Miss Josephine Culbertson Becomes Wife of Jesse T. Canright.

SEATTLE MAN IS BEST MAN

Daughter of Prominent Washington Farmer Weds Deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures of This City—Couple College Folk.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Culbertson, in Everett, Wash., Saturday, took place one of the prettiest weddings ever witnessed in Dayton, when Miss Josephine Culbertson became the bride of Jesse T. Canright, Deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures of the City of Portland.

The parlor was decorated beautifully with fern, Oregon grape and asters. While the inspiring Mendelssohn wedding march was being played by Miss Laura Lyman, of Whitman Conservatory, Walla Walla, the bridegroom, attended by George Hill, of Seattle, and the minister, Rev. Ellis Harris, of Whiteburg, Wash., pastor of the Christian Church, took their places. The bride party was led by pretty little Zella Culbertson, niece of the bride, scattering white rose petals in the path of the bride, who followed, leaning upon the arm of her father. The bride was attired beautifully in white crepe de chine and carried a beautiful bouquet of white bride's roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Culbertson, of Dayton, Wash. She is a retired farmer. She graduated from the Dayton High School, '09, and University of Washington, '13. She is an accomplished musician. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Canright, of Portland. He graduated from Portland High, '04, and is an ex-'12, University of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Canright will make their home in Portland.

Declaring that the brightest dreams they had entertained of the pleasure of their visit to Portland had been more than realized, the Portola girls departed at 5:55 yesterday evening for San Francisco, after having passed three days in this city, the longest stay in any one city in their entire Northwestern tour.

Royal Rosarians who had been in attendance upon the honored guests throughout the day rallied in still stronger representation to escort them to the train from their headquarters at the Multnomah Hotel and to shower them with mementoes and farewell gifts.

As they reached the depot each was given a beautiful bouquet of roses, with the compliments of the Commercial Club. Sealy-Dresser sent down to their car a fine box of Oregon apples, and the Sherman-Clay Company sent aboard for their amusement during the trip a box of Sealy-Dresser records and records. The Aronson jewelry store gave to each member of the party a silver souvenir spoon. Individual gifts of flowers and candy from Rosarians and other friends also were pressed upon the departing guests from all sides.

C. H. Mayer Escort of Honor.

C. H. Mayer, whose enthusiasm led him to make pilgrimages to Tacoma Friday to greet them in behalf of the Rosarians, organized himself into an escort of honor from Portland, and will accompany the party to San Francisco.

A pretty ceremony yesterday morning, to open the entertainment of the last day in Portland, was conducted in the Park block south of the Arlington Club, where the Royal Oaks, of Oakland, planted and gave to the care of the Rosarians last June a live oak tree.

The committee of Rosarians escorted the San Francisco visitors to the place where the tree is planted. W. J. Hoffmann, prince regent of the Rosarians, introduced C. C. Craig, keeper of the oak, who told the Portola girls the history of its planting and the symbolism of friendship between Oakland and Portland which it held.

Chaperone Carries Message.

Miss E. T. Keenan, chaperone of the party, spoke in behalf of the girls, and pledged the party to carry back to Oakland the message that the tree of the Royal Oaks is still flourishing and cared for by the Royal Rosarians.

The shovel which was used at the planting ceremony last June was passed among the girls, and one of them thrust it into the soil by the tree, to symbolize San Francisco's sympathy in the movement for co-operation between the cities of the whole Pacific Coast.

"Hands together up and down the Coast" the pledge that was taken by Knights of the Pasadena Rose Tournament, by Royal Oaks, by Tillamook of Seattle, by Rosarians and others at the Festival in June, was given anew by the young women who represented the great festival which is to open in San Francisco tomorrow.

Luncheon Follows Ceremony.

The ceremony at the tree was followed by a luncheon to the Portola girls and the Rosarian committee at the Multnomah Hotel, given under the auspices of the management of the hotel. At 2:30 o'clock the girls were entertained at a reception at Meier & Frank's store. Julius L. Meyer in person presided over the reception, which was held in the tearoom of the store,

The safe was found open and the contents scattered all over the place. The safe was found open and the contents scattered all over the place.

Feeling that exists between the city and state health departments came to the surface again yesterday, when City Health Officer Marcellus denounced Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the State Board of Health, before the city budget committee for what Dr. Marcellus intimated was inactivity in state health matters on the part of Dr. White.

"About the only thing Dr. White has done since he was appointed to office," said Dr. Marcellus, "is to equip the state bacteriological laboratories more fully and get his salary increased."

COUNTY VALUES GROW

DESPITE $5,000,000 EXEMPTION INCREASE 1.54 PER CENT.

Final Determination of 1914 Tax Levy Will Be Made When State Commission Ends Session.

Had it not been for the exemption of more than $5,000,000 worth of household furniture from the 1913 assessment roll, this year's assessment on personal property would have shown an increase of more than $3,000,000 instead of a decrease of $2,949,740.

The 1913 property assessment had included the exempted household furniture the total increase, including the increase of $6,739,130 on real estate and improvements, would have been $10,000,000 approximately, or 4 per cent, instead of 1.54 per cent as the grand total shows. The decrease in personal property assessed is 3.99 per cent.

Increases are found in franchises, steamboats and machinery, merchandise, notes, moneys and accounts, farming implements and vehicles, while decreases are found only in shares of stock, household furniture and livestock.

Improvements in city property increased $5,000,000. Tillable and non-tillable lands show a slight decrease in valuation, although 40,000 acres not heretofore shown on the assessment books are there this year. This large acreage, however, is non-assessable, being in the National Forest. The total increase in the real estate division is $6,739,130, or 2.65 per cent over the valuation according to the 1912 assessment.

As soon as the State Tax Commission has finished its work, on which it is now engaged at Salem, the final determination of the new levy will be made. The city has been at work on its budget for several weeks and County Commissioners have commenced gathering the data necessary to make up the county budget. The several departments of state county and city government submit their separate budgets to the County Commissioners, by whom the total levy is determined. This work will be hurried and completed within the next few weeks.

SANDY, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Fire started this morning shortly after 2 o'clock in the vacant O'Dell building, and before it was subdued property valued at about $11,000 was destroyed. The structures burned were the Central Hotel, Bell Bros' livery stable and a saloon building owned by H. B. Edwards and J. O'Dell. There is about $2800 insurance. Horses in the livery stable were taken out.

Through the activity of citizens the fire was stopped by tearing down an old shoe store which stood in the pathway of the flames. The water supply was inadequate, and water was secured from wells by buckets. The building in which the fire was started stood at the end of Main street.

Owners of the building burned declared this morning that they would rebuild at once.
