Hint Given That "Financial Isolation" Is Relied On to Bring Huerta to Time.

EUROPE KEPT INFORMED

Lifting of Embargo on Arms Still Under Consideration, but Belief Is This in End May Be Found Unnecessary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson's cabinet stands firmly behind him in his efforts to force the retirement of Provisional President Huerta as a necessary step to the pacification of Mexico. For more than two hours the cabinet discussed today every phase of the Mexican situation. The consensus of opinion was that the United States should not take a single backward step in its program to restore constitutional government in Mexico.

It became known that all the secretaries favored steps which would convince Huerta that the United States was in earnest in its demands. Some of the cabinet members recognized in the lifting of the embargo on arms a practical and perhaps early solution of the difficulty, but there was no final decision on this point.

Other Influences at Work.

There is a hope on the part of the President and Secretary Bryan that a measure so radical as permitting exportation of arms will not be required to solve the problem. Influences are at work which, in the opinion of many officials, may force the early collapse of the Huerta regime. There is a closer understanding and more frequent communication between the State Department here and foreign governments generally than has been in evidence at any time since the Mexican problem came so widely international. Through the diplomatic corps in Washington, Secretary Bryan is giving such detailed information of the American policy as to leave no doubt of what the United States wishes accomplished. So far as is known there have been no direct requests for arms, but the strong intimations that the United States would like foreign nations to refrain completely from interference in the affairs of the United States government are expected to produce tangible results.

Financial Aid Discouraged.

What the United States is seeking is an acquiescence in its policy by the powers such an approval to carry with it discouragement of financial aid to the Huerta regime through foreign channels. A few officials are still in favor of financial isolation, it is believed by high officials here, will force the retirement of Huerta.

That President Wilson might possibly issue a statement in a day or two, making a comprehensive explanation of the purposes of the United States, was intimated. The President has not finally determined whether he will make another pronouncement.

President Wilson was in communication today again, through Senator Bacon, with members of the Senate foreign relations committee. The President feels that members of the committee, Republicans and Democrats alike, are supporting the policy of the Executive and he is giving serious consideration to their views as to the removal of the embargo on arms.

HALE CROSSES INTO MEXICO

Preliminary Conference Is Held With General Carranza.

NOGALES, Sonora, Nov. 11.—Bayard Hale crossed the international line into Mexico at 9 o'clock today and immediately went into conference with General Carranza.

It was indicated that tonight's meeting was merely preliminary to formal conferences to be begun tomorrow between the man supposed to be the personal representative of President Wilson and the leader of the Constitutionalists.

LAKES CAST UP THEIR DEAD

Storm in Its History Depends on It Sunday Night.

(Continued From First Page.) The storm in its history depends on it Sunday night. A resumption of the blizzard would cut off relief from the food scarcity which the city now faces. Rain would seriously complicate the situation, as flood conditions would ensue.

As a result of the disturbed state of the lakes the drinking water has turned to the color of coffee and warnings were issued by the health department to boil the water.

The total number of dead was increased to five today when John Richmond, 65, was crushed to death by the collapse of the roof of his home beneath the weight of snow, and William Combert was frozen in a snowdrift.

The work of cleaning up the city was furthered this afternoon when snow ceased for a time. Fifteen hundred workmen succeeded in putting 14 city streets clear in order and others probably will be working on a schedule by tomorrow. In the meantime telegraph and telephone companies cleared away a large part of the wreckage resulting from the destruction of the telephone poles and established a few connections with neighboring cities.

TALES OF HARDSHIP TOLD

Steamers on Upper Lakes Believed to Be Total Loss.

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 11.—Captain J. W. Duddleson, of the steamer Erie, Waldo, of the Bay Transportation Company of Detroit, which was broken in two at Gull Rock, Manitowish Island, told a graphic story of the wreck on his arrival at Houghton tonight with his crew of 25 men and two women aboard the tug Hebard.

