SUN PROPHECY TO BE PUT ON TRIAL TODAY

Government Charges That 'Inner Studies' of Cult Are Not Fit for Selling.

BOY PUPIL IS SUBPENAED

Aged Father Will Testify Hanish Was Born Not in Persia, but in Germany, and Began Working Life as Printer.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Ottoman Zar Adnan Hanish, leader of the Mazdaznan sun cult, will be placed on trial tomorrow before Federal Judge Mack. He is charged with shipping by express copies of "Inner Studies," a book of his teachings. The government alleges the "studies" are not fit to be sold.

Thirty-five witnesses are under subpoena by the government. "Billy" Lindsay, whose cult name was "Gayne," when the boy was in control of Hanish, probably will be brought from Philadelphia to testify. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsay, who was the "Vahdan" of the cult, also will in all probability be produced as a government witness.

Boy's Mother Returns. Wealthy relatives of the boy's father, who is dead, fought for possession of "Billy" when he was living with his mother at the Mazdaznan temple. He was spirited away to Canada. Mrs. Lindsay has since returned to Philadelphia.

Richard E. Hanish, aged father of the "prophet," will testify for the prosecution. According to the cult leader, he was born in Persia and is now 72 years old. He told his followers his parents died when he was a boy and he was brought up in a monastery. He said he grew up "divinely incarnated" and became a "messiah."

Aged Father to Testify.

The father will testify, according to the government, that Hanish was born at Castrowitz, Germany, in 1846. In 1881 the Hanishes emigrated to Rochester, N. Y., where the father became attached to a theological seminary and Ottoman was apprenticed to a printer. In 1887 Ottoman went to Salt Lake City, where he worked as a printer on a newspaper, and four years later the family joined him.

Two sisters of Hanish, Mrs. Emily Wertz and Mrs. Fannie Jefferson, both of Salt Lake City, have been subpoenaed by the government. Other witnesses for the government will be boys who have studied in the Mazdaznan cult. Several former followers of Hanish have promised to tell of the inner workings of the cult.

REBELS IN STRONG FORCE

American Women Held Just to Show They Are in No Danger.

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 16.—Rear Admiral Bouch, on board the United States battleship Louisiana, off Tuxpam, reports rebels in strong force in the vicinity of Tuxpam and Tampico and says both places are likely to be attacked at any moment.

Commander Kittelle, of the gunboat Wheeling, reports there are 15 American women and children at Llanillo, near Tuxpam, and that the rebel leader refuses to permit them to leave on the ground that their departure would be taken as evidence that they are not safe within his lines. If they are still being held tomorrow, Commander Kittelle says, steps will be taken to secure their release.

Several federal detectives who have been employed along the northern frontier arrived here today from Tampico and proceeded to Mexico City. They complained that they had been unable to obtain their salaries. Accompanying them was a man named Revine, an American from San Antonio, who is believed to be an agent of President Huerta.

BANKING LAWS ARE NEXT

Mr. Murdock said tonight that his bill, which he called the "Progressive trust act," would give the whole trust problem, would wipe out monopoly and create a trade commission that would relieve the courts of administrative functions in business regulation and bring quick, adequate relief to the small business man.

The proposed commission would have seven members, serving seven-year terms at $10,000 a year each. The commission's jurisdiction would be limited to corporations and business combinations having more than $3,000,000 gross annual receipts from business in the United States. It would have plenary power to get complete information, to criticize and make public over-capitalization, unfair competition, misrepresentation or oppressive use of credit and to assist the courts in enforcing decrees of dissolution.

Interlocking directorates, oppressive exclusive contracts, localized price cutting, procuring favors from common carriers and procuring dishonest conduct from employees of competitors are among trade practices the second bill would put under the ban.

"Waterable Conditions" Met. The third bill would empower the trade commission to investigate complaints of any business organization exercising a "substantially monopolistic power" and is designed to deal with acts not in themselves wrongful, but resulting in intolerable conditions. It would make "contrary to public policy" a corporation of an industry to control prices of raw materials or finished or partly finished goods. The commission would be empowered to restrain the unlawful acts or to work out a reorganization plan if the acts only "tended to monopoly."

