

POLITICS OOZE INTO GOOD ROADS MEET

Washington Association Will Fight Today Over Next Convention City.

DATE KEY TO LEGISLATURE

Centralla and Spokane Represent Factions From East and West.

Governor Will Name Commissioner From Olympia.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—In spite of the plea of John F. Hartman, president of the Washington Good Roads Association, that the convention which assembled in North Yakima this morning be free from politics, an undercurrent of political issues was noticeable throughout the discussion of road matters.

Of state-wide interest was a declaration tonight by Governor Lister that he will not name a successor for State Highway Commissioner Roberts until he returns from Olympia, the end of this week. He said, however, that the choice has been made by the legislators, one of Spokane and two of Pierce County.

An alliance between the King County delegation of 25, the largest in attendance, and Southwestern Washington to give the 1914 convention to Centralla will probably defeat Spokane's aspirations, although E. W. Guilbert, chairman of the Spokane delegation, is working hard to line up a majority. By resolution passed this afternoon the question will come up for vote tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Convention Holds Key. H. M. Robinson, chairman of the Centralla Commercial Club, claims to have pledges of support from Pierce County as well as King.

Cards with the name of W. J. Roberts for President of the Washington Good Roads Association were printed and distributed tonight at 6:30 o'clock. The only other man named for the place is Robert Insinger, of Spokane, and the Spokane delegation is not urging his candidacy, as it is principally interested in securing the 1914 meeting. The Seattle delegation, in caucus tonight, pledged its support to Centralla. Both Centralla and Spokane claim North Yakima's support, which is doubtful.

About 250 delegates are in attendance and an aggregate of 350 will probably be ready for the balloting tomorrow.

The object of both east and west side in the fight is to secure the good roads meeting in the even-numbered years, immediately before the legislative sessions, while the recommendations of the good roads convention will have greatest weight.

The question came to the front for a moment when invitations were presented by both Spokane and Centralla and David McKean, chairman of the King County Board of Commissioners, and M. E. Thompson, Pierce County engineer, declared the members of their state organizations for Centralla at the conventions for the last 14 years have been as follows:

New Auto Code Favored. The following resolutions committee was named by President Hartman just before adjournment:

Standardizing county, district and township cross sections for grades.

Standardization of signals and danger signs.

A law for the distribution of money from the public fund to be automatically and providing a definite system of maintenance for all types of roads.

Strengthening a wide-tire law.

Establishing a new automobile code.

RANGE WAR IS CONTINUED

Pendleton Neighbors Involved in Suit Over Grazing Land.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special).—That the old range troubles between the sheep and cattlemen have not been eliminated entirely was evidenced yesterday when Charles Ogilvy, a grower of cattle and horses, brought suit against his neighbor, Charles Johnson, a sheep raiser, for $2400 damages.

Ogilvy charges that Johnson placed barbed wire "snare" on the Ogilvy range, resulting in serious losses of stock and making it impossible for Ogilvy to use the range.

These men have been in constant controversy over range matters for nearly a score of years. "Gun men" have been employed by both sides at various times and no longer ago than last year there was an exchange of shots, but no fatalities resulted.

DURKEE PIONEER PASSES

A. R. Cady, Aged 75, Dies in Sleep From Heart Disease.

homestead filings in the Siuslaw reserve, was brought from Portland by Supervisor Harvey, who has been in conference with district forest officials. By the addition of these men to the three crews now in the field, the work of passing on the proposed homesteads can be greatly expedited, and more settlers may be prepared to go on their claims in the Spring. There are now on file 777 applications for homesteads, and each of these must be examined by forest service officials for approval before the land can be withdrawn from the reserve and opened to settlement.

FRENCH MAY BE IN RACE

IDAHO REPRESENTATIVE SAID TO HAVE EYE ON SENATORSHIP.

Chief Justice Allshie May Not Run Against Latah County Man, But Other Entries Are Expected.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 20.—(Special).—Rumors have been current in Moscow for several days that Representative French might enter the race in the coming campaign to succeed James H. Brady in the United States Senate.

French reports from Washington indicate that Representative French is considering entering the race and while he has made no announcement as yet, he is expected to do so in the near future.

Should French enter the Senatorial race the coming campaign would be marked by one of the most active and strenuous situations in the history of the state. Senator Brady and ex-Governor Gooding are in the race already and the fight between these two old leaders will be bitter. It is currently rumored that Chief Justice Allshie of the Supreme Court will be a candidate for the Senate and will not seek reelection to the bench. It is understood that he has been holding off his announcement pending information as to whether Mr. French will be a candidate. While it is possible Justice Allshie may enter the race for the Senate, it is not thought probable that he will.

OPEN WINTER IS PREDICTED

Wallowa County Farmers Have Not Experienced Cold Weather Yet.

ENTERPRISE, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special).—An open winter for this county is predicted by old residents. There has been no cold weather to date, and farmers have continued their field work with no interruption except from frequent seasonal rains. It is expected that one of the signs the old timers count on is the fact no wild geese have been heard flying south yet. The water fowl pass south in flocks in the marshes of the Par North, and start for a warmer climate when the north freezes up. The fact that they are not flying south yet is taken to mean that cold weather has not set in to the north.

