, of San Francisco, Cal. (opposite Oakland), was enjoying himself immensely in the grandstand. Cal owns the Seals and is

Francisco, Cal. (opposite Oakland), was enjoying himself immensely in the grandstand. Cal owns the Seals and is entitled to his laugh, for Cakland released this man Pernoll only a few short weeks ago

Mount Pelee in its exuberant days never had anything on Higginbotham's explosion yesterday. Hig had pitched masterly ball for seven lunings; in fact, the Goliath aimist had allowed only one hit in that stretch of milling.

To further make the three-run Seal rally a thorny proposition Hig's teammates had garnered him a two-run lead just a moment before. Right on the wake of that Hig cased up and let the Seals slip the halter over his ears.

First Pass is Costly.

First Pass Is Costly.

Downs began the fuss by walking. Howard's single, an infield out and Pernell's two-bagger produced two runs—enough to tie—and then Mundorff shoved the line drive that took such a scenic railway ricochet over Chad's head in center and sent Pernell wadhead in center and sent Pernon waudling across with the game.

The two runs the Beavers amassed off Pernoll in the seventh resulted partially from stick work and partly from inferior support. One run scored because nobody covered second on a double steal and the other trickled in when Jimmy Johnston overthrew third on the Jimmy Johnston overthrew tand same play.

Redgers opened the stretch inning by beating out a hit to short. McCormick followed with a neatly-placed hit to followed with a neatly-placed hit to right field, sending his captain to third. The sign of the swastika hung. The sign of th much Pentecostal fire. When Mike flashed the delayed steal sign Clarke made a pretty throw to second, but no-body was there to receive it, and, while Rodgers was scoring, Mike kept on at steam-roller speed for third. Johnston obliged with a high throw and McCormick finished out his roadwork by gothe inning, but Pernoll tightened. Hig Allows Only Four Hits.

The hits were eight off Pernoll to four off Higginbotham.

Munager Williams thinks that both Speas and Stanley should be lined up with the Colts for the big game, but his contention will hardly hold water.
At any rate, Captain Rodgers, of the Beavers, says they will remain on the Coast side of the fence, and that ought to settle the argument.

Carl Mays will work for the Colts.

The members of both teams will stage field day exercises prior to the game, same to consist of fungo hitting, throwing for accuracy, tossing pennies
at a line and other vigorous exercises.

There is a slight possibility that Hagerman will twirl Monday.
