

MARKING PLAYERS MAY BE ACTED ON

Announcing Cause of Penalties Also Suggested Worthy of Northwestern Adoption.

PORTLAND MAY LOSE GAME

Oregon's Football Receipts for Season Said to Be Not in Excess of $500, but Aggies' Results Are More Satisfactory.

When the Northwestern College managers convene in Portland tomorrow for a two-days' schedule meeting the question of numbering football players next Fall may be urged by one or two of the delegates.

When the Midwestern managers met at Chicago recently it was voted to try out the plan in the first two big games of the Fall by each college.

Alonso Stange was appointed to devise a scheme by which officials might indicate to announcers the cause of penalties.

Both schemes are declared to be meritorious and worthy of some consideration by the Northwestern chiefs.

The numbering scheme, so experimented with in the Oregon-Multnomah game Thanksgiving day, proved a marked success.

Unless the two managers get together and agree to a switch of the annual Oregon vs. Oregon Aggie gridiron melee to Thanksgiving day, the state championship game will be played at Albany on November 7, 1914.

That date corresponds with the time of the big game during the campaign just concluded.

A squint over the football schedule possibilities for next year discloses that if the Washington-Oregon game is located in Portland for another year, as planned by the managers, Ralph Horr and Dean Walker, Seattle will have only two games of importance next season, Whitman and Washington State.

It is Washington's turn to journey over to Spokane to meet Idaho, and Manager Larson says he will not go to Seattle until Washington fulfills its obligation to him.

Lamping the situation from all angles, the chances for the Washington vs. Oregon game on Multnomah field in 1914 don't look as bright as they did a few hours back.

Furthermore, Washington apparently will meet the Oregon Aggies in Portland and not show here at all in 1914—and that would be sidetracking quite a hulk of real money.

According to the Eugene Register, the Oregon football season netted hardly more than $500. Manager Walker had expected to soak away about $2000 of velvet from the Multnomah game, but the severe storm spoiled his plans and the Eugene share above expenses was only $700.

The Oregon Aggies fared quite some better. Dr. Stewart's cohorts, or their "cousins" draughted in from approximately $2300 on the black ink side of the ledger.

The Aggies made $2500 on the Oregon game; $1000 on the trip to Seattle; $500 on the Washington State battle, and $400 in the two games with Multnomah Club. The only loss recorded occurred on the two games with Idaho which attracted $500 under expenses.

The weather kept the fans at home. Extra coaching and incidental ate up enough more to reduce the balance to over $3000.

Coach Griffith, of Idaho, has suspended football practice until after the Christmas holidays, which begin December 15. From that date until the Multnomah Club game in Portland, January 1, the boys will be put through two half sessions each day in order to have them back in shape for the post-season set-to.

Pa Conville, Multnomah Club's 195-pound fullback star, evaded an old score against Hugo Besdek on Turkey day, when he helped batter Besdek's Oregon eleven. The ball was resting in the middle of the field when time was up for the first two quarters.

After a four-minute rest the West Side players came back with a rush when within the danger zone the ball was fumbled, depriving Shattuck of a touchdown. With but one minute to go, Coach Griffith ordered Ruddy Wax shot a forward pass to L. Margulis, who raced 39 yards for a score.

Then came the chance for the Shattuck team to win the game by a goal kick, but Wax failed to respond. His kick sailed high and wide of the goal posts, making the score 6 to 0, and remained through the rest of the contest.

Both Threaten Near End. Both elevens threatened to score in the last period with the East Side team. The second quarter was bare of sensational plays, although two forward passes were executed by the Thompson team and one by the Shattuck eleven. JESS WILKINS

Carl Morris Bested in Eight of Ten Rounds in Gotham.

Both Slow and Clumsy

Kansas Heavyweight Outboxes Opponent and Oklahoma Slugger Frequently Is Cautioned for Holding—Crowd Cheers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—In a 10-round bout tonight at Madison Square Garden Jess Willard, of Kansas, defeated Carl Morris, of Oklahoma.

Willard had the better of eight of the 10 rounds, one was fairly even and the other, the third, went to Morris. Willard weighed 235 1/2 pounds and Morris 234 1/2.

The bout was disappointing, as both men were slow and there was a good deal of wrestling and hugging, with very few clean blows.

With the exception of the third round Willard outboxed his opponent, and Morris was cautioned frequently for holding. Both were clumsy, but Willard did the cleverer work. He used a right cross and a right uppercut, while Morris played for the body at close quarters.

Morris floundered at times and seemed to have no judgment of distance. The crowd frequently jeered and booed.

FOOTBALL MONOGRAMS GIVEN

Thirteen Letters Awarded by Agricultural College Board.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 3.—(Special).—The Oregon Agricultural College Athletic Board has awarded football monograms to 13 men who have played in the requisite number of quarters during the season which has just closed.

