

REBELS HOLD HALE IN DIPLOMACY NET

"Simple Interview" Is Now Real Problem.

CARRANZA EXPECTS ACTION

Success at Juarez Encourages Constitutional Forces.

OUTCOME NOT PREDICTED

Lifting of Arms Embargo Not So Important as Once Supposed, Is View of Leaders — Minister Escudero Issues Statement.

NOGALES, Sonora, Nov. 17.—Some obstacles developed since the fall of Juarez created tonight a feeling of uncertainty and discouragement as to the outcome of the diplomatic exchange between the United States and the Mexican Constitutionalists.

President Wilson's envoy, William Bayard Hale, had another conference with Francisco Escudero, Carranza's Minister of Foreign Relations, but at its conclusion it was apparent that a situation had arisen which would tax the diplomacy of both sides.

Success Encourages Rebels.

It was evident that the fall of Juarez had encouraged Carranza's leaders to such an extent that they believed the lifting of the embargo on the importation of arms was not as necessary as previously it had seemed.

On the other hand it appeared that the original expectation of the insurgents that the ban on the transfer of war munitions across the line would be lifted had been met with more definite requirements from the Washington Government.

The parity between Hale and Carranza and the latter's representatives reached a crucial stage last night. After the meeting with Hale tonight Escudero said he expected the negotiations to end within 24 hours, but would venture no prediction as to the outcome. He added, however, that there would be another meeting, perhaps the final one, tomorrow.

Comments Are Exchanged.

"Mr. Hale is a man of rare culture and sincerity," was the extent of his further remarks.

Hale said Escudero was a diplomat of rare ability and declaring he was weary, retired to the American Consulate.

Since last night communications to Hale from Washington have been especially lengthy. It required the entire staff of the Consulate, assisted by Hale, to translate them today from the code. In contrast to former conferences where Hale met Carranza and his staff in the Customs-house in full view of the populace, peering through open windows, today a meeting was attended with the strictest privacy. Hale and Escudero met, as yesterday, at the home of Ygnacio Bonillas, another member of the revolutionary cabinet, who acted as translator.

Reconstruction Work Calls.

Escudero in a further statement tonight said he based his belief of a result within 24 hours upon the outcome of the conference yesterday in which he said Hale "had received impressions" regarding what the Constitutionalists believed necessary to the salvation of their country. Another reason, he said, was the eagerness of the Constitutionalists to continue their self-set task.

"We wish to complete these negotiations soon, as we are eager to enter into the work of the reconstruction of Mexico. To lift the embargo on arms would be a very desirable thing, but it is not necessary to the success of the revolution. It is possible that the embargo will be raised but it is not necessary to."

This statement of Escudero that the lifting of the embargo on arms—the only thing Carranza asked for in reiterated statements last week—was taken as an indication that the negotiations begun last week by Hale as a simple proposition had developed into a complicated problem of diplomacy.

REBEL EXECUTIONS CONTINUE

Villa's Forces at Juarez Admit That 11 Have Been Put to Death.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—Eleven men are known to have been executed by Juarez since Francisco "Pancho" Villa and his rebel forces captured the city Saturday morning. The rebel officials admit the execution of that number. Americans who have frequented the city since its capture claim that 23 have been executed.

The bodies of most of the victims are still unburied.

The known victims of the rebel executions so far are:

- Colonel Enrique Fortillo.
- Colonel Augustin Cortinas.
- Captain Jose Torres.
- Captain R. Benavides.
- Captain Ricardo Contreras.
- Civilian, unknown, said to be aide to Guillermo Porraz, personal representative of General Huerta for the state of Chihuahua.
- Jose Cordova, recent chief of Secret Service for Huerta in Juarez.
- Lieutenant Pablo Riese.
- Federal soldier, who tried to escape.

BROUGHER MAY GO TO GOTHAM PULPIT

FRIENDS OF PASTOR FEAR HE WILL DESERT WEST.

Negotiations With Famous Calvary Baptist Church at Salary of $10,000 Rumored in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Friends of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, formerly of Portland and now pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, were in a flutter today over the report that his departure today for New York will result in his being called to the pulpit of the famous Calvary Baptist Church in New York City, for many years occupied by Dr. Robert Stewart McArthur.

Dr. Brougher would make no comment on the report yesterday more than to say that he did not believe he would leave his Los Angeles congregation, admitting, however, that next Sunday, by special invitation, he would preach in Dr. McArthur's church in New York.

Friends of Dr. Brougher confirm the report that he has received several communications from the Calvary trustees in New York concerning his possible acceptance of that pastorate, although no definite offer was extended. The pastorate pays $10,000 a year.

Dr. Brougher will attend the meeting of the American Baptist Publishing Society, of which he is president, in Philadelphia, November 29.

