Belief that Winters was responsible for the estrangement of his wife is thought to have been the motive.

Following the separation Mr. Winters forhada him the house, and in a heated telephone conversation a month ago Wilkins threatened Mr. Winters with violence.

Mr. Winters, carrying his violin case, alighted from the 12:30 Sellwood car in front of his residence shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The theory of the police is that two men broke from the brush across the street, and Winters ran from them, across the street, dropping his violin case. He had gone barely 20 yards when a blow from some blunt instrument felled him, and the following blow, dealt from behind, fractured his skull.

Chauffeur Gives Alarm.

Marshall Earle, a chauffeur, driving toward town discovered the body a few moments later, finding Winters in a huddled mass with his hands stretched protectively above his head. Seeing a deep gash in Winters' scalp, Earle reported to the nearest house, which was Winters', Mrs. Winters and her daughter Frankia quickly identified the man as Mr. Winters and telephoned for an ambulance. He was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. George Pippy, of 576 Boise street, a friend. He died on an operating table without regaining consciousness.

Preliminary investigation by Police Sergeant Pressey and Patrolman Tackaberry revealed the fact that Wilkins had been seen in the locality about 11 o'clock Saturday night, and had been inquiring for rooms nearby. A day or two before Wilkins had ap-
