Courts May Be Asked to End Dispute Over Taking Jog From Highway.

ALTERNATIVE PLAN IS UP

Citizens Consider Having Two Main Thoroughfares and One Wants Round-Cornered Block Method Adopted.

SEASIDE, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special).—Plans to straighten and improve business streets of this place appear likely to become a matter for adjustment by the courts.

Ever since Seaside, situated on the Clatsop beach, became a city with a future, property owners have been at swords' points over the question of straightening Bridge street. There have been attempts and counter attempts to agree to a plan to take the jog out of Bridge street at the corner of Main.

When the fire swept Seaside of its business district, a renewed effort was made. For a time it looked as if the work would be accomplished, but the plan fell through. Then came the construction of the Moore & Lawrence concrete building at Bridge and Main streets, and all the plans were abandoned.

Mayor Alex. Gilbert, Sr., abandoned plans to construct a business block at Bridge and Main streets when hope of straightening the thoroughfare appeared gone. Since then he and other property owners have refused to improve their property until a permanent line was established.

JEWELRY THEFT REPORTED

E. H. Bartholomew Says Sneak Thieves Get Away With Loot.

E. H. Bartholomew, 205 Eleventh street, last night reported to the police the loss of several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry. Mrs. Bartholomew, he says, was absent from the house a few minutes, and when she returned she noticed that articles on her dresser had been disturbed. Opening her jewelry case she found her jewels gone.

BRIDGE BIDS ARE RECEIVED

Six Firms Seek Contracts on Columbia Highway.

Six firms submitted bids yesterday for the construction of a concrete viaduct on the new Columbia River highway near Multnomah Falls. Bids were received at the same time for a concrete fence along the sides of the bridge and for a small arch bridge and a girder bridge to span two gulches along the proposed route.

AGED MINISTER IS DEAD

Funeral of Rev. Alphonzo Le Roy Takes Place Today.

Rev. Alphonzo Le Roy died Sunday at his home, 1563 East Stark, at the age of 81 years. He had occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church in Portland before he became too old to attend to duties connected with his charges.

Dr. Le Roy was born in Paris, France, November 10, 1832. He was educated at Oxford University and afterwards graduated in the department of medicine at the University of Edinburgh.

The funeral services will be conducted by the Oddfellows in the chapel of Finley's undertaking establishment at 1 o'clock today. The body will be cremated at the Portland Crematorium.

Night Course Widens. To the course in navigation which has been given in the night school in Portland this year, under the direction of John McNulty, nautical expert in charge of the United States Hydrographic Survey, will be added next week a class in nautical astronomy.

