

CONFERENCE GAMES THIS WEEK'S CARD

Washington State Will Meet Idaho and Oregon Aggies Will Play Whitman.

ELIGIBILITY QUESTION UP

Three Players on as Many Northwestern College Teams Will Be Protested by Officials of Rival Gridiron Squads.

Four of the six Northwestern conference football elevens will be seen in action this week in official games. Friday Washington State and Idaho will battle at Moscow; the following day the Oregon Aggies will meet Whitman College at Walla Walla.

The same day the University of Oregon will have its first real preliminary game, the Bremerton sailors being Coach Besdek's opponents.

With the opening of the conference season almost at hand, already eligibility murmurs and mutterings are being noised about in league circles. According to rival officials three stars—Patton of Washington, Johnson of Idaho and May of the Oregon Aggies—are ineligible to compete in the conference.

Patton, the big Washington tackle, will not be back from Japan in time to register within the prescribed 21 days after school opening, according to Bill Hayward, the Oregon trainer, yesterday in Portland.

Johnson of Idaho played three years at Lawrence and then slipped him in against Washington State last year before he was discovered and blacklisted. That one game constitutes his fourth season, unless it is a fight against a team which is not on the list of eligible players.

So far as May is concerned, no public protest has been made because the colleges have not yet listed the eligible players. But it is known that both Oregon and Washington will protest the Aggie star if his name is submitted. The impeachment charge is that May played two years at Willamette before entering the Oregon Agricultural College, where he is on his fourth season.

Under conference rules each college sits in judgment on its own players so that discord is almost sure to inject itself into the football arena right at the break of the season. The above mentioned schools give their stars unblemished records.

Idaho, the Oregon Aggies and the University of Oregon appear the likely winners of the clashes scheduled for this week.

Last fall Idaho State defeated Washington State 13-0. Coach Griffith practically has his entire squad back on the campus augmented by some new material, so that Idaho is pretty sure to be in better shape. Idaho ought to win about 10 to 2.

The Oregon Aggies defeated Whitman 29-3 on Sept. 29, but they caught the Missionaries in a distressing slump and on a muddy field. The Aggies are stronger, with a greatly improved line, whereas Whitman appears weaker, but if Dr. Stewart wins by one touchdown he can consider himself fortunate. Potter is said to be one of the new Whitman stars.

Oregon should have no trouble in rolling up 30 points on the Bremerton Sailors Saturday. The navy boys are same to the way they were last year, but the precision and football instincts of the college youths. Washington won from the Sailors 23-7 Saturday.

While Saturday's 7-7 tie score between the Multnomah club and the Oregon Aggies at Corvallis furnished little surprise to those who saw the two teams battle 6-0 the week previous on Winged M field, the score does not adequately sum up the performing of the two elevens in the latter engagements.

Multnomah was decidedly fortunate in drawing a tie score. The Aggies had them on the defensive 75 per cent of the playing time. For the first time in three or four seasons Multnomah's much vaunted line was outplayed, outgeneraled, overwhelmed—everything but better conditioned collegians.

Coach Stewart appears to have made a master move in switching the aggressive Chrisman from center to tackle. Chris weighs around 185 pounds and is decidedly more active and versatile than the average tackle. Hofer at the other tackle is a vastly improved player and has tight enough for anybody.

If May is declared eligible, this 180-pounder and the veteran, Huntley, will handle the extremity positions in good style.

It was the Aggies' line that caved last year against Oregon and Coach Stewart is proving himself possessed of a big league acumen in trying to bolster up the forward scrimmage.

MACK MAN WHO HAD A LOT TO DO WITH BRINGING THE 1913 WORLD'S SERIES TO PHILADELPHIA

HOME-RUN BAKER IN ACTION. The heavy swatman who figured so prominently in the world's series just closed, is the same youngster of the Athletics who in 1911, when his team faced the Giants in the world's series, walloped the ball to such good effect and for so many home runs that the "fans" bestowed on him the sobriquet "Home-Run" Baker.

Until the city series between the White Sox and Cubs ends the roster of the team that will be led by Connelley and Callahan will not be decided upon.

