

BRIDGE EDUCATION CAMPAIGN TO OPEN

Voters Will Be Told of Need for Portland-Vancouver Span.

PETITIONS FULL OF NAMES

Volunteer Circulators Find Little Opposition to Bond Issue—More Than Five Times Necessary Number Sign Papers.

With more than five times the number of names required on the petitions to place the interstate bridge bond measure on the ballot already signed, a sub-committee was at the Courthouse yesterday checking up on pre-numbered and other details so that all legal impediments or inaccuracies might be guarded against before the petition is filed.

The circulation of the petitions has been done by volunteers entirely, and the circulators found virtually no opposition to the movement. After the petitions are filed the interstate bridge committee, with its sub-committees from clubs and other organizations of the county, will begin at once the educational campaign in all parts of the county. Meetings will be arranged for every club and other organization that has not already endorsed the movement, and speakers will be sent to the various sections of the county to urge the importance of the measure and the importance of Multnomah assuming a share of the task in which Clarke County, Washington, already has taken the lead.

"In circulating petitions for the interstate bridge I found only one opposition. The wholesale merchants of Portland should be ashamed to ask for the trade of Vancouver and the Lower Columbia River Valley if we fail to carry this bond issue. If the voters of Clarke County almost unanimously vote $500,000 towards a bridge, surely the people of Portland and Multnomah County can afford $1,250,000.

"The bridge will create a demand for waterfront property for factory and shipping purposes on both sides of the river. If $10,000 is spent on roads between Kalamazoo and Vancouver there would be a continuous stream of auto tourists between Seattle and Portland for at least six months during the year.

"It seems to me that there could be no opposition to the proposed interstate bridge," says O. L. Ferris, of the Columbia Trust Company. "I do not believe anyone can calculate the benefit that will inure to Portland by the opening of traffic over this thoroughfare."

"There should not be a 'doubting Thomas' in this county," says George H. Himes. "This enterprise is a close second to that of a 30-foot channel to Astoria and a 49-foot channel thence to the Pacific Ocean."

Committees appointed yesterday were: First Band Coast Artillery Reserves—Charles E. York, Frank P. Muller, George W. Dill, Lester L. Ulbrann, Jacob B. Neuhauer, G. T. District Council of Carpenters—G. T. Hunt, E. W. Sleeman, M. J. McGuire, C. O. Johnson, E. L. Finn.

MARTIN CASE NEARS END

Couple Who Collected Under Cloak of Christianity Tried.

Testimony and arguments were completed yesterday in the case of the State of Oregon against St. D. Martin and Mary Martin, charged with vagrancy. A verdict is expected today. The case was tried in Judge McGinnis' court.

Martin and his wife, who say they are members of the United Christian Conference, conducted a habitué home, Portland last summer, while the Christian Citizenship Conference was in session, collecting, it is said, more than $75. Of this only $20 were turned in to the balance, the Martins said, being used in defraying the expenses of the collection.

It is charged that they asked money for use in maintaining a habitué home, a widows' home and for other charitable purposes. Martin described himself as "the Right Reverend Bishop of the Diocese of Columbia" and his wife as "the Very Reverend."

TRIO FAVOR CAR TICKETS

Six-Rides-for-25-Cents Ordinance Up for Passage Tomorrow.

An ordinance requiring the streetcar company to grant six rides for 25 cents will come before the City Commission for final passage tomorrow, with the official approval of City Commissioner Daly, head of the department of public utilities. It is believed that the measure will pass, no fewer than three Commissioners being strongly in favor.

The ordinance was to have been up for final passage about a month ago but was held up while the streetcar company was preparing a statement to show what effect the reduction of fares would have on the company's earnings. It is said these figures will be submitted to the Commission Wednesday. The measure originally was introduced by City Commissioner Daly, who says he believes the reduction would be a benefit both to the people and to the company.

Fiesta de Frijoles y Chile

Con Carne Poco Tiempo

PANAMA will be brought to Portland for One Night, as Pacific and Atlantic Oceans Kiss at Canal.

PANAMA may be situated in the little neck between North and South America for 254 days this year, but not on the night of October 16, when the Atlantic and Pacific have kissed one another through the canal. Senator on that night Panama is in Portland, Or., and not in the southern isthmus. More particularly it will be in the great dining-room of the Portland Commercial Club.

The entertainment committee of the Commercial Club has so provided that the scenes of the soft South shall be transported on that night, and shall form the setting of a fitting close to the celebration which will mark the event of the opening of the canal. Senor Juan Beall, has wired already for a chef from the South to come on that day and provide for the occasion the finest typical dishes of Panama, and when the senores and senoras of the Commercial Club seat themselves at the banquet, they will find themselves provided with all that the heart could wish when one is in Panama and is trying to feast like a regular Panamanian.

St. senores, it will be an blowout grande, with chili con carne, y frijoles, y enchiladas de huevo, y pimiento and fight down the line to the tobacco y cafe. The waiters and pages and all who serve about the Commercial Club clear down to the janitors will be dressed in the costume of Panama. Mayhap there will be national dances of Panama and an orchestra playing Southern music—strong on the accent of the bass and the castanets. Also there will be many confetti and serpentine, and altogether it will be quite the most Panamanian event that has ever happened anywhere in the world.