The Waldo was bound from Two Harbors for Erie with a cargo of iron ore. The storm struck her at 11:45 o'clock Friday night. The mountainous waves tore off the forward house and pilot-house and all structures in the forward part of the ship. The compasses were lost and connections of the electric lighting system were broken. Captain Duddleson then was forced to steer by a small, inaccurate compass lighted by a lantern held by a member of the crew.

With this improvised equipment the boat was held for the passage between Bassal Ball Rock and Keweenaw Point. A northeast gale was blowing, accompanied by blinding snow, and, owing to the inaccuracy of the compass, the steamer was swerved slightly from her course.

After being tossed for 18 hours, the boat finally struck the reef. For a time the crew was in imminent danger

DEFENSE IS WONDERFUL

First Deep-Water Vessel to Make Voyage Likely to Be Steamer With President and Other Officials on Board.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Secretary Garrison returned to his desk today from his first trip to the Panama

Canal. "The defense constitutes a marvelous feat in engineering," he declared. "The works are now in readiness for the installation of the mortars and 14-inch guns."

The first deep-draft vessel to pass through the Panama Canal from ocean to ocean will be one of the Panama Railroad steamers, owned by the Government, which now are plying between New York and Colon.

The Secretary's idea is to allow Colonel Goethals all the time he requires to complete the canal and experiment with it before this initial trip is made. Then with President Wilson and some of his cabinet, the Congressional committee having jurisdiction over the canal and a few newspaper men aboard, the Panama liner will pass through the waterway from Cristobal on the Atlantic side, to Balboa, at the Pacific entrance.

LIGHTSHIP AND CREW LOST

Six Perish When Government Vessel Is Torn From Anchorage.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Fragments of wreckage tossed ashore along miles of lakeshore confirmed today the fear that the storm which lashed Lake Erie Sunday and Monday had claimed a heavy toll of death. Six men perished when lightship No. 82 was torn from her anchorage 15 miles up the lake, and either foundered or was shattered on the breakwater in the blinding snow storm Monday.

In Lorain, O., the steamer G. J. Grammer, of Buffalo, is hard ashore and in a dangerous position. Life-savers are standing by, but are unable to take off the crew because of the heavy seas.

The first news of possible disaster to the lightship was brought by the captain of the ore-carrier Champlain, the first vessel to make port since Saturday. He informed Captain Herbert of the Government steamer Vreces, that the steamer was missing, and Herbert reported to Inspector House, of the Tenth Lighthouse district, who at once started up the lake. About the same time Inspector House reported wreckage was coming ashore at the foot of Michigan street. A door, some broken panels and other wreckage identified as a part of the lightship floated in.

Inspector House chartered a tug and joined Herbert in the search. No trace of the ship was found.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE CANNOT CHANGE REPRESENTATION.

Law Committee Reaches Decision and Will Draft Call to Be Submitted to Committee.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Power to change the basis of representation in the Republican National convention does not lie with the Republican National Committee, although the committee has authority to call an intermediate convention to act on the question.

This was determined today by the law committee of the National Committee, after an all-day discussion of various questions referred to it preparatory to the meeting of the National Committee here next month to consider reorganization of the party.

The law committee decided that if the National Committee should decide to call a convention, the basis of representation would have to be just what it had been in the past.

It was also agreed that the committee had no power to alter the method of choosing delegates to future conventions and that it would be inexpedient to make such a change except in accordance with state legislative action.

The committee will make a draft of a call for the convention to be submitted to the December meeting of the committee.

At this time the negotiations are proceeding mainly with the Progressives to determine their possible attitude. The outcome depends, it is said, on whether the Progressives will insist on taking first place and inviting the other side to come along, or whether they will be willing to grant that the other side has some reasonable claim to consideration and show a willingness to accept that.

The contention to be presented in behalf of the regular Republicans is that Republican success in the next campaign should be absolutely certain.