TEAMS TO TRAVEL

Lincoln-Columbia Match Will Be Played November 22.

THIRD GAME IS WEDNESDAY

Effort Being Made to Postpone Annual Lincoln-Washington Game Scheduled for October 26 and Interest Is Widespread.

Because both teams wanted to take out-of-town trips on Thanksgiving day the Lincoln-High-Columbia University football game scheduled for November 28 has been changed and will be played Saturday, November 22.

Lincoln High has been arranging a game to be played on Thanksgiving day at Boise while the Columbia team is contemplating going to Puget Sound on that date.

Next Saturday Coach Callier will take the Columbia team to Forest Grove to play the Pacific University eleven. This is the only out-of-town game that has been definitely settled for next Saturday by any of the local teams.

Academy Steek Rises. The defeat of Columbia University at the hands of Coach Huriburt's Portland Academy team last Friday caused the Academy championship to rise and next Friday the Academy team will play the Hill Military eleven.

Hill has lost its only game played this season so far by going down to Washington High 44 to 0. Considering the difference of weight and the lack of old players Coach Moore's proteges put up a stubborn game.

Next Wednesday will mark the third game of the Portland Interscholastic League, when the Lincoln High team meets Coach Rinehart's light Jefferson team at Gales.

When Lincoln High meets Jefferson High on the gridiron Wednesday Coach Borleske of the West Lincoln will pick his first lineup from the following: Howard and Cornwall, center; Fink, Busch, Johns and Condit, guards; Hanson and Schaeffer, tackle; Ray, Groves, McIndoe, Magil, Peary, Boehmer, Holt and Paget, ends; Captain Mulkey, quarterback; Rusty Groce and Booker, halves; Newman, fullback; Freeman, alternate backfield players.

Postponement Is Desired. The annual Lincoln High-Washington High game is scheduled for one day from Wednesday on Multnomah field, but an attempt has been made to change this date to a Saturday or a later date.

Coach Borleske has been drilling several trick plays into his team and with the weight about equal and both teams with experienced players one of the best games of the local interscholastic season can be looked for.

Roscoe Fawcett will officiate as referee in the Jefferson High-Lincoln High game Wednesday and W. S. Stuey will umpire. No head linesman has been chosen.

GIANTS' SHARE OF RECEIPTS HELD UP

Money to Be Kept Until Player-Authors Show Their Contracts.

M'GRAW OPPOSES WRITING

Men Vote $1000 of Their Part of Proceeds to Widow of Ground-keeper at Polo Grounds. Work of Umpires Is Praised.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—When the New York Giants applied to the National Commission today for the losers' share of the world's series receipts, they did not get the money. They were informed that the commission wished first to see the contracts of the player-authors so that it might be assured their engagements to report the world's series were entered into before September 27.

The National Commission laid down the rule last week that no baseball player or manager might write for the newspapers during any future world's series. It was, however, held that players who had contracts dated before September 27 might write this year.

It was announced last Monday that the player-authors who could not produce bona fide contracts signed before the date specified would be penalized, but it did not announce the penalty.

As a matter of fact, no penalty is likely to be inflicted, and the Giants' share of approximately $125 each in the series money probably will be paid in short order. Intending to receive $100, however, will be deducted from the New York players' share because of the fine of that amount inflicted on Arthur Brisbane for his excited conversation with Umpire Connelly last Thursday.

The Giants themselves have voted $1000 of their money to the widow of John Murphy, ex-ground keeper at the Polo Grounds, who died recently. Manager McGraw of the Giants talked with the commission on the subject of player-authorship. McGraw expressed himself opposed on general principles to members of baseball teams contributing to the newspapers on baseball topics.

Work of Umpires Commended. The work of the umpires in the games of the series just closed was commended by Arthur Brisbane, secretary of the Pittsburgh National League Club, who represented the commission in its business dealings in the series and while the games were on.

It is the unwritten law of the "world's series," said Mr. Brisbane, that the umpire in charge makes the decisions of the umpire. This law was observed commendably throughout this year's series.

Other members of the Athletics expressed their appreciation of the umpires were able to devote their entire energies to the giving of correct decisions.

