

SUFFRAGE "ARMY" WAITS ON WILSON

After Interview With President Women Go Forth to Ponder.

ISSUE FOR PARTY, HE SAYS

Delegation Is Advised by Nation's Executive That He Favors Standing Committee, but Personal Ideas Are Withheld.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Woman suffrage confronted President Wilson in the person today of 69 members of the National Woman Suffrage Association who pleaded that he use his influence with Congress to obtain the ballot for the women of the Nation. It was the first time the President had been brought face to face with the issue in a formal way. He told his callers that whatever may be his ideas on woman suffrage or any other subject, he had made it a rule not to urge anything upon Congress that had not been the subject of "organic consideration" by the democratic party, of which he considered himself the spokesman.

Standing Committee Favored.

The President said that when members of Congress consulted him he would freely give his views, and he added that, having already been asked his opinion about the organization of a standing committee in the House of Representatives to consider woman suffrage, he had expressed himself in favor of such a committee.

Some of the members of the delegation were disappointed, some felt encouraged, others were not-committal. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw expressed the view that the President's indorsement of the idea of a special committee in the House was all that could have been expected under these circumstances. It was a quiet, earnest group of suffragettes who visited the President in the White House offices. Most of them had walked to the White House through a freezing gale. They constituted the special committee appointed by the convention of the National organization to wait until the President's recovery from his illness and they marched to the White House to plead their cause.

Dr. Shaw Is Speaker.

"This is to be no mere handshaking affair," remarked one of the leaders to the assembled group. "Dr. Shaw will do all the talking and the handshaking too."

It was said that she who spoke remembered a visit of New Jersey suffragettes who took the President a message on woman suffrage and shook hands with him but got no reply.

The President nodded pleasantly to the women as they formed in a circle around him and Dr. Shaw stepped forward. In a low voice she told in a straightforward, simple way how unavailing had been the frequent pilgrimages of the women suffrage workers heretofore and how committees of Congress had listened courteously but had buried their case. She appealed to the President, "in the spirit of justice," to urge Congress by message to adopt an amendment to the Federal Constitution to be submitted to the states that would give women the right to vote throughout the land. She suggested three ways for the President to help the cause of suffrage—by a special message on the subject, by signing it in any general message he might send, or the use of his influence to obtain the appointment of a standing committee in the House of Representatives to consider the subject as the Senate had done.

Personal Views Not Given.

The President listened in silence. He had not been asked for his own view on woman suffrage, he did not give it to them. On the proposal to send a message to Congress he cited his rule of adhering to party policies, intimating that when consulted by members of Congress he might give his views freely.

There was a pause after the President finished speaking, all of having not been quite satisfied, and Dr. Shaw resumed:

"Since we are not members of any political party," she asked, "who is going to speak for us—there is no one to speak for us—"

"I realize that," interjected the President.

"Unless we speak for ourselves."

"And you do that very admirably," rejoined Mr. Wilson and a general laugh broke the solemnity of the occasion.

"I should like to shake hands with as many of you as want," added the President, smilingly and several women stepped forward. Others backed and drifted out of the office. Those who stayed behind spoke cordially to the President of his courtesy in receiving the delegation and some referred to having voted for him in suffrage states. The women filed out and posed for a picture and went forth into the open air in threes and fours to ponder over what the President had said.

ROSOLYN, Wash., Dec. 8.—(Special).—A falling cap rock in mine No. 3, of the Northwestern Improvement Company at Roslyn, near here, caught John Semcovich and Joe Oller beneath its weight, killing Semcovich instantly and probably fatally injuring Oller. Both men were recent arrivals in this field and little is known concerning them. The accident is only the second of its kind to have occurred in this field in more than a year. There are several thousand men working in the eight mines of the district.