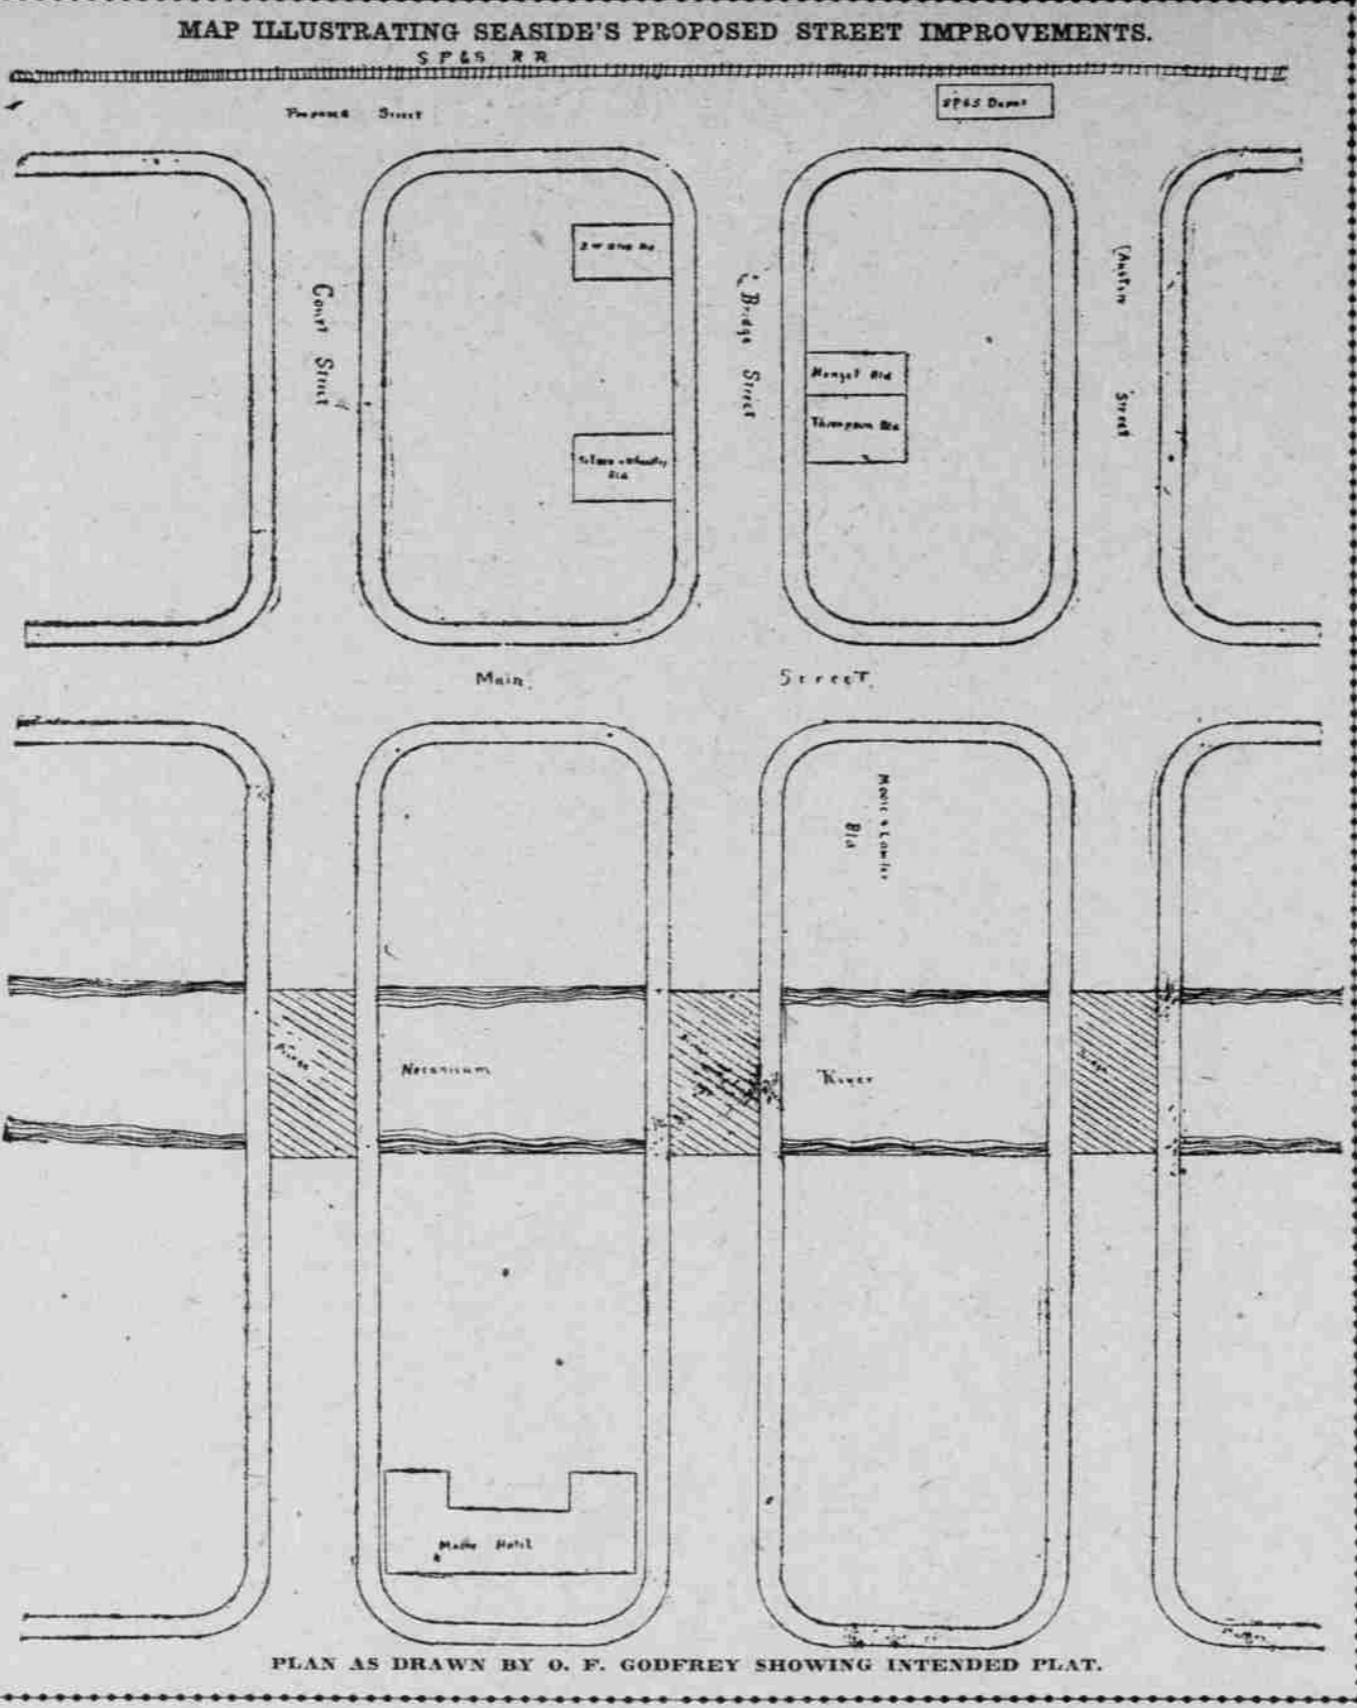

Dr. Le Roy was a member of the Portland Yacht Club and was one of the founders of the club. He was also a member of the Portland Athletic Club and the Portland Golf Club.

He was a very successful minister and was well known in the Northwest. He was a member of the Portland Board of Education and was one of the founders of the Portland Public Schools.

EXPERTS ON STAND

Gun and Ammunition Men Testify for Defense.

ST. HELENS, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special).—Gun and ammunition experts occupied today on the witness stand in the Pender murder trial, with the exception of a few minutes before adjournment, when Mrs. Frye, a neighbor of Pender's, told of seeing Pender on the Saturday following Labor day. She said she did not notice any scratches or blotches on his face.

STATE THEORY ATTACKED

Experiments Made With Arms at Pender Murder Trial to Show Effect of Shooting—Woman on Witness Stand Confused.

Sergeant Craddock, of the Portland police force, was the first witness called by the defense today in the Pender murder trial. His testimony concerning guns, S. J. Clifford and W. H. Hubbard, also of Portland, were on the stand as experts. The principal contention of these experts was that the markings on the bullets fired from a particular gun may have been made by gas pits

PROHIBITION ORDER HELD UP

Temporary Injunction Is Issued in Sherwood Iguor Case.

HILLSBORO, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special).—Judge Campbell, of Oregon City, today granted a temporary injunction in the Sherwood liquor election case, denying the County Court the right to issue the prohibition order until the election is held. The County Court had issued the prohibition order for the first time.

BLIND FOLK $350

Contributor of $250 Toward Workshop Hides Identity.

CITY INSTRUCTOR WANTED

