Jealous Wife Alone With Victim When Fatal Shot Is Fired in Apartment.

ACCIDENT THEORY IS HELD

hooting Occurs at Whitehall, Where Couple Lived and Is Thought to Be Result of Attempt to Frighten Nagging Spouse.

That Philip Ginsburg accidentally committeed suicide by holding a revolver to his left temple and snapping the trigger on what he thought to be an empty chamber is the theory now held by detectives investigating the killing of the man in the presence of his wife at the Whitehall apartments about 1 o'clock yesterday. Mrs. Ginsburg, who was arrested immediately after the shooting and taken to headquarters, hysterically ereamed, "I killed him, poor Phil, I "It was on account of killed him." Marie." These statements at first were accepted by the police as pointing to murder and in the excitement of the moment Mrs. Ginsburg was held as a witness and no charge was entered against her.

Philip Ginsburg was foreman of the factory connected with the Hudson's Bay Fur Company, 111 Broadway, and It was over the friendship she asserts he held for Marie Monsel, an operator in his employment, that caused her to nag her husband to the point where, in an effort to scare her, he resorted to gunplay.

Miss Monsel Leaves. Marie Monsel left the apartments shortly after the shooting and could not be located until late last night by Detectives Coleman and Goltz, who, with Deputy District Attorney Hammersley and T G. Ryan, were conducting the investigation.

Miss Monsel said that her relations with Ginsburg were only as foreman and employe, and denied any cause for jealousy. She gave a concise account of the incidents that led up to the trag-edy, which were later confirmed in full Mrs. Ginsburg, who cleared her of Phil Ginsburg had been in the employment of the Hudson Bay Fur Company since last May. He was a competent man and drew a salary of $50 a week. He was well liked, says M. L. Gumbert, manager of the company, and so was the young woman, Marie Mousel, of whom Mrs. Ginsburg was jealous.

At 11:45 yesterday Mrs. Ginsburg went into a Third street pawnbroker's shop and pawned a pair of diamond earrings. She received $30 for the pledge and gave the name of Mrs. Ann P. Wilmeth. This was her name by a former

4.86 INCHES RAIN FALLS Lightning Strikes in New York and Property Loss Is Heavy.

On Plan to Help Farmer

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—A rain storm that reached almost cloudburst preportions descended on New York today, establishing a record precipitation that flooded streets, tied up the subway, hampered surface and elevated traffic in city and suburbs for several hours and caused property loss than can scarcely be estimated tonight.

Two persons were killed and several injured. Four men were buried in a sewer cave-in but were rescued. Lightning played above the city and struck an elevated train and several buildings, setting fires which the deluge extinguished. Incoming trains from all directions were delayed as cuts and tunnels resembled rivers within canyons.

Within the city the traffic congestion was such that the resources of the transit companies and the ability of the police to handle the crowds were severely taxed. Brooklyn bridge saw the greatest traffic rush in its history. It was late tonight before transportation