In an effort to hurry the currency bill along to the Senate the five Republicans on the committee and Senator Hitchcock had a meeting tonight and continued work on their draft of the bill, making minor changes and correcting phrases. The Republicans hope to conclude their first draft by Tuesday and the bill will be taken up in a meeting of the full committee called for that day. Republicans and Democrats will report unanimously on those features of the bill on which they can agree and will report a disagreement on disputed points.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Every public move of officials of Cook County will be recorded by card index by the Chicago Political Equality League. This was decided on at a meeting of the league and the index will furnish most of the material which the women will use in the election campaign in the spring.

satisfactory assurances from the constitutionalists for a suspension of military activities pending the establishment of some sort of a provisional government after General Huerta disappears. The latest evidence of which was the effort of Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister, in the unexpectedly independent attitude of the Mexican revolutionists from San Antonio, who defeated the purpose of General Huerta to convene the Mexican Congress.

The failure to secure a quorum in this body is attributed to the absence of Catholic Senators, and there is much curiosity here to learn whether their refusal to come in line for the purpose of opposing to General Huerta, or was in pursuance of that official's plan to postpone the direct issue involved in the reorganization of the United States against convening Congress.

Officials are discussing the possibility that the supposedly refractory Senators will come in line for the purpose of declaring not only the illegality of the Presidential election, but of the vote for Congress as well. Such a declaration would result in adjournment sine die of the Congress and the calling of another election at a later date.

This would mean complete defeat of the effort to secure immediate Congressional approval for various important and valuable concessions to the Huerta regime.

Meanwhile the failure of Congress to effect even a preliminary organization in both branches delays the execution of so much of the programme of President Wilson as was to be put in operation as soon as the body was in full legislative action. No one outside of the President's council chamber is permitted to know the nature of the programme, but it is said that through the whole course of events the American policy will be shaped by circumstances as they arise.

HALE BRAVES MUD AND RAIN

Envoy of President Wilson Confers With Constitutionalists.

NOGALLES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 16.—Braving a winter rain storm, which turned the surrounding desert into a vast mass of mud, seamed with racking freshets, William Bayard Hale crossed into Mexico again today to present another communication to the Mexican revolutionists from his chief, President Wilson. Hale did not meet General Carranza, the Constitutional chief, but exchanged views with Francisco Escudero, Carranza's minister of exterior and communications.

The storm was the worst of the current wet season, and the only one outside Hale were the poncho-clad soldiers of the United States border patrol on the American side and on the Mexican side the sentries of the revolutionary army, their brown faces peeping out of brilliantly colored blankets that hid their drab uniforms.

Hale met Minister Escudero at the home of Ygnacio Bonillas, also a cabinet minister, who acted as official interpreter and translator at the two recent conferences between the American envoy and General Carranza. Hale and Carranza have not conferred since Friday.

It was understood that the meeting today was the result of a message from President Wilson, which conveyed some assurance to the Constitutionalists. Hale has been in close touch with Washington since his first interview with Carranza last Wednesday. Escudero keeps his chief fully informed of the exchanges with Hale.

Constitutionalists gave out today what purported to be the text of election instructions sent out from Mexico City before the recent ballot. The instructions were marked private and directed to General Joaquin Maas, Federal commander in Puebla. They instructed him to influence the vote in favor of the Huerta-Blanquet presidential ticket.

EXECUTIONS AROUSE CATRON

Senator as Private Citizen Advises Villa to Cease Extremes.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 16.—United States Senator Catron, of New Mexico, today called on General Francisco Villa at Juarez and cautioned him against the wholesale execution of the federal prisoners of war, which has been conducted by Villa at Juarez since the surrender of the town.

"I told General Villa that our Government had acted favorably to the rebel government and that it was my opinion that the executions would make a bad impression on the United States Government and probably retard any action toward recognition of the rebel government by the United States," said Senator Catron, after his conference with Villa. "He did not say that he would desist. He did say that it was necessary that it be done and that it was his duty to his country and orders from superior officers."

He said that if the United States intended to intervene in Mexico and I told him it was contrary to our policy and we would not if we could prevent it. He said that if would cost the United States a great deal of money, but I told him that would not prevent the United States from intervening in Mexico if it was found necessary.

