George G. Pendell, of New York, whom the Prohibitionists have secured to superintend the field workers of the

whom the Prohibitionists have secured to superintend the field workers of the party, has arrived in Portland. He will promote publicity for the "out-to-win" campaign, by which the "drys" hope to carry the statewide prohibition amendment in 1914 and also to elect Prohibition party officials so that they shall have power to administer the law for which they alone stand sponsor among political parties.

Mr. Pendell has been a Prohibition newspaper man and editorial writer for nearly 20 years and has a National reputation among Prohibitionists as a political worker. He has conducted a publicity of the Prohibitionists as an in 1904 he managed a legislative campaign for the Prohibitionists in Governor Deneen's home district in Chicago.

"The Prohibitionists of Oregon are in hetter shape to conduct a winning to the prohibition that is the proper than one discrete for the prohibition of the prohibitionists in Governor Deneen's home district in Chicago.

"The Prohibitionists of Oregon are in better shape to conduct a winning campaign in 1914 than they are in any other state in the Union," declared Mr. Pendell at Prohibition headquarters yesterday. You must remember," he continued, "that we do not have to secure a majority of the votes cast to carry the election for our candidates. In the election of public officials a plurality of votes will elect. And with the other parties split up as they are it is by no means impossible for us to win a plurality of votes for the next election for us to win a plurality of votes for the next election and the continued of the cont
