

BRAINS NOT NEEDED IN GOLF, SAYS RAY

English Professionals Think Americans Play Game Too Seriously.

WAVERLY CLUB ENTERTAIN

British Experts Revive Interest in Sport on Coast—Artists of America "Beastly, Doncher Know," Says Edward.

Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, professional golfers of England, arrived in Portland yesterday and were taken in charge of by the Waverly Country Club, where they were the guests at a dinner last night.

Their presence on the Pacific Coast means a boost to the game in the West and their stop-over in Portland a particular one for Portland.

The two Englishmen will appear this morning at 10 o'clock against Harry B. Davis, of Portland, and H. Chandler Egan, of Medford, in a four-handed match for 18 holes. Egan formerly was National champion. Following this game luncheon will be served in the clubhouse.

In the afternoon play will be resumed. The first set of 18 holes probably will be finished in time to start the second set at 2:30. The late afternoon play also will be for 18 holes.

Edward Ray explained the other day just what he meant recently when he was quoted as saying that his best advice was to "forget your brains, and hit the ball."

"Americans take the game too seriously," Mr. Ray declared. "Forget your brains, toss off your seriousness and just hit the ball. The great players today don't rely on the brains, precise tactics—it's just view the land, grasp your stick and take a poke at the ball. One must rely on luck a great deal and the fault I most notice among Americans is ceremony."

The personalities of Vardon and Ray, who have made big niches in the job of golf fame, are polished, the same of refinement.

But they don't "fawney" caricature men. "These funny men are beastly, doncher know-uh," broke out Edward Ray when a cartoonist tried to approach him. "In England we are bothered by the same absurd fellows, but the American cartoonists are so beastly persistent."

RUMORS OF DISCORD DENIED

Shaw's Resignation Doesn't Mean Team Is "Shot to Pieces."

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The sensation of the football year at Oregon Agricultural College was sprung yesterday, when Captain "Hunky" Shaw turned in his suit and asked to be relieved from duty as leader of the squad. Shaw said he felt he was a detriment rather than a help to the team. It has been known for some time that Shaw has been discouraged over his inability to round into condition after the injury to his toe which kept him on the sidelines during the first month of the season. No action has been taken on the resignation.

The action of Shaw has given rise to rumors that the Oregon Agricultural College team is "shot to pieces" as a result of internal dissension, that the players cannot agree among themselves, and that they cannot agree with their coach. These rumors are branded as ridiculous by those who are familiar with conditions in the Aggie football camp. It is known that there has been for some time a lack of harmony between Coach Stewart and Shaw. Shaw opposed the replacement of Sam Dolan by Dr. Stewart as head coach, and his inability to overcome this feeling is doubtless a reason leading to his resignation yesterday. Other players on the squad are giving Dr. Stewart their unreserved support.

ROSEBURG, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Edward Sindt, of Melrose, is suffering from the effects of a bullet wound of the right arm, sustained late yesterday. It appears that Sindt and a companion were walking along the county road, near Melrose, when the latter playfully snatched a revolver which he carried. The bullet entered Sindt's right arm, inflicting a serious wound.

MUTE TO 'GET EVEN'

Meagher Will Seek Revenge in Fight With McNeil.

GRUDGE DATES TO ROUNDUP

Deaf Boxer of Vancouver Hopes to Settle Old Score With One Who "Doctored" Bed in Athletic Club at Pendleton.

When J. Frederick Meagher, the Vancouver deaf mute, steps into the ring with Al McNeil at the Beaverton Athletic Club smoker tonight he will have more than a mere victory at stake. "Dummy" is out to get revenge for a night of torture at the Pendleton Roundup in which Al McNeil and Buster O'Neil, of Seattle, were the chief conspirators. For several days he has been communicating with Matchmaker Tommy Lake and existing an unusual desire to meet McNeil. He had chances before but never showed such eagerness. He finally wrote out the answer to the "why."

"At the Roundup all us fellows slept in cots in the gymnasium of the Pendleton Athletic Club. Friday night, after my tough mix with Gleason, the Seattle star, I went to bed, but as that song goes, 'It weren't no use.'"

"Someone had sprinkled some itchy powder in my bed. I almost scratches my skin off before Malone, Frank Vance and others made me stop. The drug stores were closed and there was no relief. I took the first thing handy which I thought might alleviate the pain. It was arnica and in two minutes I looked like an Indian."

"No one knew anything about the 'joke' when I asked them. The other boxers did not know that I could read lips. The next morning at breakfast I had my chance. Mike Butler had no slept in the gymnasium. He had heard of the night and was anxious to get the story. There were plenty anxious to tell it. I thought of course, thinking it was impossible for me to follow the story. I almost strained myself cross-eyed trying to get the yarn, as everyone started talking at once."

"I made out that either O'Neil, of Seattle, or McNeil, of Portland, had doctored my bed. In saying either name the movement of the lips is practically the same, especially in rapid talking. O'Neil Already Punished. "I soon found that both had a hand in it. I got even with O'Neil before he left Pendleton. We dressed up as Indians and came into the club quarters while O'Neil was peacefully slumbering. We walked off with the cot and when Buster came to, he was in the middle of the street, and, as he had no clothes, he was absolutely at our mercy and had to stay in the cot until we took him back."