"My visit to Villa was totally unofficial and I went to see him merely to discuss the possibility of any talk with him does not compromise me or my Government in any way, as I went as a private citizen. I wished to see Villa personally, inasmuch as I will be in Washington and, of course, will be questioned about the Mexican situation."

JUAREZ OFFICIALS SHOT

VILLA SENTENCES MEN; SUBORDINATES EXECUTE THEM.

All of Volunteer Troops, and Officers of Both Volunteers and Regulars to Be Killed.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 16.—Two ex-federal officials, of Juarez, who were taken prisoners by General Francisco Villa's rebel troops were executed at Juarez today. They were Pablo Eblave, an official in the Juarez police department, and Juan Cordova, chief of the Juarez secret police.

The executions took place at the Juarez cemetery, the condemned men standing on the brink of new-dug graves and falling in when the firing squad shot them. Both men were sentenced to death by General Villa and the orders were carried out by subordinates.

Senora Eblave, wife of one of the condemned men, was present when the sentence was pronounced and pleaded with Villa to pardon her husband, but he refused. A squad of 14 federal prisoners was taken to the cemetery to bury 13 of the soldiers who were killed in the Juarez battle. One of the prisoners, fearing that he was to be executed, tried to escape and was shot by the guards.

The rebel officers say that there are more executions to take place in Juarez and that all of the federal volunteer troops, federal regular and volunteer army officers will be killed. The soldiers of the regular army will be pardoned.

SOLDIERS LONG UNPAID

Internal Dissension May Obviate Another Attack—Mazatlan Next to Be Assaulted, According to Rebel Forces.

NOGALLES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 16.—Enlisted men of the federal troops defending Guaymas have robbed banks and banks of the city of more than 220,000 pesos, said advices received today at constitutionalist headquarters here.

It was said that the federal soldiers had not been paid for many months and that demoralization of General Pedro Ojeda's troops might make unnecessary another attack on the gulf port city.

Aside from Guaymas, in Sonora, the federal hold only Mazatlan, in Sinaloa. All other important points in Sonora, Sinaloa and Tepic, on the West Coast, were said to be in the hands of the insurgents. It was asserted today that the attack on Mazatlan would be made within a few days.

General Alvaro Obregon, whose forces last week took Culiacan, the Sinaloa capital, were reported today as close in pursuit of the retreating federal column, which had evacuated the city. Obregon predicted that the entire federal force and their arms would fall into his hands. In this event he has been ordered to join the insurgents invading Mazatlan and attack the city immediately.

As soon as the pending negotiations with Washington are complete General Carranza, it was announced today, would proceed south into Sinaloa. It was given out that this was planned in Mexico if it was found necessary. Orders were issued today to open tomorrow the customs-house at Juarez captured yesterday and minor ports of entry on the Chihuahua, Texas and New Mexico border, all of which are held by the constitutionalists.

CARDEN IS ONLY CAUTIOUS

Warning to British Residents Not Notice of Present Danger.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 16.—The British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, explained today that his instructions to British residents in Mexico were simply a precautionary measure intended to prepare them if circumstances should demand their removal.

Sir Lionel said he had no information indicating that the French minister, Paul Lefavre, said he had no intention of leaving the capital at this time. He reorganized the civil government warning to French residents, but considered it probable that he would follow the example of the British Minister.

UNKNOWN VESSEL LOST

PILOTHOUSE WASHES ASHORE, CONFIRMING FEARS.

No Marks Establish Identity, But Steamer Is Known to Have Been Wooden One.

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 16.—Fears that an unknown wooden steamer had been lost with all of her crew in the gale which swept Lake Huron last Sunday night and Monday morning were confirmed today, when the pilothouse of a vessel were found on the Canadian shore, a few miles above Point Edwards. There were no marks on the wreckage which would establish the identity of the boat to which it belonged.

A wrecking company has succeeded in releasing the steamer Northern Queen from the rocks at Port Frank, Ont., and that vessel is now at Sarnia, where it will be necessary for her to go into drydock for repairs.

The bodies of two more victims of the lake district were identified. They were I. W. Morey, of Detroit, oiler on the overturned Charles Price, and Ernest Patton, of Escanaba, cook on the same boat.
