Mrs. Susan W. Smith, who is defendant in a suit for slander brought by Mrs. Marion Brahears in the United States District Court of New York, yesterday declared that in her opinion the account of the case, as published in the Oregonian, was untrue.

The account in The Oregonian was based upon articles published in the New York Herald and Sun of October 28.

Mrs. Sarah ("Grandma") Todd, UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Sarah Todd, 105 years old and a sister-in-law of Abraham Lincoln, walked to the polls Tuesday and cast her first vote for the University of Oregon appropriations.

"Grandma" Todd, as she is familiarly known in Eugene, has taken a lively interest in the referendum balloting.

"Grandma" Todd will be 104 years old March 29, 1914. Her husband's sister was Mrs. Abraham Lincoln. She has no relatives in the West, and has been making her home during the past 10 years with Rev. J. S. McCallum, who lives at 1165 Wilamette street.

Smith, Mrs. Brahears commenced the action in the state court of New York. I succeeded in having it removed to the United States District Court. Recently I filed a motion demanding a bill of particulars, which must be furnished.

"I do not know from whom The Oregonian received the data for the article published," she added, "but I do know that the small grain of truth it contained was so cleverly disguised that it was a puzzle to find it. However, as this suit must be tried in court, the facts will be disclosed at the trial."

PRINEVILLE, Or., Nov. 7.—(Special.) Evidently the victims of a rifle duel between themselves, the bodies of Felix Jones and Roscoe Brown were found early today at a remote spot on Grizzly Mountain, near the sawmill of J. W. Jones, father of Brown's wife. The opinion is general that the fatal fight was due to Brown's jealousy for his wife.

Husband Becomes Jealous.

Felix Jones is not a relative of J. W. Jones, but he had long resided with the family of the latter and was looked on as a member of the household.

Yesterday the two men were dinner guests at the home of relatives of Brown's wife. They appeared to be unusually friendly. Brown persuaded Jones to go to the home of a neighbor on an errand. Jones departed leaving his rifle with Brown, who later left also.

The theory is suggested that Brown may have wheeled the given time, sent a bullet into the back of Jones, who returned the fire with his dying breath.

Felix Jones had quit his job yesterday in order to return to his home in Kentucky. He had arranged to leave on his journey today to see his relatives.
