COLUMBIA CLUB PASSES TO PARISH.— The property of the Columbus Club on Morris street has become the property of St. Mary's Catholic Church. The Society assuming its management. Officers of the society are: President, James Ahern; vice-president, B. Morris; treasurer, Charles Morgan; secretary, Ward Eulish. Officers appointed to have charge of the club are as follows: General supervisor, Frank Hart; financial secretary, Charles Morgan; recording secretary, Ward Eulish; manager of bowling alleys, Mr. Morris; Arthur Wells and Walter Morris managers of the billiard and pool tables. A clubhouse will be kept open, lighted and heated. Women will have the use of the club Monday and day evenings, Monday evening they will have it exclusively and Thursday evening there will be mixed gatherings.

POINTER DOG AT LARGE—Somewhere at large in Portland is a valuable pointer dog which O. Tyler, of Pale-tine, Ill., shipped by express, intending it to go to Elmer, Wash. The dog was being shipped from station 247 at a flat of the side of the crate in which it was kept, and escaped. No description of the dog has been furnished the police, beyond the fact that it is of medium size, is unneutered, and looks much like any other pointer.
 A general order has been issued for the police to look for the dog.

MORE EXHIBIT SPACE SOUGHT.— O. M. Clark, chairman of the Oregon Commission on the Panama-Pacific Exposition, left for San Francisco Saturch night with the intention of securing more space for the Oregon building.
 While in San Francisco he will confer with the exposition officials and the board of fire underwriters concerning the materials to be used in the exposition hall. He will endeavor to have ground for the building broken during the Portola Festival.

HARVEST SERVICES ATTRACT—Large gatherings in which children are strongly represented attended the "harvest festival" services at the Salvation Army hall at Second and Ankeny yesterday. Special decorations adorning the hall were placed in the morning, afternoon and evening, the services in the afternoon being for children especially.

THEFT OF RING CHARGED.—Mrs.
 Emma Pulaski, of 213 Third street, recognized A. C. Parker, alias Williams, residence the world generally, at Sixth and Alder street, last night and charged him with stealing a diamond ring valued at $300. Several weeks ago, Mrs. Pulaski says, Parker "rented" a room at her establishment, "borrowed" Mrs. Pulaski's ring—and disappeared.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—I have an exceedingly large stock of imported woolsens, consisting mainly of individual patterns. This being a very much regarded season, I have decided to reduce my prices, and will be offering some of the highest grade woolsens and linings for $57.50; long coats, $47.50. E.
 Gurney, The Ladies' Tailor, Mohawk bldg.—Adv.

CHURCH BROTHERHOOD TO MEET.—The first meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Congregational Church for the year will be held in the church parlors tonight. Dinner will be served at 6:30. All men invited. After dinner J. B. Kerr, one of Portland's best-known attorneys, will speak on "The Employers' Compensation Act and Referendum."

MISSING WIFE IS FOUND.—F. H.
 Kuder, of 507 Mississippi avenue, reported to the police yesterday that he had found his wife, who he reported Saturday night as missing. Kuder, who told Saturday night that he had returned from work in Hays, Mont., to find that his wife was gone from home, was reticent about the place and manner of her recovery.

BURIAL HELD AT OREGONO.—The funeral services of Miss Olive E. Zimmerman, eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Zimmerman, were held yesterday at Oregono. Interment was in the family plot. The family lived at 612 Alnsworth avenue, and Miss Zimmerman was 19 years old.

TWO, 17 AND 70, ARRESTED.—Two extremes in age, both charged with intoxication, were brought in by the police yesterday. They were Charles Carlson, a laborer, 71 years old, gray haired and stooped, and Frank Harper, a boy of 17. Both were locked up.

MAYOR WANTS INTERPRETATION.

Mayor Albee is trying to find out whether or not black crows, like black cats, are omens of luck. The question has arisen from the fact that the Mayor's back yard in Laurelhurst has been swarming with crows for several days past. The big birds, with their voices primed for service, swarmed in the back yard early last week and since have been constantly there. The Mayor is wondering whether the invasion is an omen of good or bad luck. The worst part of it is that the Mayor's dog is worrying his life out because he is hindered from interfering with the visitors by reason of a bird-cage muzzle.

MONEY GOING AT AUCTION.—The Portland Club bill, which has been on the move for several weeks and in passing from one member to another has done some hundreds of dollars' worth of business, will be auctioned off at the luncheon of the club tomorrow. One minute sale-man's talk will be given by F. E.
 Thompson, E. E. O'Neil, T. M. Buffum, J. O. Gillen and William Young. The principal address of the day will be by W. E. Coman, general manager of the Northwestern Electric Company, who will talk on the new central heating plant which is being installed.

PREMIUM LIST PREPARED.—The Portland Floral Society will have its premium lists for the next floral show ready for distribution at the regular meeting tomorrow night which will be held at the architectural building 247 Stark street. This meeting will be the last before the annual floral show and final reports of committees on details of arrangement and entries will be received.