Umpire Klem has agreed on terms to make the tour and will accompany the clubs if the National League approves, as it is expected to do. Manager McGraw of the Giants wishes also to have an American League umpire take the trip, and is communicating with President Comiskey of the White Sox with that end in view.

PLANK NOT TO RETIRE

Philadelphia Players Scatter After Winning Series—Herzog Is on Hunting Trip With Baker.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Eddie Plank, veteran pitcher of the Athletics, denied tonight reports that he had declared his intention of retiring from baseball.

"I did say last year that I was going to retire," said Plank, "but I have not spoken of it this year and have no idea where the news started. I feel in fine shape and would pitch again tomorrow if Connie Mack wanted me to do so."

Plank will be the guest of Harry Davis at his home here for a few days. Other members of the Athletics scattered to various parts of the country today. Collins, Baker, Strunk, Shawkey and Lapp are on hunting trips. Herzog, of the Giants, will accompany Baker. Daley and Houck expect to go to their homes on the Pacific Coast.

Walsh is anxious to get back to Syracuse where the fans have planned an enthusiastic reception for him. D. Murphy and McInnis will rest at their homes in New England while the fans of Worcester have decided upon a great demonstration for Barry upon his arrival home.

Schang intends to motor to his home in Buffalo and Bush had his automobile shipped to Brainerd, Minn. Ira Thomas probably will remain close to Philadelphia until his curfew, Jack Combs, hero of two world's series, is suffering from typhoid of the spine. Oldring says he will devote his time to forgetting baseball.

Players' Earnings Greater Than Rockefeller's Oil King's $10.20 a Minute Does Not Compare With $57.4 of Athletics or $34.0 of Giants.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—John D. Rockefeller, generally considered the wealthiest man in the world, will have to grow a little wealthier before his earning capacity in a sprint race can compare with that of the members of the Athletics of Philadelphia. He may have them in a six-days' free-for-all, but the ball players would leave him at the post in a 100-yard dash.

The king is credited with an earning capacity of $10.20 a minute, sleeping or waking. Local mathematicians have figured that members of the Athletics during the recent world's series made $51.74 a minute or about $5 cents each, while the defeated Giants made $24.49 a minute or a trifle more than 25 cents a second.

From their regular share, without any bonus that may be paid, the Athletic players are to receive $3244 and the Giant players $2152. The actual playing time of the five games was 527 minutes, divided as follows: 2:06, 2:22, 2:11, 2:09 and 1:39. Figure it for yourself.

CLUB WILL AID UNIVERSITY

Organization Urging Voters in Sherman County to Action. WASCO, Or., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—In view of the referendum of the University of Oregon appropriation, the university people of Sherman County have organized a University Club, to inform the people of this county of the urgent need of the university and, consequently, the necessity of registration and voting on November 4. The club feels that the people of Sherman County are in favor of the measure, but concerted action is necessary in order to bring the lukewarm voters to register and cast their ballots.

The University Club chose W. C. Bryant, of Moro, for president and Superintendent Russell, of Wasco, for secretary. Already there is a long list of voters who have indorsed the work of the organization.

NEW POWER LINE TO OPEN

Connections to Be Made Between Kalama and Chehalis Plants. KALAMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The coming week will see the final connections of the power lines of the Washington-Oregon Corporation between the Kalama River power house and the steam power plant at Chehalis. Then the company will have a continuous power line from Tenino, Wash., to Rainier, Or., including a branch to Woodland, at the extreme south end of Cowlitz County.

The power lines that will come into Kelso sub-station from Chehalis will carry a load of 45,000 volts, and the local plant will be so arranged that Chehalis current may be used here and sent on to Kalama, Woodland and Rainier. Three 200-watt transformers are being installed here. Capacity of the Kalama River plant and that at Chehalis can be so increased as to supply the needs of double the present population.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten It. There is some dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But thanks to a remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, the period is one of joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is a penetrating, external application. It makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and other symptoms that tend to weaken the prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and homes.

Thousands of women know from experience Mother's Friend is one of our greatest contributions to happy motherhood. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Especially recommended as a preventive of caking breast.