POSTAL CHANGE IS ISSUE

Investigation Is Asked of Appointment of Republican.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 17.—Representative Bryan, of Washington, today introduced a resolution calling on the Postmaster-General to explain his grounds for removing the postmaster at Fort Orchard, Wash.

Miss Ethel Johnson was postmistress and recently married. Immediately she lost her job, the department contending that the marriage automatically cancelled her commission. Mr. Bryan disputes this, but he is doubly incensed because the department appointed W. R. Pletcher, a standpat Republican.

WIFE OF COACH HEIRESS

Widow of Pastor Receives $380,000 From First Husband's Estate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Percy C. Haughton, wife of the football coach of Harvard University, receives $380,000 from the estate of her first husband, the late Rev. Dr. Richard L. Howell, according to a transfer tax report filed here today. Dr. Howell, who was known as one of the wealthiest clergymen in America, died February 1, 1912.

Mrs. Haughton was Miss Gwendolyn Whistler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delano Whistler, of Baltimore, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Haughton were married in 1911.

CITY MAY MUZZLE TOOTS

Chicago Locomotives to Try Auto Sirens for Bells and Whistles.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Automobile sirens may be used on Illinois Central Railroad locomotives in Chicago, it was announced today at a hearing of the Aldermanic anti-noise committee. W. L. Park, vice-president of the railroad, said that a siren had been ordered and would be tested. If it proved successful, bells and whistles would be used no longer.

A letter from Governor Johnson, of California, saying he had passed "many sleepless nights" in Chicago because of the noise of lakefront railroads, was read at the hearing.

"MOVIES" REPLACE OPERA

Old Tivoli, Where Tetraxini First Won Fame, Quits Music.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—San Francisco's Tivoli Theatre—almost as indelibly associated with the city since 1876 as the Bay and the Golden Gate—soon will be no more as the home of opera and real music. On December 1 the Tivoli will open as a moving picture house, following a financially unsuccessful six weeks' season of grand opera.

The first Tivoli was opened at Stockton and Sutter streets in 1876 and there Tetraxini first attracted attention. The Tivoli cost $350,000.

LANE ASKS CHANNEL WORK

Oregon Senator Calls for Opening of Upper Columbia and Snake.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Nov. 17.—Senator Lane today introduced a resolution calling on the Army engineers to submit to Congress plans and estimates for opening the Columbia and Snake Rivers to continuous navigation from Celilo to Riparia.

Senator Lane says the project is entirely feasible and if the channels are cleared out there is an abundance of water to enable any vessels that can pass through Celilo Canal reaching Riparia.

INDIAN ROBE IS FOR JESSIE

Pendleton Commercial Sends Gift to President's Daughter.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 17.—A beautiful Pendleton Indian blanket bathrobe was expressed to Miss Jessie Wilson today as a bridal gift by the Pendleton Commercial Association.

The wedding present is entirely a home product, having been manufactured by the Pendleton Woolen Mills from Umatilla County wool.

1500 INDIANS HOLD MARSHAL AT BAY

Navajos Rally to Renegades' Defense.

CALL FOR TROOPS SENT IN

Medicine Men Command Tribe Fortified on Mountain.

PLANS MADE FOR SIEGE

Prisoners Arrested for Assault, Bigamy and Horse Stealing Escape and Stir Chief Black Horse to Rebellion.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 17.—Fifteen hundred Navajo Indians rallied in defense of eight renegades and are reported in armed encampment on Beautiful Mountain, 35 miles southwest of the Shilcock Agency, defying United States Marshal Hudspeth to take prisoner the renegades who are wanted on Federal warrants charging horse stealing, assault and bigamy.

Two troops of cavalry have been asked for by the Marshal and the request has been referred by the War Department to Major-General Carter, in command of the border patrol.

It is feared that before the cavalry arrives the renegades will be joined by many more at the command of the medicine men and of the plural wife men who are reported to be stirring the Navajos to rebellion.

The Indians are fortifying on a high table mountain, the summit of which is approachable by only one tortuous road.

Agent W. T. Shelton is at the agency awaiting the arrival of the troops. No word was received tonight that they had started.

Marshal Hudspeth, after surveying the position of the Indians, returned here tonight with three of the original 11 renegades he was sent from her 10 days ago to arrest. The eight others escaped and rallied their tribesmen to their defense, before the Marshal reached the agency.

The request for troops was made today after a conference at the agency between Indian agents Shelton, Parquet and Major J. T. McLaughlin, after the Navajos had sent word that the renegades would not be given up, but that they would not only resist arrest, but that if attacked they would resist, burn the agency and kill those in charge.

At the suggestion of Major McLaughlin cavalry was asked because of the moral effect which the Sheriff's posse could not produce.

An investigation during the day by the marshal and the Indian agents showed that the Indians surrounding the renegade leaders had rounded up their cattle and sheep, harvested their corn and otherwise made ready for a siege.