Press Club Will Petition Board of Education to Provide Teacher for Sightless—Benefit Show at Theater Intention.

From a contributor who specified as his only condition that his name should not be used in advertising, $250 was made yesterday to the fund that the Portland Press Club is aiding Mayor Albee to raise for equipping a workshop for the blind folk of Portland.

In addition to this, the Hovenden Piano Company has offered to furnish a square piano to be used in teaching piano tuning to blind men with musical ability. J. F. Myers, blind himself, but an expert musician and piano tuner, who will give the piano tuning instruction to the blind, has accepted the offer with gratitude. As an upright piano will also be needed in this work, an effort will be made to obtain one.

Instruction to Be Requested. At the meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday afternoon a committee from the Portland Press Club, headed by B. F. Irvine, J. E. Weirlein and Marshall N. Damm, will appear before the board to ask that an instructor for the city's blind be provided. The instructor is needed who can devote his whole time not only to teaching such trades as basket and broommaking, rug weaving and the like, but also in giving instructions in reading and in the use of their fingers to the blind.

Quarters for the proposed workshop and a "retail" shop at East First and Madison streets, so that all the School Board would have to do was to provide the building and possibly a few books and necessary classroom equipment.

It is thought almost certain that the Board will be willing to do this much for the blind of the city, in view of its policy of furnishing instruction for adults in the night schools. Nothing has ever been done in Portland before for the blind, though in many other cities, including Denver and Oakland, such workshops as the one proposed are established.

