SALEM, Or., Sept. 29.—(Hall, Oregon and Salem!)

With more and better exhibits than ever before, with record attendance for the first day, with perfect weather and everything in readiness, the State Fair of 1913 was opened this morning under the most auspicious conditions. The rush to the grounds started early and at 11 o'clock tonight it was estimated that at least 5000 persons had passed through the gates. There was not a dull moment and visitors were enthusiastic in expressing the opinion: "It is Oregon's greatest State Fair."

There were so many things to see and so much was going on simultaneously that it would be difficult to tell about it all, but in the afternoon the races and vaudeville acts in front of the grandstand were the center of attraction. The stand was more than two-thirds filled with men, women and children, who kept their seats until the last thrilling race of the day was over. Of course the pavilion and the livestock stables attracted the farmers.

Nine Counties in Race.

Nine counties—Beacon, Douglas, Washington, Linn, Polk, Clackamas and Tillamook—are fighting it out for first prize for the best county exhibit. Benton county, winner of the coveted honor in 1907, 1908, 1910, 1911 and 1912, has fairly outdone itself this year. "Never in the history of the fair has there been such an elaborate representation of field and orchard as there is here today," said W. K. Newell, president of the State Board of Horticulture. "Of course it has been customary to say this of all state fairs," observed O. E. Freytag, superintendent of the pavilion and manager of the horticultural department, "but this is really the greatest display by long odds. There is not a foot of space in the pavilion unoccupied by exhibits. It will be a difficult matter to determine which county is deserving of first honor."

Judging of livestock was started at 1 o'clock and the judges said tonight they had made fair headway, but it would take several days to complete the work. The finest specimens of horses, sheep, hogs and cattle in the state are on display.

130 Babies Judged.

Two departments are deserving of special praise—the eugenics contest and the children's industrial department. About 130 babies were judged today and it is believed that at least 200 will be judged before the blue ribbon is awarded. The babies are being examined by Dr. J. M. Waugh, of Hood River, to see if they are suffering from contagious diseases before admittance. Dr. Mary V. Madigan is in charge of the department and O. M. Plummer is acting in an advisory capacity.

That the school children of Oregon are making great headway in manual training, domestic science, agriculture, horticulture and poultry raising is proved by the exhibit in a temporary building at the rear of the pavilion. E. F. Carleton says the exhibit is twice as large as the one last year and far superior in every way. There seems to be nothing in the way of furniture, garments, canning, preserving, etc., that the children are unable to do. One boy has built a windmill capable of pumping a small stream of water. Mr. Carleton says that never before have the county superintendents and supervisors given so much attention to the management of the fair has assisted in every possible way. The exhibits will be judged tomorrow.

One of the exhibits that attracts attention is that of Mrs. L. Foster, of this city, who has had a display annually for 25 years. She has a display of 500 jars of fruits, each canned, jellyed or preserved by a different method. No two are of the same variety.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE LOST

Voters Oppose Raising of $3500 for Skipanon Building.

WARRENTON, Or., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—By a vote of 22 to 18 the voters of Skipanon School District, No. 2, today defeated a proposed bond issue of $3500 for the purpose of erecting a schoolhouse on a two-acre tract donated by Mrs. Nora Morrison.

The defeat of the issue is attributed to opposition to the proposed change of location, which, although geographically more central, was not the center of population of the district.

FAIR SHOWS NEW LIFE

WASHINGTON EXHIBITS OVERFLOW AT NORTH YAKIMA.

Attendants Work Late on Night of Opening Day Arranging Displays in Big Tents.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The 17th Washington State Fair opened today with the best display in its history. Entries in all departments exceed the accommodations and large tents have been erected to take care of the overflow. The agricultural and livestock exhibits are the best ever seen in the Northwest.

New life has been injected in the fair this year by the assumption of its direction by the newly created Department of Agriculture, Commissioner J. H. Perkins and his entire office force have been here since Saturday. Former critics and friends of the State Fair are loud in their praise of the strict accounting of admissions and the care of visitors inaugurated by Mr. Perkins.

