

EVIDENCE AGAINST MRS. EATON ALL IN

Woman's Son-in-Law Tells of Belief Husband Was Wholesale Poisoner.

ADMIRAL'S WILL OFFERED

Bulk of Property Goes to Widow and in Event of Her Death to Her Younger Daughter, With Exception of $5000.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 22.—The evidence on which the prosecution expects to convict Mrs. Jennie May Eaton of the murder of her husband, Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was practically concluded today when the Government rested its case.

The last witness, Ralph P. Keyes, husband of Mrs. Eaton's older daughter, June, testified that he once heard Mrs. Eaton tell his wife that the Admiral had put away more than 100 men on his ship at one time by means of poison.

Keyes said, to the best of his knowledge, the conversation referred to took place the night of Wednesday, March 5, three days before the Admiral's death. According to the witness, Mrs. Eaton came to his home in Medford to see June on the date, and as the latter had left for Annapolis to visit her mother, Mrs. Eaton remained in Medford until June returned home that night.

Death Follows Wife's Visit

In the conversation which ensued between the mother and daughter, Keyes testified that he heard June say she had just had a talk with the Admiral in Annapolis, and that he had declared that he was going to Europe soon. June also said, according to her husband's testimony, that the Admiral asked her whether she cared if her mother and her husband were put out of the way.

"I'll have to go down and look after him," was Mrs. Eaton's comment in reply to June's story, as Keyes heard it. Keyes testified that Mrs. Eaton went to Annapolis the next morning. The Admiral died on the following Saturday morning.

Will Leaves All to Wife

Keyes further said Mrs. Eaton declared that the Admiral punctured her arm with hypodermic needles while she slept and that one of her front teeth was loose because the Admiral had injected something into her jaw.

In cross-examination Keyes said he heard Mrs. Eaton make such remarks as those frequently, and not merely on one occasion mentioned, just before the Admiral died.

The District Attorney's attempt to ask questions about the percentage of a child adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Keyes was frustrated by Chief Justice Alken, who declined to allow the witness to answer.

At the conclusion of the testimony the prosecution put in several exhibits, among them the will of Admiral Eaton. This was the bulk of his property to Mrs. Eaton. In the event of her death, everything is to go to her younger daughter, Dorothy, with the exception of a bequest of $5000 to June Keyes.

The police investigations of Admiral Eaton's death was the subject of testimony of John H. Scott, who described the finding of the will. On his first visit to the Eaton home on March 19, Mrs. Eaton told him she had the court records and saw the necessity of an investigation, as the doctors had pronounced death due to natural causes. She also said that the Admiral used both opium and morphine and that she had pawned her jewels to pay his bills, although she knew he was trying to poison her.

Scott said a search of the drug stores in the vicinity of or in Boston, Washington, Georgetown, D. C., and Alexandria, Va., failed to disclose anyone who had sold poison to Mrs. Eaton.

A letter written four years ago ago by Mrs. Eaton to Dr. Charles H. Colgate, Jr., a Rockland physician, was read into the record. The testimony Mrs. Eaton complained that the physician had been rude to her. The letter, in part, follows:

"I came to you for advice, for it is the brain of a world-renowned man who is going. I gave up an elegant home in Brookline to bring this poor deluded man home to you. I thought to gain his health, which I thought was caused by drinking to excess and too much money and social obligations, etc."

"After having long and conscientious work, I proved to myself the trouble is of deeper origin than whiskey and wear and tear of life. I am from a fine old family and a lady accustomed to the best class of society all my life. A woman who has been entertained and entertained the aristocratic people of the United States, and has always had the reputation of being a Christian woman and a lady by all that the word 'lady' implies, to be treated in the very unbecoming manner of this afternoon, to me is unendurable."

Another letter from Mrs. Eaton to Dr. Colgate, written after the death of the Eaton's adopted child, also was introduced. In this letter Mrs. Eaton wrote:

"I hold you morally responsible for the death of my boy. Had you examined the Admiral for his sanity you would have saved the life of my dear little boy."

STANDARD QUITS BUYING

No More Oil to Be Taken From Lands Under Litigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 22.—Announcement was made by the Standard Oil Company of California, in a bulletin issued today, that it had decided to discontinue the purchase of oil from lands which are the subject of litigation with the Federal Government.

In three ejectment suits filed by the Government in January and February of this year, for the possession of lands worth many millions of dollars, the Standard Oil Company has been made a defendant by reason of its heavy purchases of oil from the defendants in possession of the land. Negotiations with the Government by which the company would be safeguarded against paying twice for the oil, in the event that the lands eventually revert to the Government, have been barren of results, according to today's announcement.

SCIO COMPANY ELECTS

Condensed Milk Plant, Boon to Farmers, to Increase Output.

SCIO, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Scio Condensed Milk Company was held Monday and the following officers chosen: E. E. Peery, president; H. M. Myers, vice-president; Dr. A. G. Proll, secretary; E. E. Randall, treasurer; A. T. Powell, J. A. Bilyeu, R. M. Cain, Charles Wesley and A. E. Cyrus, directors.

