

LAWLESS TENDENCY DECLARED GROWING

Industry Urged as Remedy During Survey of Morals in Public Schools.

FASHION CLASSED ENEMY

Passion for Dress Decried by Educator in Speech Before Rescue Society—Fate of Immoral Men Also Is Discussed.

Morals in the public schools and the moral value of the parent-teacher organizations were in subject of discussion at the afternoon session of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Society's institute yesterday at the First Methodist Church.

"Is it right to raid an immoral house, hauling the women to court and letting the men go free?" asked Judge Ginn and David F. Morrison gave stirring addresses on this subject in the evening and much discussion followed. George A. Thacker and Mrs. Millie Trumbull spoke on "Shall the city establish a detention home for its inebriates, drug fiends and vagrants?" Much of the afternoon meeting was given over to a discussion of the value of the Bible in the public schools, but at the reminder of the chairman, Rev. Delmer H. Trimble, the volunteer speakers who were getting away from the subject had to let some of their views go unaided.

Spirit Declared Hostile.

Professor Arthur Evans Wood, of Reed College, gave an address in which some of his main points were: "There is a growing spirit of restlessness and tendency to lawlessness among the youth of the country—disaffection is a result, and industrial education is a remedy; children are good under the influence of the good. His children teach civics and community welfare; give a practical education that will interest the boys and girls. If they are interested they probably will have less desire to get into mischief and bad habits."

Superintendent L. R. Alderman said in part in his address: "Instill into the minds of the children the principals of right living. I plead for the co-operation of the parents and the return to the family circle. Let us come to such an appreciation of children that we will like them so well we will be willing to live with them, to enter into their games, to play home establishment for them and be their chums."

Passion for Dress Enemy.

H. H. Herdman, principal of Washington High School, spoke of the value and help of the parent-teacher organizations and urged that they be established in every school as a means of bringing the school and the home together for the benefit of the child. He named the blighting passion for dress one of the worst enemies that the parents and teachers had to consider.

Mrs. W. L. Hawkins, ex-president of the parent-teacher associations of Portland, gave a talk on the good effects resultant from the establishment of the organizations, and named them as a moral influence in the community. The evening meeting was brimful of spice and argument. When Mr. Morrison had finished his address and had scored the sewing-of-wild-oats system now tolerated by society in its leniency with men, and after Judge McGinn had said that the fine system and the halting of the immoral women into the courts were all wrong and that the punishment and raids were all of no account, Municipal Judge Stevenson and Juvenile Judge Gatens gave their opinions, and there was a lively discussion.

Suppression Is Advocated.

Judge Stevenson spoke of the necessity of treating the cases in the courts as under the present conditions the elimination of the court would be "sentimentality gone to seed."

"We must suppress the social evil," Judge Stevenson said, "that it will be so afraid to appear that it will assume at least a semblance of respectability."

Judge Gatens declared that there should be less talk about the fallen women and more work done to protect the girls who are in danger. He said the quasi-respectable woman is the great danger of the age. Then he explained his attitude in opposition to the morals court bill, which he declared was aimed at women but did not touch the men. Mr. Morrison discussed the points further and other speakers took sides, making the hour the liveliest of the two days.

Mrs. Millie Trumbull and George A. Thacker gave views on the establishment of a farm for inebriates, drug fiends and vagrants. The supervision of such an institution should, they agreed, be under a person especially trained and fitted for the work.

CAR LOOPS NOT PROTESTED

Sellwood Board of Trade Not to Complain of Service.

After listening to the report of a special committee appointed to investigate the proposed Sellwood streetcar loop, the Sellwood Board of Trade last night at its regular meeting decided to enter no protest against the loop.

The committee, through its chairman, W. M. LaForce, reported that it had called on President Griffith, of the streetcar company, and found that during the rush hours there passed over the bridges each hour 260 cars over the Hawthorne, 120 over the Morrison, 106 over the Burnside, 60 over the Steel and 46 over the Broadway.

CITY-OWNED ROAD PLAN

L. M. Lepper Draws Up Map and Plans for Portland Study.

Tentative plans for 100 miles of municipally-owned electric broad-gauge railroads for Portland have been prepared by the East Side Business Men's Club and will be submitted to Commissioner Daly as a study. These lines, as indicated on the map that has been prepared, provide for the following: Fifty miles on the East Side running eastward from Grand avenue; 25 miles of cross-town carlines covering about six of such lines running north and south; 25 miles belt lines on East and West Sides. Estimating the cost of the 100 miles, the cost is placed at $4,999,000. L. M. Lepper, who drew the map and plans, said yesterday that the routes indicated are tentative and can be changed as may be desired.

PIONEER MARINE ENGINEER LAID TO FINAL REST.

The funeral services of Thomas Moran, a pioneer marine engineer who died September 26, were conducted Tuesday at St. Francis Church. His business was that of a marine engineer, and he was on ships running between New York and Liverpool. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Lyniff Long Beach, Wash.; Mrs. J. M. Long, Seattle; Mrs. Margaret Smith, Oakland, Cal.; John Moran, San Francisco. His wife died two years ago.

The future. A date is asked when a hearing may be had on the subject.

CROSS-TOWN LINE FIXED

EAST 24TH AND BROADWAY TO BE STARTING POINT.

At Special Adjourned Meeting of City Commission Today Franchise Question Up.

After weeks of investigation City Commissioner Daly, head of the Department of Public Utilities, yesterday reached a final agreement with President Griffith, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, as to the route of the cross-town streetcar line which is to be built on the East Side to connect up parallel lines. The new line will start on East Twenty-fourth and Broadway and extend on Twenty-fourth to Halsey street; on Halsey from East Twenty-fourth to East Twenty-eighth; East Twenty-eighth from Astor to Stark; Stark from East Twenty-eighth to East Twenty-ninth; East Twenty-ninth from Stark to Hawthorne; on Dekum avenue from Hawthorne to Twenty-fourth. This routing is changed considerably from the original routing asked for by the streetcar company, Mr. Daly having required the straightening of the route so as to serve a greater territory and make a more direct route connecting up the northeast and the southeast sections of the city.

At a special adjourned meeting of the City Commission this morning the cross-town franchise asked for by the company will be up for consideration. The ordinance will be gone over, a valuation fixed and the measure sent up for advertising. It will be about two months after it is advertised before it can be passed. In the interim there will be a public hearing at which all persons interested will be given an opportunity to explain their views.