WOMAN APPOINTED INFORMATION CLERK AT CITY HALL

Miss Mina Smith, four years clerk in charge of the women's department of the Municipal Free Employment Bureau, yesterday was appointed by City Commissioner Brewster as information clerk at the City Hall.

She will be given a desk near the fifth-street entrance to the building and will give information to the public and will direct visitors to various departments and officials sought. The place originally was tendered to Miss Marcia Burton, clerk of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, but objection by members of the Civil Service Commission to her being transferred resulted in the Burton appointment being cancelled.

JEW TO WORSHIP

Holy Season of Rosh Hashanah Commences Tomorrow.

TRUMPETS WILL BE BLOWN

Observance Lasts Two Days and Consists of Self-Inquisition Preparatory to Atonement Day, Which Comes Next Week.

Jews the world over are preparing to observe the holy season which begins with Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's day, on the evening of October 1, and ends with the Shemini Atzereth—the feast of conclusion—on the night of October 23.

Special services will be held in all synagogues. At Beth Israel the service will be read by Harold R. Rinehart. Rabbi Wise will preach Wednesday at 8 P. M. and Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Congregation Ahavah Shalom will begin its services both night and morning at 7 o'clock. Rev. Benjamin Abrahamson, officiating at the Reform temple, will preach on Friday morning.

In the Jewish tradition the Rosh Hashanah marks the anniversary of the creation of the world supposed to have taken place 5774 years ago. The present Rosh Hashanah, therefore, will mark the beginning of the year 5774. The change of the year is of little or no importance, and if the Jewish New Year's day had no further significance, its appeal to the Jew would be faint or nonexistent. However, it is to rouse Israel from his self-complacency and stir him to high resolves and nobler deeds.

The Rosh Hashanah derives its significance from the fact that it is the introduction of the day of Atonement, which follows 10 days later. Before one can realize the need of atonement, it is necessary that he become conscious of his shortcomings; for so long as we imagine ourselves whole, it may never occur to us that we need a physician; so long as we do not admit our sinfulness, we shall hardly feel the need of being forgiven. Hence, to make the atonement possible, we must have Rosh Hashanah, which is also designated as the Yom Hadin—the day of Judgment—the day wherein we weigh ourselves in the balance, and perform, find ourselves wanting, for there is no rich man upon earth that doth good always and sinneth not.

Trumpet to Be Blown. The essential ceremony of the services in the synagogue on Rosh Hashanah is the blowing of the trumpet, in accordance with the injunction in Leviticus xliii, which reads: "In the seventh month, on the first day of the month shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets and holy convocation."

In the Reform Synagogue, Rosh Hashanah is celebrated from sunset of October 1 to sunset of October 2, whereas among orthodox Jews the holiday does not end until sunset of October 3.

A penalty of from $5 to $100 is provided for violation of the provisions of the measure. Exception is made only in cases where the owners of residences within 100 feet of the chicken coop do not object.

The restricted district is described as follows: Commencing at a point where the north line of section 27 township 1 north, range 1 east, Willamette Meridian, intersects the east bank of the Willamette River; thence east on said section line to the city of Portland; thence north to the center line of Prescott street; thence west to the intersection of said Prescott street and the county road near the center of section 21; thence northwesterly along said county road to its intersection with Willamette boulevard; thence north and west along the center line of said boulevard to its intersection with Olin street; thence southwesterly to a point where the easterly line of section 18, township 1 north, range 1 east, Willamette Meridian, intersects the east bank of the Willamette River; thence southeasterly following the east bank of the Willamette River to the place of beginning.

All that portion of the corporate limits of the city of Portland bounded by beginning at a point in the south line of the Patton county road where the same is intersected by the west line of the Elizabeth Caruthers donation land claim; thence south on said west line of Elizabeth Caruthers donation land claim to the north line of the James Terwilliger donation land claim; thence west on said north line of the James Terwilliger donation land claim to its intersection with the southerly line of the Patton county road; and thence following said southerly line of the Patton county road to the place of beginning, except all that portion of Council Crest Park included within the above description, and all of Portland Homestead.

LLOYD VESSELS COMING

NORTH GERMAN LINE BOATS TO USE PANAMA CANAL.

Steamers With Connections to All Important Ports of World to Call at Portland.

"While the effect of the opening of the Panama Canal is regarded by steamshipmen as problematical, the North German Lloyd line decided three weeks ago that it will operate a line through to the Pacific Coast, and details of the service will be worked out at a meeting of directors of the company to be held at New York October 11," was news discussed yesterday by Robert Capelle, of San Francisco, general agent for the big line. Mr. Capelle's last visit to Portland was ten years ago, so he had considerable to say of changes. As to whether or not all steamers of the new service will call here Mr. Capelle was not prepared to say. "It is apparent that all European steamship lines must go to the Columbia River and Puget Sound ports," he remarked. "Of course, there are certain commodities to be loaded at Callifornia ports, but in the North you have lumber, grain, canned salmon, fruits and the like, which will form cargoes bound back through the canal for the United Kingdom and other countries on the continent. The coming of the North German Lloyd will be an important step on the Coast, for it is one of the strongest lines operating on the Atlantic in the passenger trade. It reaches every important port in the world."

for the period ending August 31, as compared with $1,900,000 marks for the entire year of 1912.