The president announced that business the last year had been good and that the demand exceeded the supply. Plans are to be laid for increasing the output of the plant. The farmers are receiving more than $2000 a month for their milk. This sum will be increased to $5000 a month during the next four months.

At the Commercial Club meeting this week plans for authorizing a bond issue for road improvements were taken up. The Corvallis & Eastern Railroad has been asked to establish a station at Munkers. Growing business is the reason given. The hack service out of Scio and the motor service between

OREGON PIONEER OF 1849 LAID TO REST

SALEM, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The funeral of William Harris, a well-known pioneer who died at his home at Brooks Friday, was held at the home Sunday. Mr. Harris was 85 years old and had lived in Oregon since 1849. He and Miss Elizabeth Baird were married in 1853, the wife preceding the husband to the grave by three years. Mr. Harris was a member of the Methodist church for 70 years and was one of the most charitable men in the county.

Five children survive him, as follows: Mrs. B. E. Allison and C. W. Harris, Salem; Mrs. D. H. Craven, Portland; Mrs. F. E. Brown, Council, Ida; and J. F. Harris, Brooks.

Albany and Mill City were scored and better service will be sought.

HOSPITAL WILL BE BUILT

OREGON HOMEOPATHS TO FINISH EAST SIDE STRUCTURE.

State Society in Convention Approves Workmen's Act and Better Mortality Law.

Completion of the East Side Hospital was decided on at the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Oregon State Homeopathic Medical Society at the Hotel Oregon yesterday.

The building has stood incomplete for years, owing to lack of funds. A committee of two was appointed with power to select a third member to confer with the hospital trustees as to ways and means of raising the $100,000 necessary to complete and furnish the building. This committee will have full power to act.

It is probable that a bond issue will be floated. It is expected that the hospital will be completed in time for the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy, which probably will be held in Portland in 1915.

The hospital block is bounded by East Hassalo, East Second, East Multnomah and East Third streets. It was donated by the Corbett estate for a homeopathic hospital. The west wing has been partially constructed.

Dr. A. Nichols reported to the convention that from $200,000 to $250,000 has been willed to this institution, and the society feels, as physicians, that the hospital should be completed and occupied as soon as possible. It was declared that there is a crying need for the institution. The society feels confident of the support of all physicians.

The workmen's compensation act and the model birth and mortality law, recommended by the Bureau of Labor, were introduced.

Dr. E. Weldon Young, of Seattle, and Dr. Leon W. Hyde, an allopath of this city, were guests of the society.

Today's session will be from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Officers will be elected and a number of important papers will be read and discussed. At 7 P. M. there will be a buffet dinner in the Typewriting room of the Hotel Oregon, at which out-of-town members will be guests.

WOMAN LAWYER ACCUSED

Contributions to Aid Girl Students Said to Have Gone Astray.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Many prominent women of Chicago will appear before the Federal grand jury within the next few days. Subpoenas for them were made out today in connection with the Government's charges against Miss Mabel Sturtevant, graduate of the law school of the University of Missouri, who is accused of using the mails to defraud.

The women contributed from $10 to $100 to Miss Sturtevant, who solicited the amount through the mails, writing that the money was to be used in the interests of girls who were working their way through college. Postal authorities charge that Miss Sturtevant converted much of the money for her personal use.

ELECTION IS REFUSED

Pendleton City Council Orders New City Charter Printed.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Pendleton City Council tonight refused to order a special election on the commission form of government, petitioned by the voters.

The new charter is to be voted on at the regular November election. The charter was ordered to be printed for distribution immediately.

Smallpox Is Checked

CASTLE ROCK, Wash., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Smallpox in this city appears to be checked, as no new cases have developed since Saturday, and only one on that date. One of the suspected cases turned out to be stomach trouble. Schools, churches, synagogues and, in fact, all public gatherings have been stopped by order of the Health Officer.

MAPS ARE CHANGED

Lyman Accused of Adapting Geography to His Ends.

NEEDED RIVER SUPPLIED

Promoter's Circular Tells Prospective Customers if They Cannot See Golden Opportunities They Ought to Die.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Liberties alleged to have been taken with geography by Dr. John Grant Lyman, the Panama land promoter, were described today to the jury in the Federal Court, which is hearing his trial on charges of having made fraudulent use of the mails.

Edward A. Beagan, special prosecutor, exhibited two maps of Montijo Bay, an Isthmian harbor. One was a certified copy of a map used by the United States War Department. The other was one Lyman was alleged to have had when promoting land sales for the defunct Panama Development Company. The Government map showed an island in the bay, but the one Government agents said they had taken from Lyman's office was minus that geographical feature.

Map Supplied With River.

Another change in Lyman's maps from those used by the Government was said to show a river running where it never was designed by Nature to run—through the Agua Dulce tract, where sales were said to have been illegally made by the defendant.

T. P. Smith, a salesman for a printing establishment, testified concerning the printing by Lyman of various circulars and pamphlets, all of which were sent to the jury and all of which contained glowing descriptions of nature's bounty in Panama and the ease with which land and a lifetime sufficiency could be obtained.

Golden Promise Held Out.

