REHEARSALS GIVE PROMISE

Members of February Class of Jefferson High School Declared Letter Perfect in Production on Bill for Tonight.

The February graduating class of Jefferson High School tonight and Saturday night will present its class play entitled, "When a Man's Single."

The students have been practicing faithfully for the past two months and have their parts worked out to a degree that promises the success of the production.

The play is one that lends itself readily to amateur production. The action takes place in the State of New York.

In the first act a most realistic and interesting characterization of country life and customs is given. Harold Horton and Pete Adams, farmers, cause many a laugh by their imitation of country characters.

MRS. H. R. TALBOT AGAIN PRESIDENT OF LEAGUE

Annual Address Full of Praise for Social Survey Committee—Oregon Effort Declared Far Ahead of That of Other States.

At the annual meeting of the Consumers' League, held yesterday afternoon in the Central Library, Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot was unanimously re-elected president of the organization.

Mrs. Talbot, in her annual address, praised the work of this particular committee and of all who had assisted in making the past year so successful.

The full significance of the league movement I was unable to appreciate until during a recent visit to the East I found how it had brought Oregon into the limelight and what time it had brought our state.

In New York, where the need of it is keenly realized, in New Jersey, where I addressed a meeting of women from all parts of the state and in other districts, there was much interest and admiration expressed that our merchants and other business men had a wide enough vision for the progress of the state to co-operate with us.

Rev. Father O'Hara gave a comprehensive account of the housing investigation and of the code that he and other members of the league hope will become a law soon.

At the close of Father O'Hara's address a resolution was adopted urging upon the City Council and building code revision committee the necessity of providing a housing code with strict regulations governing the construction and maintenance of dwellings and tenements according to modern ideas of city housing.

Mrs. Millie H. Trumbull read a paper written by Mrs. Jessie Honeyman. Mrs. Charles Baise reported a large increase in membership.

Mrs. Talbot, the officers elected were: Treasurer, Miss Cora Patten; recording secretary, Mrs. E. T. Hughes; corresponding secretary, Miss E. C. Sanford; first vice-president, Mrs. E. B. Colwell; second vice-president, Mrs. M. R. Trumbull; third vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Osburn; directors, Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Charles Baise, Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooke, Miss Caroline Gleason, Mrs. Aman Moore, Mrs. W. H. Warren; honorary vice-presidents, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Dr. C. H. Chapman, Marshall Dana, Rev. T. L. Elliot, W. T. Foster, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Helen Ladd Cochet, Mrs. R. W. Wilson, Arthur Evans Ward and D. Solis Cohen.

The art department of the Portland Woman's Club will meet today at 1:45 o'clock in lecture-room H, of the Cenduces an effect equalled only by the latter in its open-hearted simplicity. In the second and third acts their same characters combine their droll work, this time amid metropolitan surroundings. The contrast between their normal mode of life and this new and unnatural one produces a great effect upon them.

The work of these two students is only one feature of the play. David Griff and Wilma Ditttrich play parts equally interesting and equally well developed. Elizabeth Knight, as an Irish maid creates many an amusing situation.

The students have been guided in their work by Miss Olga Hendrickson, who has had considerable success in this same line in the Eastern states. She expresses satisfaction over the work of the class and predicts that the result will be eminently successful.

The play is to be given in the large Jefferson High School auditorium at 8:30 tonight and tomorrow night.

This cake, made by the Cottolene recipe, using only Cottolene for shortening, won the first prize three separate times at the Texas State Fair. Cottolene recipes are all winners, at home or elsewhere.

Cottolene

Remember, however, that you do not need to use as much Cottolene as you would of butter or lard. Always use one-third less when cooking with Cottolene, for Cottolene goes much farther.

You save money, any way you figure, if you cook with Cottolene, and your food is more wholesome and more digestible. If you will give Cottolene one fair trial, you will continue to use it for everything except on the table.

This is the recipe for the prize-winning cake, by Mrs. W. J. Stone, Dallas, Texas:

Three-fourths cup of Cottolene, 2 cups sugar, 3 cups flour, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 6 whites of eggs beaten to stiff froth, 2 teaspoons lemon extract. Cream 3-4 cup of Cottolene with sugar, add milk and flour alternately until well mixed, then add whites of eggs and extract. Grease tins and flour them; light the gas just as you place cakes in stove. Put all three layers in and cook at once. Let the cake cool an hour or so before icing.

FILLING—Two cups sugar and just enough water to moisten, cook until it threads from the spoon. Beat whites of 2 eggs to stiff froth, pour the boiling syrup over the whites and beat constantly, then add 1 teaspoonful of lemon extract and 1-2 package shredded coconut, and ice your cake. If icing begins to get too stiff to ice add about 2 tablespoons of boiling water and beat well.

Give your self the satisfaction of knowing what Cottolene can do. Order a pair of it from your grocer; also send to us for the interesting FREE Cook Book, HOME HELPS, written by five leading authorities. Write for it today
