That Supports You

Here are just a few "Home Recipes for Home Products." They're simple and effective-we know they're good. Try them!

Are You Saving the Labels?

Are YOU spending the money which your husband or brother or father earned in Oregon, here at home-to develop Oregon and Home Industry; or, are you sending it to some Eastern or other state, to develop that state? If you haven't already done so, think this over. You need Oregon-Oregon needs you. It is mutual. SUPPORT THE STATE THAT SUPPORTS YOU!

To stimulate this interest, and as an incentive to have you ask for these articles by name, this Home Industry Page has been organized. To cultivate the "Buying-at-Home Habit," The Oregonian is offering

RABBIT DRIVE PLANNED

With Encroachment of Agriculture on

Sagebrush Area Pest Is Taking to Wheat Fields.

PENDLETON, Or., Dec. 7 .- (Special.) Responding to an appeal from a number of ranchers in the northwestern part of the county for assistance in saving their crops from destruction by jackrabbits, the Pendicton Commercial Association has arranged to as-sist the ranchers in conducting a big drive. The local association purchased the wire for the corral into which the animals are to be driven, and it was sent out to the grounds today.

The corral, with its long wings, is to be erected this week by the ranchers after which the date for the driven.

The stricken section of country is not very large; it lies on the berder between the real wheat-growing section and the semi-arid sagebrush country. The constant extension of the farming section and the irrigated districts has encroached upon the rabbit territory until the long-cared animals have been forced to take to the grain fields along the border line as a matter of self-preservation.

Ranchers for the most part have difficulty in producing their crops under the best conditions and have no means with which to build rabbit-proof fences or to successfully combat the pest without assistance. In some small fields crops have been entirely destroyed and in many others serious inroads have been made.

EVICTION STORY DENIED

Rev. Mr. Hughes asserts there was evidence of the ground having been worked at the time. He also charges that the Chamberlins used articles belonging to the mining company and says his efforts to have the district at-torney, then William Levins, take up the matter, met with failure