One circular credited to Lyman read: "I do not want to have anything to do with 'the man from Missouri,' he has to 'show' and it takes so long to 'show' him that the opportunity for him to do anything thereafter is lost. Anyone who cannot see for himself the golden opportunities awaiting him in Panama, the modern Garden of Eden—ought to lie down under the mat at his back door and die."

Another declared that while there had been little prospecting for gold in the Isthmian republic, the Panama government had obtained gold worth more than $400,000 in golden images found in various parts of the country. The circular said that the images had undoubtedly been "fashioned by prehistoric people from virgin gold," intimating that there still might be much of that precious metal there.

RECALL TICKET IS NAMED

Hood River County Nominates Men for November Election.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Citizens of the county in three different parts of the valley supporting the recall of the local County Court, Judge Castner and Commissioners McCurdy and Putnam, held meetings last night and named a ticket to put in the field at the recall election November 4. The meetings of the citizens of the respective districts resulted in the following names: J. E. Stanton, for County Judge; E. Grove, Ed Hawkes, Commissioner; Upper Valley, J. O. Hannum, Commissioner.

Mr. Stanton, who was one of the first to agitate the recall, is an attorney, who came here years before last from Chicago. He recently opened an office in the city. Mr. Hawkes is a prominent East Side orchardist, owning one of the largest tracts in the district. Mr. Hannum is a farmer of the Upper Valley citizens for Commissioner, is a homesteader, who has not yet moved up on his tract in that district.

BUSCH MEMORY HONORED

Crowds Stand in Rain While Body of Brewer Passes at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—With heads bared and bowed, a crowd of almost 10,000 stood in the rain here tonight when the catafalque bearing the body of Adolphus Busch was taken from the special train from New York to his home. Despite the ceaseless downpour 5000 employees of the millionaire brewer stood near his home for 30 minutes awaiting the body's arrival.

The funeral, which will be held next Saturday, is expected to be the largest ever seen in St. Louis. The Post-Office department today detailed a special guard to the Busch home and a mounted escort for the funeral procession.

The body will lie in state at the Busch home Friday. At the funeral services Saturday it is expected his will, disposing of an estate of almost $100,000,000, will be read.

STEFANI SAWMILL BURNS

Canby Has Early Morning Fire, Causing Loss of $10,000.

CANBY, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Stefani sawmill, known for many years as the Adkins mill, was completely destroyed by a fire that was discovered at 3 o'clock this morning, the loss being placed at $10,000, with no insurance. When discovered, the blaze was so far advanced that nothing could be done to save it, but the employees were organized into a bucket brigade and succeeded in saving a large quantity of lumber piled near the mill. As there was no fire in the mill after 6

A Triumphant Sale Oriental Rugs at Cost Only Three More Days

—Until 9:15 o'clock next Saturday night the Lipman, Wolfe & Co. store stands prepared to sell to the first comers. —The choicest Oriental rugs in sizes from the small prayer rug to the room and carpet-size, at wholesale cost. —Again we repeat that at no time, at no sale, at no place, not even in Constantinople, have Oriental rugs been sold to the public at such remarkable prices. —The selling up to now has been phenomenal. From today until Saturday night we expect to excel all records. —Please remember that this store stands back of every rug in this sale, the same as at all other times in the year. —The right kind of rugs have much more to do with making the spirit and atmosphere of the home than many people think. —It is not the number of rugs, nor the costliness that counts most. A few—even one rug in a room that suits the surroundings makes a wonderful difference in the effect they have upon who see or live with them. —Attention given to the proper selection and harmony in your home furnishing in most instances prevents ill judgment. —We can help you if you will take a little time and allow us to extend the service of an expert Oriental rug connoisseur who has charge of our Oriental Rug Bazaar.

Sulzer's nomination of John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America, for the position. After the second rejection Governor Sulzer nominated Lynch. The nomination never was reported from the Senate finance committee, in order to withhold minor appointments in the department from Sulzer.

P. M. and a number of employees passed through it as a late morning fire. The fire was not discovered until three hours after that, it is thought to be of incendiary origin, but no evidence can be found implicating any one. Before the ruins were cold, A. Stefani, the proprietor, had made plans for the immediate reconstruction of the mill, a force of carpenters being now on the ground. He says he will have an entirely new mill in operation in less than three weeks.

Memorial Church Reopened. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, Cal., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Stanford University's $1,500,000 memorial church has since its complete destruction during the earthquake of 1906. This beautiful memorial to Senator Leland Stanford, by his wife, Jane Lathrop Stanford, is one of the finest and largest in the United States. Its wonderful mosaics, both on the interior and exterior walls of the edifice have been ordered replaced by the university trustees at a cost of more than $50,000 alone. An artist from Italy arrived this week to do this work, which will take at least three years to complete.

Iowa Tax Roll Completed. ENTERPRISE, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The Wallawa County assessment roll for 1913 has been finished by Assessor Allen. It shows a total of $10,428,354, a trifle over the figure for 1912. A number of material changes have been made in the assessments on various classes of property. Reductions have been made in land, notes and accounts, shares of stock, horses and mules. Increases have been made in town and city lots, town improvements, machinery, merchandise, farm equipment, money, cattle, sheep and swine.