LEGISLATURE IS BERATED

Municipalities League President Says Lawmakers Were Remiss.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—Because the last Legislature of Washington failed to pass several bills proposed for the general benefit of the cities of the state, President Howard A. Hanson, of Seattle, presiding officer of the League of Washington Municipalities, tonight berated the dignitaries of the legislative body in his opening address at the fourth annual convention of the league.

In his address he criticized the lawmakers for their failure to consider those measures endorsed by the state league at its meeting last year. His address was in reply to a speech of welcome by the Mayor.

AMENDMENT IS REJECTED

Women at Independence Better Informed Than Men Voters.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special).—By a vote of 191 to 80 the voters of this city yesterday defeated an amendment to the city charter for a road district within the corporate limits of the city. There was a great deal of misunderstanding in regard to the question.

Out of the total 181 voting there were 48 women and they seemed to be better informed on the question than the men. Mrs. A. J. Cooper, a pioneer 22 years old and walks with a cane to the polls and was one of the most enthusiastic of the voters.

Dayton Gets Parents' Association.

DAYTON, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—County Superintendent Mrs. Mand Tucker was in Steadwick this week, assisting in the organizing of a parents-teachers' association. The patrons of the Steadwick school are generally interested in the work being carried on there. The officers of the newly organized association are W. H. Harrington, president; O. N. Nail, secretary; Mrs. Sam Walters, treasurer, and Miss Willman, chairman of committees. It is planned to hold meetings every two weeks.

Asks Lower Switching Rates.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—Lower switching rates in Walla Walla have been asked on coal and wood and the transportation committee of the Commercial Club met yesterday with Robert Burns, of the O. W. R. & N., and S. B. Calderhead, of the Northern Pacific, to talk over the matter. The committee requested lower rates than the railroad men would grant, and the matter will now be referred to the higher officials.

Wallowa and Walla Men Fined

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—Charges of attempting to kill wild fowl after sundown were preferred at Wallula by County Game Warden Van Ausden against Alex Carnes, of Walla Walla, and F. Priest, of Wallula. The men were fined $10 each.

Whitman College to Enter Teams.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—Whitman College students will enter teams this year in intercollegiate basketball, baseball and track.

FARMERS HAVE BUSY FALL

Grain Acreage Likely to Be Larger and Dairying and Breeding of Pure-Blooded Horses Get Attention.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 20.—(Special).—The interest aroused in alfalfa growing and livestock probably will result in large acreage of alfalfa being planted this winter and early in the Spring. In many instances the alfalfa seed being used in connection with grain, which will enable the farmers to take a grain crop from the land next year.

Other farmers are selecting tracts to be devoted exclusively to alfalfa growing, and the weather conditions are favorable for preparing the seed bed for the new crop.

Another matter receiving the attention of the farmers is the preparation of their fat stock for the livestock show, which will be held at Lewiston December 1 to 8. Central Idaho farmers will be represented with carload exhibits of fat cattle, sheep and hogs, and from many of the communities will come purebred horses, cattle, sheep and hogs to be entered in the purebred classifications.

It is probable the acreage of fall grain in the Central Idaho country will be larger next season than ever before, but there is evidence that the farmers are preparing for a material change in their plans, and that diversified farming will be taken up extensively as soon as the necessary change can be made.

The alfalfa growing probably will be followed by dairying and the raising of cattle and hogs for the markets, and the breeding of purebred horses is receiving much attention in many sections.

Taken all in all, the farmers are experiencing the busiest fall in many years.

The Holden alfalfa campaign came at a time when the farmers were seeking some outlet for the single-crop idea, but paramount among the factors bringing about the change on the farms is the fact that each year the farmers have been demonstrating that the single-crop idea cannot endure.

Franklin Court Day Set.

PASCO, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—November 25 has been announced as the next court day for Franklin County. The session will be held in the Courthouse at Pasco and will be presided over by Judge Preble, of North Yakima, as Judge Holcomb, the local judge, will be unable to attend on account of a jury term which he is holding at Prosser, Wash., for Benton County.

Centralia Surprises Ludin.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special).—William H. Ludin, newly appointed traveling passenger agent of the Great Northern, paid his first visit to Centralia yesterday. Although he has been stationed at the King-street depot in Seattle for the past five years, he had never seen Southwest Washington, and showed great surprise at conditions as he found them.

WALLOWA HAS TAX PUZZLE

State Board and County Assessor at Odds Over Valuations.

ENTERPRISE, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special).—Wallowa County has been greatly agitated during the last week by an unexpected development in regard to its state taxes. Assessor Allen had reported that his assessments were on the basis of 75 per cent of valuations. The State Tax Board, influenced by information obtained from other sources, announced that the basis had been 55 per cent. A storm of protest arose at once, for it was apparent that if the state board's conclusion prevailed, the railroad, telephone, and express assessments for the county will be on the 55 per cent basis, while the state tax on all other property will be increased largely.

Several hundred affidavits of protest by property owners stating that they are assessed at an average of 75 per cent of value have been forwarded to the State Tax Board.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.