"Tonight will be my chance at McNeil. We meet at 115 pounds and I am sure that I have all the chance in the world to get the best of him. Manager Lake has secured McNeil and Meagher in place of Musosky and Sheritt. Musosky was bitten by a dog some time ago and blood-poisoning developed. A special train will take Portland fans to Beaverton tonight. It leaves Fifth and Salmon streets at 7:15 and a returning train will bring the crowd back at 11 P. M."

AGGIES GET NORTH BLEACHERS

Toss of Coin Decides Seating Arrangement at Albany.

LINCOLN HAS SHADE

Odds Favor High School Boys in Academy Game.

HURLBURT'S TEAM HEAVY

Two Squads Indulge in Light Night Practice in Preparation for Contest on Multnomah Field.

With both teams tied for first place and their annual football game scheduled for this afternoon on Multnomah Field, the Lincoln High-Portland Academy match promises to be hard fought. At present the odds seem to favor the high school boys, although two of their stars will be unable to get into the first lineup. Coach Hurlbert's Portland Academy eleven will average about 150 pounds and the Lincoln team about 160 pounds. Coach Borleske's aggregation will weigh less than it did against the Washington High team last Wednesday, as "Tiny" Finkle, the 130-pound tackle, will be replaced by Johns, weighing 170, and Hanson, the 171-pound end, will have "Major" McIndoo, weighing but 150 pounds, in the end position. Both teams indulged in light workouts last night, with signal practice for the last part. If Captain Mulkey is out of the game, Coach Borleske will start Tammann at quarter, and Freeman will replace "Darkhorse" Newman at full, if the regular player is not in tiptop shape. Coach Borleske and 15 members of the squad leave for Hoquiam, Wash., Friday night, and everything will be done to have the team in perfect condition before this trip. The Portland Academy eleven probably will line up as it did against the Hill Military Academy team two weeks ago, and with the men in good condi-

DEFEAT STIRS FIGHT SPIRIT

Aggies Determined to Make Better Showing at Albany.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—That the mauling received by Dr. Stewart's team at the hands of Washington has had the effect of stirring up a fighting spirit, rather than of disheartening either players or fans, was made evident yesterday when a snappy workout was held on the campus before a crowd of several hundred students, assembled in the bleachers for yell practice. Yell rallies will be held every afternoon until after the Oregon game. Plans are under way for a big feature serpentine to be staged by the Oregon Agricultural College rooters at Albany. The Washington game destroyed any feeling of over-confidence the Aggies may have had.

Amateur Athletics.

Because several members of the football team played on the soccer team, the Ladd-Bellwood football game could not be played yesterday. The game was forfeited to the Ladd Grammar School team.

In a hard-fought soccer game, Kerns Grammar School team downed the Elliot eleven 3 to 2 yesterday on the East Twenty-eighth and Couch street grounds. Hutchinson and Manary starred for the winners, with Jaridif doing the stellar work for Elliot. The third game of the Christian Brothers Business College Basketball League resulted in a 20-to-16 victory for the Columbians over the Rosarians. Berger and Lemery were the high-point makers for the winners, while Chapelle made most of the losers' total. The standings of the league are: Columbians, two wins, no losses; Rosarians, one win, one loss; Williamette and Hoods, no wins, one loss each.

The Washington High-Jefferson High football game will be played on Multnomah field Friday. The Washington team will outweigh Coach Rinehart's squad more than 13 pounds to the man. The Oregon Law School eleven would like several games. Phone John D. Dwyer, Marshall 2404, after 6 o'clock in the evening.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 28.—George H. Paskert, outfielder of the Philadelphia National League team, ran down and fatally injured John Ferrie, 12, late today while driving his automobile through a crowded street in front of the department store where the boy was employed. The boy sustained a fractured skull, and doctors say he cannot live. Traffic police reported that Paskert was not to blame for the accident, but later he was taken to police headquarters and held on a charge of violating the speed ordinance. In Atlanta, Ga., in the last nine months 13,000 new dwelling houses have been erected.

THE FOLLY OF THE HAGUE.

By Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan.

If "War is Hell," how to avoid it? The camps of statesmen throughout the civilized world are divided on the answer—our two living ex-Presidents are exponents of opposite solutions to this momentous problem! Can a nation's honor be arbitrated successfully, lastingly? Is disarmament the herald of peace among nations? "In time of peace, prepare for war," is an old adage, but in this enlightened age we should heed the nobler admonition—In time of peace, prepare for peace. How? Rear-Admiral Mahan asks and answers this question in his masterful article, "The Folly of the Hague."

THE HANDICAP OF THE WELL-BORN CHILD.

By H. Addington Bruce. Drawings by Harry Stoner.

Much has been written about the miserable influences which have shaped the characters of criminals who, in their early lives, were left to chance and deprived of moral culture. But why should the well-born child, whose parents seemingly leave nothing undone to promote his welfare physically and mentally, be surrounded by dangers equally as grave as his stigmatized brother? H. Addington Bruce's article is intensely interesting and educating to all parents.
