Bickreall Growers Are Holding.

RICEREALL, Or., Oct. 1 .- (Special)-Confident that the price of hops will reach the 30-cent mark before long, the growers here are holding their hops, and consequently there has been no activity in the market in this section. Last season some growers contracted at a low figure early and seen saw that they had lost money when the price rose. D. T. Hodge contract-ed his crop last season at 25 cents a pound, and others nearly at the same price. The hops in this district yielded as well as usual this year.

Top Price for Oregon Pears.

The United States Government has solved a series of lectures to be given at the at Medford the problem of proper refriger-ating of fruit so that growers can delay subjects: the marketing of their product for at least two weeks. A carload of Rogue River Bartiett pears shipped by the Rogue River Fruit & Produce Association was sold at New York at $3.15 a box, which means $2.30 a box f. o. h. Medford. The price is be-lieved to be the record received by growers for Bartlett pears in the United States this season. The carload was the last of a lot of four that had been placed in the new $60,000 storage built at Medford. Better Demund for Here