OSWEGO GRANGE TO HAVE FAIR.—The Oswego Grange will hold its annual fair next Saturday in the Grange hall.
 An especially well made program of work, new and old. There will also be exhibits of farm produce, jellies and in domestic science. The inventors of the Grange will have exhibits. A short programme will be rendered. Dinner will be served.

NOBODY'S WIDOW, A FARICAL
ROMANCE BY AVERY
HOPWOOD.

WIDOWS! A word to conjure with.
 Dorothy Shoemaker, 22, a "widow" imitator! "Nobody's Widow!" play work as a lesson in romance which should make the Elizabethan era accord place to the modern writer, Avery Hopwood, and the modern actors and actresses.

The fact of it is "Nobody's Widow" began its week at the Baker yesterday.
 Dorothy Shoemaker became a part and parcel thereof of Portland theatrical work, and the play had even by time. The play is one of those farcical romances that is just like you want it to happen in real life. It is a romance of the "old-fashioned" type, if you like Miss Shoemaker, or any of the other plays, forget for a minute and see her as "Nobody's Widow." She handles the fun-making moments of the play with a grace and a fairness moulded into her several and varied wardrobes and she belongs to the exquisite stage pictures as a whole, time and again, from her natural aptitude for a bubbling romance such as "Nobody's Widow," she is to be remembered as the understudy of the club. When the actress starred in the play. The production this week is under her co-operative direction. The stage settings will go down as a work of place in the theatrical hall of fame, all honor be given to the mechanical department and those who aided. The scene-act yesterday after the play had ended and the players made their final bow attests the fact.

"Nobody's widow" is not a widow in reality. She is a romantic girl who marries a royal blooded Duke; 20 minutes after she finds him bidding a brief but all too long farewell to one of the highlights that he has in his path of bachelorhood. Proud as a lyre bird, Mrs. Newly married calls the nuptials off even before the wedding feast and sends out cards to her friends at Palm Beach and elsewhere that he suddenly died. Conjure in your mind what can happen when the two of them meet again in a hurry and he proceeds to woo and win her again; add a few occasions when another real widow steps in and all the things that can happen at a house party to you have Hopwood's farce. He deals with finish and finesse in the things of life. The players do the rest.

The production reveals a grace and skill of accomplishment, blended with talent that carries the audience. She is adorably bewitching in her role, which is generously rewarded. She is quick as a flash to convulse the audience with laughter. She fairly fits into the luxuriant lavender scenes and her exquisite conception of all the actress means is a joy to behold.

Mary Edgett Baker has a great big chance to display her talent as a comedienne and certainly she does. These two great big smashing acts the audience bows before her. It's a great week for Mabel Baker, week of joint triumph with Miss Shoemaker.

Louis Leon Hall, as the Duke who woos and wins his wife all over again, permeates the play with his handsome and charming personality. He turns on the spark plug of his generous supply of dramatic talent and engineers the excitement. Edward H.
 Woodruff is so much like some people you have met at a house party that you'd like him for his characterization.
 He is a vital factor in the plot and his role accordingly.

Loretta Wells, Belva Morrell, Raymond Wells, James Hester and Nancy Duncan all contribute to making "No-body's Widow" a fetching offering for the week. Nothing more refreshing or more to be desired has been offered at the Baker. Never was a play better presented by the capable organization.

The October meeting of the Indiana Society, to be held at Manchester Hall, Fifth and Oak streets, Tuesday evening, will take the form of a celebration of the 60th birthday anniversary of James Whitcomb Riley. A programme of Riley poems, stories and anecdotes has been arranged by Dr.
 T. W. Sharpe, and all former Indiani-ans are urged to be present.

Tonight the members and friends will give an informal reception to Dr. Trimble, who is starting on his return year as pastor of Centenary Methodist Church. At the same time the people will joyfully over the coming of the next session of Oregon conference to Centenary. An interesting programme is prepared and there will be refreshments.

Miss Helen Moore, one of the season's attractive brides-to-be, was the honored guest at an informal afternoon on Friday at her home on King's Hill.
 The personnel of the guest list included the most intimate friends of the honored guest. A daintily served tea and a handkerchief shower for Miss Moore were the features of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Cooke and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dineley are enjoying a delightful outing, motoring in Southern California.

How Much Service Can You Get From Your Typewriter?
 It's what a machine does, not what it costs, that is most important.
 All typewriters do not have the same efficiency and the same operator does not get the same result on every writing machine.
The L. C. SMITH & BROS. Typewriter will produce ten to twenty per cent. more work than any other typewriter ever made.
 How is this possible?
 Here are a few reasons:
 1. It is ball-bearing throughout—others are not.
 2. All operations are controlled from the keyboard.
 3. It is the lightest touch machine made.
 4. It does not "smut" the carbon.
 5. The ribbon reverses automatically.
 6. The type is so protected that it is not battered by collision.
 7. One motion of the hand returns the carriage and operates the line space.
 8. It has an inbuilt buffer and tabulator.
 9. No trouble to write on paper as small as a post-age stamp.
 10. It is built for service.