The women's building, under the supervision of Miss Sue Lombard, of North Yakima, was the only one in complete readiness when the gates opened today. Every county in the state but Kittitas is represented in the horticultural building or in the two big-overflow tents, but those in charge worked until midnight tonight getting them in readiness.

Frank Bryant, aviator, made a 15-minute flight this afternoon in the teeth of what his manager, Fred Bennett, declared was the strongest gale in which any of his machines had ever gone up.

Dr. James B. Angell Stricken.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 29.—Dr. James B. Angell, president emeritus of the University of Michigan, is ill at his home in this city of heart trouble. His physicians say the outcome of the ailment will be in doubt for at least two or three days. Dr. Angell is nearly 82 years old.

MAN-EATING SHARK IS OBJECT OF CURIOSITY.

Monster Captured at Newport. NEWPORT, Or., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The largest thresher shark ever seen in the Pacific Ocean was captured at Newport on the Ollie S. Friday night. The huge fish was seen at sea feeding on a dead whale, and the passengers on the Ollie S. began popping at it with their 30-30s. The man-eater was stunned and a small boat was enabled to get close enough so that a cable was hitched about its tail. At the dock it was necessary to use the engine on the Mirene to elevate the monster, on the wharf it measured 16 feet in length and weighed over 4000 pounds.

gressive, there were few Republican conventions which he did not attend as a delegate. In 1888 he was a delegate to the Republican National convention and at the 1908 convention he nominated James Schoolcraft Sherman for Vice-President. From 1897 to 1909 Mr. Woodruff was Lieutenant-Governor of New York.

For years Mr. Woodruff was chairman of the Republican state committee, leader of the Republicans in Kings County, embracing Brooklyn, and a dominant adviser in his party's politics of the state. Leaders were accustomed to meet for conferences at Kamp Kill Kare, his Alderbrook estate, which was purchased recently by Alfred G. Vanderbilt.

When Colonel Roosevelt organized the Progressive party Mr. Woodruff left the Republicans and aligned himself with the Colonel, subsequently assuming the Progressive leadership in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Timothy L. Woodruff, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of New York, was stricken tonight in Carnegie Hall just as he concluded an address at the fusion notification meeting. Physicians who attended Mr. Woodruff announced that he suffered a stroke of paralysis and said his condition was serious.

As he was speaking, Mr. Woodruff turned to John Purroy Mitchell, the fusionist candidate for Mayor, and complained of a pain in his knee. He continued his address, however, but as he concluded he reeled and would have fallen had not Mr. Mitchell and others on the platform supported him.

Mr. Woodruff was carried to an anteroom, where he was attended by two physicians. Later he was removed to his apartments in an uptown hotel, accompanied by Mrs. Woodruff, who had attended the meeting with him.

Timothy L. Woodruff, who is 55 years old, has been a political figure in New York state for nearly 30 years. Up to a year ago, when he left the Republican party and joined the Pro-

Ardel, Mayor of Dallas, today filed a complaint with the State Railroad Commission against H. V. Gates, owner of the plant.

The Mayor says the charges are far in excess of the cost and not fair under the law. He further alleges that the defendant makes a profit of more than $1500 a month, and that the minimum charge for water is $1.25 a month, and that a minimum charge of 50 cents a month would be fair.

No Shortage!

It is a fact that there has been a shortage of aged bottled-in-bond whiskies.

So both the dealer and the user have to pay more to get other 7 to 8-year-old bottled-in-bond whiskies.

But it is also a fact that you can get the famous W. H. McBrayers Cedar Brook bottled-in-bond 7 to 8-year-old bourbon at the same price that you have to pay for other advertised bottled-in-bond whiskies of only 4 to 5 years old.

It is our policy to provide Cedar Brook always the same bottled-in-bond from 7 to 8 years old, regardless of expense to attain its individual rich, smooth, mellowness from "double ripening."

All other whiskies combined, bottled in bond at 7 to 8 years old do not equal the sale of Cedar Brook—"The World's Most Famous Whisky."

Cedar Brook is always older than other advertised bottled-in-bond whiskies sold at the same price.

At Leading Hotels, Bars, Clubs and Restaurants, 7 to 8 years old.