In these places the workshops have been found to be practically self-supporting, and they are established. A deficit is made up by aid from the state. It is the intention eventually to obtain state aid for the blind of Portland. In the meantime, they are in need of help between now and the session of the Legislature in 1915.

Press Club is Active. The Press Club is trying to arrange with the leading theaters of the city for the use of the theater for one or two nights for the benefit of the blind fund. If this can be done, the revenue will be used to help the blind.

Several of the blind folk of Portland are talented musicians. They are so enthusiastic over the plans for providing a workshop that many of them have volunteered to sing or play and several of them will appear in musical numbers before the acts.

Another who will be asked to help is Francis Richter, the blind pianist, whose musical education was made possible by assistance from the public. It is thought that he will be willing to take part in such a benefit performance to help other blind folk who have been less fortunate.

Three Going From City. J. N. Teal, C. W. Hodson, C. S. Jackson to Attend Harbor Congress.

Portland will be represented at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington in December, by J. N. Teal, C. W. Hodson and C. S. Jackson. The Portland Chamber of Commerce has secured the heaviest support for the Congress, and it is to a large extent through this influence that appropriations have been obtained in the past few years for river and harbor improvement in the Northwest.

The coming session promises to be the largest, and in many respects the most important, in the history of the Congress since its organization about ten years ago. The opening address is to be delivered by President Wilson. J. R. Knowland, Representative from California, will deliver an address on the subject of Municipal or State-wide terminals on the Pacific Coast in connection with the opening of the Panama Canal.

Samuel Hill has been requested and will deliver his now famous lecture on the Columbia River.

Most of Committee's Recommendations Already Adopted. Copies of the report of the School Survey Committee in bound and printed form were sent to members of the School Board and Superintendent Almond yesterday for the first time. Although the report was supposed to have been submitted on November 1, and it is so noted on the booklet, the members of the board and other school officials received nothing from the committee before yesterday except galley proofs of the report.

As soon as a full supply of copies of the report is available they will be placed in the hands of the principals of the schools and it is the plan to make a systematic study of the report with a view to applying it to their work.

A large proportion of the recommendations of the committee had been adopted prior to the report by Superintendent Alderman and the teaching force.

COLE GETS NEW HEARING. Judge Davis Finds Trial of Police Officer Was Not Regular. Because Mayor Ruslight, who preferred the charges, also sat as a member of the board that passed final judgment and discharged J. W. Cole from the police force, Judge Davis yesterday signed an order directing that the ex-sergeant have a new hearing before the Civil Service Commission. Cole was charged with incompetency by Mayor Ruslight more than a year ago and was discharged from the force after a series of hearings.

Petition for a writ of review was filed by attorneys for Cole and the matter submitted before Judge Davis on briefs. City Attorney LaRoche filed a demurrer to Cole's petition. In overruling the city's demurrer, Judge Davis said that to permit the complainant to sit in final judgment against the person accused is contrary to the fundamental principles of public policy.

OREGON "ALBUM" ISSUED

Publication by State Immigration Contains Varied Information.

The "Oregon Album," which contains 152 half-tone views of Oregon farms, industries and scenery, is ready for distribution by the State Immigration Commission, and 500 copies were dispatched to Chicago yesterday, where they will be used in the Oregon connection at the Land Show.

This booklet is one of the most attractive that has been issued by the Immigration Commission and is expected to have a valuable influence in attracting favorable attention to the state. The captions to illustrations are printed in German and English.

The other pamphlets were also issued yesterday—"Statistisches Jahrbuch" and the "Ankunftsbuch für Deutsche Einwanderer," which contain being German compilations from the material contained in the Oregon Almanac. The first book contains statistical information, and the second is an immigrant's guide.

HOW THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH

Would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for All Rest of Medicine in the World.

Utica, Ohio.—"I suffered everything from a female weakness after baby

Compound and now I am stout, well and healthy. I can do all my own work and can walk to town and back and not get tired. I would not give your Vegetable Compound for all the rest of the medicines in the world. I tried doctor's medicines and they did me no good."

Another Case. Nebo, Ill.—"I was bothered for ten years with female troubles and the doctors did not help me. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and every month I had to spend a few days in bed. I read so many letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound curing female troubles that I got a bottle of it. It did me more good than anything else I ever took and now it has cured me. I feel better than I have for years and tell everybody what the Compound has done for me. I believe I would not be living to-day but for that."