The Indians are led by Chief Black Horse and 150 young bucks.

PHILIPPINE POLICY HELD TOO POLITICAL

Resigned Official Sees Wilson's Mistakes.

HARRISON'S TATICS DECRIED

Ex-Secretary of Interior of Islands Is in America.

GRAVE FEAR EXPRESSED

Plan of Placing, at Once, Balance of Power With Natives Will Work Irreparable Damage, Says Dean Worcester.

MISTAKE MADE, IS CHARGE

It was a great mistake to promise the Philippines that the commission should be dominated by a majority of the natives. As long as the American mission has existed the Americans have been in the majority and under this condition has stood between any foolish legislation on the part of the Assembly. Under the new order as introduced by Governor Harrison, demonstrations may be made by the natives at any time. The promise of President Wilson to grant the Philippines independence is a dream. The natives cannot govern themselves. Trouble would result immediately and there would be intervention by other nations—at least by one other. The Philippines would quickly get a dose of the same medicine administered Korea.—Ex-Secretary of Interior with Dean C. Worcester, Ex-Secretary of Interior of Philippine Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—(Special.)

Dean C. Worcester, for 13 years Secretary of the Interior of the Philippine Islands, arrived today on the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria. He resigned his post September 15, but his successor has not yet been appointed. Worcester's arrival has been awaited with much interest, as he is the first prominent Philippine official to reach here since the accession of the new Governor-General, Burton G. Harrison, and the introduction of President Wilson's policy that the Filipino is to be preferred to the American as an official.

San Francisco is full of ex-Philippine officials, who are bitter over the President's policy of independence for the natives, who are absolutely unfit for self-government. Worcester is a man who had large influence in civilizing some of the most savage tribes in the Philippines. He commanded their respect and confidence.

Slavery Charges Taken Up.

His latest work was to try to induce the Philippine administration to take up his charges of actual slavery in the islands, but all action was delayed until January 2, 1912.

FEAR IS FELT FOR STEFANSSON PARTY

WHALERS SAY LITTLE HOPE OF EXPLORERS BEING FOUND.

HEAVY WEATHER ENCOUNTERED BY VESSEL EARLY IN OCTOBER AND SEARCH AVAILS NOTHING.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Fear is felt for Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famous Arctic explorer and discoverer of the "white Eskimo," who was aboard the steamship Karluk when that vessel was last sighted off Flaxman Island on August 14, and for his vessel and all of her people.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the Karluk since that date, despite the fact that extensive search has been made for her. Whalers say there is little hope of her ever being discovered, as she is known to have encountered the heavy weather which prevailed off the Alaskan coast early in October.

This is the opinion of members of the Canadian Arctic exploration party at Collision Point, according to a dispatch received from Fairbanks today. Stefansson left Victoria last Summer with an expedition outfitted by the Canadian government to make explorations and scientific researches along the Northern coast of the American continent.

FOXHALL KEENE IN COURT

Polo Player as 'Maxmillian Agassiz' Pays $25 for Speeding.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—"Call Maxmillian Agassiz to the bar," said Magistrate Murphy in the West Side Court today.

There was a stir in the courtroom. Some of the spectators who recalled the famous Harvard scientist, dead these many years, wondered if they were about to see any relation. A man who looked very much alive came forward.

"Maxmillian, you are charged with driving a motor car at high speed in violation of the city ordinance on Saturday," said the court, and then, looking at the prisoner for the first time, continued: "Maxmillian, why, how do you do, Mr. Keene?"

"Good afternoon, your honor," smiled Foxhall Keene, and the spectators laughed. As Keene, who had been speeding on Broadway Saturday on his way to the Yale-Princeton football game, paid a $25 fine, the court said, "afternoon, Maxmillian; call again."

INCURABLE CURED BY FALL

Drop From Tree Throws Kneecap in Place, Stops Six-Year Limp.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Nov. 17.—Although an injury to his knee since pronounced incurable by 20 surgeons, J. P. McKinney, Deputy County Recorder, cured it by falling out of a tree.

McKinney suffered the fall a week ago and was taken to a hospital. He left that institution today, able to walk naturally for the first time since both legs were broken in a train wreck at Colton, Cal., six years ago.

The surgeons who told McKinney, who formerly was a locomotive fireman, that he would be a cripple for life, overlooked the fact that his kneecap was merely dislocated.

KAISER FROWNS ON TANGO

Uniformed Subjects Ordered Not to Dance It and Actress Warned.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Emperor William has forbidden officers of the German army and navy, while in uniform, to dance the tango, the one-step and the two-step, according to the newspaper, the Salem.

His majesty has instructed the officers to avoid visiting families where these dances are favored.

An actress of the Royal Theater in Berlin was advised today by Count Georg von Huelssen-Haezeler, the Imperial Director of Theaters, not to participate in a tango tournament.

