SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 16 .- The City Council today passed, and Mayor Coi-terill signed, an ordinance accepting as an unincumbered gift the Lake Burien apples are of an exceptionally fine quality this year and have colored bet-ter than ever before. The crop is not so large this year as in 1912, but is bringing much higher prices, the sples being eagerly sough by large Eastern concerns. A buyer for a large Eastern house was here last week and pronounced the fruit equal to any in the Northwest and some of the varieties superior to simi-lar varieties grown elsewhere. The crop is not so large this year as in 1912, but is bringing much higher prices, the sples being eagerly sough to extend the line north to the center of Seattle and south to the Three-Tree Point, where connection may be made with a ferry to Vashon Island. ### Direct Sales Made.

The Horticultural Union of Yakima markets its fruit through direct shipments to Eastern purchasers. Its man-nger, E. E. Samson, makes an annual trip over the East to study crops and markets, and the union has two expert salesmen traveling constantly through the same district.

The union is in possession of suffi-cient funds to be able to advance money to many of its members, and will carry any of them for box material and sprays. It will ship 350 cars of fruit this year. The electric interurban rallway has the electric in the development of co-operative plans in the Yakima Valley. By its use carload lots can be quickly and cheaply assembled, but the remarkable thing is that the longest of the various lines operating through the fruit belt is only 10 miles.

When it is considered that the Portwhen it is considered that the Port-land, Eugene & Eastern is giving the Williamette Valley 350 miles of elec-tric interurban, that 130 miles of Ore-gon Electric lines are available, and that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company serves still other districts, the opportunity for development in Oregon becomes of startling importance.

It is expected that the whole Winter will be occupied in hauling the coal to Cook Inlet, where it will be loaded on barges. Mr. Swift thinks it will be on board a naval ship for trial by June 1, 1914.

Every test thus far made shows the coal to be of high grade, and naval officers are confident that it will stand the final trial. It is reported unof-ficially that the test of Bering River coal off the California coast showed coal off the California coast showed that coal not good enough for war-
