STARTERS.

ELECTRICAL—MECHANICAL—AIR
AS APPLIED TO THE AUTOMOBILE.
A very interesting pamphiet giving a fair and impartial comparison of the different starting systems now in use, has recently been edited by the prominent mechanical and electrical engineer, Stanley D. Emmott.

The author goes on to explain in a simple way the intricate mechanism of the different startors, giving diagrams and comparative locations. He also briefly discusses the different systems of ignition. If you are contemplating the purchase of a new car this pamphiet might be of interest to you and may be had free for the asking. Address Stanley D. Emmott, M. and E. E., 901 E. Pike st., Seattle, Wn.