AGED MAN'S HIKE USELESS

Medford Pioneer Tramps 14 Miles In Storm to See "Matty" Pitch.

MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—J. D. Killgore, an aged pioneer of Jackson County, walked 14 miles from Evans Creek to Medford in a drenching rain today to see Christy Mathewson pitch in the game here between the New York Giants and Chicago White Sox.

Mr. Killgore did not learn until he reached Medford that "Matty" left the tourists in California. The pioneer said he arose at 3 A. M. and waded across two swollen creeks to reach Medford in time for the game.

CANADA BUYS IRISH CORN

Montreal Imports Grain Cheaper From Belfast Than Chicago.

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.—A cargo of corn grown in Ireland was brought into port today by the steamer Ben Gorehead from Belfast. The importation of corn has been made necessary by the shortage of the American crop due to the last drought in the Middle West.

It has been found cheaper to import corn from Ireland than to bring it to Montreal from Chicago.

CONTINENT FEASTS ON APPLES TODAY

Oregon Fruit on Menus in Many Cities.

RAILWAYS JOIN CELEBRATION

Observing Day First Duty in Portland and State.

VARIOUS PLANS OUTLINED

Clubs, Hotels and Restaurants Vie With One Another in Arranging to Do Honor to Industry of the Northwest.

APPLES GIVEN AWAY TODAY.

Two and a half tons of big, red Oregon apples are to be given away in the streets today in honor of apple day. A big apple, which is to be taken about town on an auto truck until not an eatable part of it is left, is really a papier mache apple skin, but stuffed to the brim with between 25,000 and 30,000 prime Spitzenberg.

This unique apple day float is the idea of H. J. Titus, superintendent of the dining-car service of the Northern Pacific Railway. The apples have all been gathered from Oregon apple-growing districts. Four white uniformed dining-car waiters will hand out the fruit to folks in the streets as long as it lasts.

If the people of Mars will pick up their ears today they will hear a multitudinous "yum-yum" of gastronomic glee rise from the Continent of North America, as some 100,000,000 or more people sink their teeth in big, red Oregon apples in celebration of "Apple Day." And the shade of Epicurus, harkening from the other side of the Styx, probably will leave a sigh of envy as he hears that sound rising from Ketchikan, Alaska, to Tampa, Fla., and from San Diego, Cal., to Halifax, N. S.

Everyone will eat an apple, and because of the excellence of the Oregon apple, everyone probably will then eat another apple and another apple until the closely-grained cores strew the continent like burnt firecrackers on July 5.

Hotels and Restaurants Join.

There is not a large city in the United States in which there is not at least one big hotel featuring apples and apple dishes and drinks on its menu. There is not a railroad connected with the Northwest whose patrons will not find apples the predominant element in the dining-car menus; and in Portland and in Oregon, where the movement originated, apples will eclipse everything else in the world for the time being.

Clubs that are holding their weekly luncheons will have apple menus. Two of these are the Rotary Club, which will have luncheon at the Commercial Club, and the Transportation Club, at the Multnomah Hotel. Menus in leading restaurants also will place emphasis on the apple.

Oregon Views Are on Menus.

The Southern Pacific Company will do its part in "celebrating the day. It will use an apple menu, printed on an attractive card with pictures of big, red apples and views of the productive orchards of Rogue River Valley and Medford in blossom time and in harvest time, and all of the principal dishes will be apples.

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away," says the Apple day card of the O.-W. R. & N. Company. "Which means that if you eat a big, red apple every day, such as represented on this card or grown in many famous orchards in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, you will not only save a doctor's bills, but will be instrumental in the growth and success of one of the most important industries of the Northwest."

Road to Give Away Fruit.

The Northern Pacific will have an apple menu in all its dining-cars and in Portland will carry its observance of the day still further, by putting on the streets throughout the day a great float in the form of a monster apple. Thousands of apples will be passed out from this float as it moves about town.

Apple pennants will be given to every dining-car patron on the Spokane, Portland & Seattle lines, and the menu will consist of apple dishes.

The Portland Commercial Club has been assisting materially in the work of interesting people throughout the country in Apple Day by the hotel men of this city, who have written many letters to hotel proprietors in other cities.

Shaffer Writes 700 Letters.

Chief Clerk Shaffer, of the Imperial Hotel, which has been one of the most active in the work, himself wrote more than 700 letters to hotel men urging that they feature apples on their menus.

In line with what it has urged hotel men throughout the country to do, the Commercial Club also is to have the following apple menu in its own dining-room:

- Compote of Apples
- Northern Spies and Curry
- Broiled Sirloin Steak a la Bordelaise
- Apple Fritters, Apple Syrup
- (Made in Oregon)
- Mashed potatoes, garnished with Celerales
- Sliced Apple Pie
- Apple Cider
- Tea, Coffee, Milk or Buttermilk