Those receiving the emblem are J. N. Shaw, of Aberdeen, Wash.; E. J. Chrisman, of Danville, Ky.; Ben Robertson, of Portland; Leo Laythe, of Burns; Herman Abraham, of Albany; Paul Hofer, of Moscow, Idaho; Fred Newburg; Floyd Huntley, of Gold Beach; Everett May, of Portland; Ira Blackwell, of Aberdeen, Wash.; Edward Anderson, of Albany; Brewer Billie, of Astoria, and William Smart, of Santa Ana, Cal.

The student body regulations at O. A. C. require that a man play all four quarters in conference games in order to win the emblem. The number of men successful this year is exceptionally small, in spite of the fact that several of the regulars were on the sick list for periods of considerable length.

"Bill" Smart was the only substitute to play the necessary length of time. Dewey, Rasmussen and Larsen, all of whom won letters in the 1912 season, were unsuccessful this year. Of the new men, Yeager, Hayes and Schuster came close to winning the coveted initial.

SHIEL CAPTAINS DOBIE'S TEAM

Plunging Fullback Will Lead Washington Squad in 1914.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Dec. 3.—(Special).—Walter Shiel, for two years plunging fullback on the University of Washington football team, was unanimously elected captain of the 1914 team yesterday by this year's gridiron "W" winners.

Shiel is a sophomore from Spokane, who made good with Dobie from the start and has not missed a game during his two years at the university. While only five feet ten and weighing but 175 pounds, Shiel's work on the field has been of a most exceptional caliber. He is a hard line plunger, a demon on defense and is level-headed.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Dec. 3.—(Special).—Each day demonstrates more clearly the magnitude and importance of the Northwestern Livestock show which is now being held here. Excellent weather prevails. The greatest throngs of people this city has ever witnessed crowd the streets, and the show grounds.

The annual livestock parade was held this morning, and was unique in character. It was witnessed by 15,000 people.

The slogan is "We welcome all human beings and livestock." The premier attractions were the cavalry and artillery horse which has been on exhibition at the Madison Square Garden Horse Show and the grand display of prize livestock.

Included in the parade were hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls in full regalia, driving teams, beautifully decorated floats and automobiles, four military bands and special features showing the story of the development and progress of the livestock and allied industries of the Northwest.

In the judging of fat stock in car lots being held here to August Schroeder, of Keokuk, Idaho, who again won the honor of having the best car of fat beef for which a prize of $500 is offered.

J. S. Chapman, of Astoria, took second; Frank R. Gooding, of Gooding, third; Knolling & Finch, Soda Springs, Idaho, fourth.

First prize, $250, for car lot of hogs, went to E. S. Sweet, C. Denno, R. Osalia, second; Cy Overman, of Grangeville, Idaho, fourth; John Kennedy, of Caldwell, fourth.

Steers one year and under two—Idaho, first, second and third; Washington State College, fourth. Calf under one year—University of Idaho, first, second and third; Washington State College fourth.

A. D. Dunn, of Wapello, Wash., won first prize with his shorthorn bull.

DOG STEALING GETS O. K. Had Pilfered Canine Not Worn Collar, Fine Not Fixed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—When Dr. Frank Needham, Oak Park, sought a warrant for the arrest of Peter Angstad, charging him with stealing his dog, he was informed that under the laws of Illinois stealing a dog was not an offense, but that the owner might sue for its value.

The physician then obtained a warrant charging Angstad with the theft of a dog collar worn by his dog at the time it was taken.

When brought before Justice Kendall in the Oak Park court Angstad was given the privilege of pleading guilty to disorderly conduct instead of larceny, which he did, and was fined $15 and costs.

OMAR CIGARETTE advertisement. It is not the price you pay that makes a cigarette good, but what is in the cigarette. OMAR is the most pleasing Turkish Blend cigarette that can be made at any price. Turkish Tobacco costs all the way from 10c to $2.50 a pound. A cigarette made of this 10c tobacco would be intensely STRONG, bitter, unpleasant. A cigarette made entirely of $2.50 tobacco would be ALL AROMA—tasteless, insipid, without "body." HIGHEST PRICED Turkish leaf must be blended with OTHER VARIETIES of Turkish Tobacco to get FLAVOR, "BODY" and SUFFICIENT "SNAP" in the cigarette. In selecting the Turkish tobaccos for OMAR we DISREGARDED PRICE—our expert leaf-buyers went to the different districts in Turkey and selected the MOST SUITABLE tobaccos for the blend. The selected Turkish leaf was then blended with domestic tobaccos also chosen for their FITNESS. And the result is a Turkish-Blend that for SMOOTHNESS and MILDNESS could not be improved upon if the price were DOUBLED. OMAR has the attractive "SNAP", LIFE, and CHARACTER of the Turkish-Blend—without the common defect of "blend-roughness." OMAR can be smoked ALL DAY LONG with complete enjoyment. All the KNOWLEDGE, EXPERIENCE and SKILL we have gained in the manufacture of BILLIONS of cigarettes for 25 YEARS have been CONCENTRATED in the production of this PERFECT Turkish Blend cigarette. It takes the MOST COMPLETE TOBACCO ORGANIZATION in the world TO MAKE A cigarette like OMAR. The American Tobacco Co. Package of Twenty FIFTEEN CENTS.