JOSEPHINE TAX $43,819

County's Contribution to State Three Times Legal Levy Last Year.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Dec. 8.—(Special).—Josephine County will have to raise and transmit to Salem $43,819.86 as its part of the state contribution for taxes. This amount is three times last year's legal levy upon the county. In order to raise the sum demanded a 4-mill levy has been made upon the county's assessable valuation, which has been placed at $11,059,919.99. For county expenses it will take 2 mills for school district 3 1/2 mills, which, with the city levy of 7 mills, will make the total reach 28 1/2 mills.

The public utilities that will assist in paying the taxes are the Oregon & California Railroad, which comes in for a valuation of $1,762,268. The company has 42 miles of road, valued at $40,609 a mile. The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company is the second largest utility company operating, and its taxes will be based upon an assessed valuation of $46,956. Other large companies are California-Oregon Power Company, fixed at $42,190; Wells-Fargo Company, $28,579; Pullman Company, $18,115.39; Western Union Telegraph, $12,559.

ARSENAL GAINS SHOWN

ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT PROFITS BY NEW MANAGEMENT SYSTEM.

Brigadier-General Crozier Thinks Congress Made Mistake in Ordering Competition With Powder Makers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A vindication of new management systems in Government arsenals is the feature of the annual report of Brigadier-General William Crozier, chief of ordnance. Under the plans of paying premiums over and above regular wages, amounting to $22,000 during 17 months, machinists and molders in the Watertown arsenal have increased the amount of their work two and a half to three times.

General Crozier points out that not only is time gained in that way and much pay saved, but large economies are effected in overhead charges. At the Frankford arsenal, the report says, by manufacturing artillery ammunition and small arms ammunition instead of buying from private manufacturers, a saving of more than $1,500,000 was made during the year.

The report announces the ordnance bureau has designed a number of powerful 12-inch mortars of new design for the Panama Canal fortifications, which tests show to have a maximum range of more than 13 miles, compared with eight and a half miles for the most powerful type formerly in use.

RECEIVER ASKS INQUIRY

WEST RESIGNS AS HEAD OF ST. LOUIS & SAN FRANCISCO.

Transactions of Those Associated With Road May Present Grave Questions, Declares Judge Sanborn.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—Walter H. Sanborn, Judge of the United States Circuit Court, today accepted the resignation of Thomas H. West, a receiver of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad. Mr. West was one of the syndicate of 93 that promoted the Brownsville road and sold it to the Frisco. The resignation of Mr. West was written December 2. Mr. West in his letter of resignation invites a full and free inquiry into the affairs of the railroad.

Judge Sanborn in his letter accepting the resignation said transactions of the railroad and some of those associated with it before the receivership may present grave questions in the future administration of the property, which could better be met by a receiver without previous knowledge of them.

Judge Sanborn appointed James W. Lusk, an attorney of St. Paul, to succeed Mr. West as receiver. The other two receivers are W. B. Biddle and W. C. Nixon, both of St. Louis, and in charge, respectively, of the traffic and operating departments of the road.

CARPENTIER WINS TITLE

FRENCHMAN KNOCKS OUT WELLS IN FIRST ROUND AT LONDON.

Victor Takes Heavyweight Championship of Europe, Purse of $15,000 and Side Stake of $5000.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—George Carpentier, of France, knocked out Bombarrier Wells, of England, in the first round of a contest at the National Sporting Club tonight for the heavyweight championship of Europe.

The time of fighting was one minute, 13 seconds. Carpentier made it a hurricane affair, concentrating his attack on Wells' stomach and soon had the Englishman groggy. Then with a tremendous swing to the jaw, followed by a smashing left and right to the ribs, Carpentier sent Wells down for the count.

Throughout the brief contest the Englishman did not strike one effective blow. The fight was for a purse of $15,000 and a side stake of $5000. It attracted great interest among sporting men because it was the second meeting between the British heavyweight and the Frenchman within a few months. Their last fight took place at Ghent, and Carpentier knocked Wells out in the fourth round after the Englishman had had all the better of the first two rounds.

Western Cattlemen Protest.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Protests from Western cattlemen that fresh meat from Argentina and other countries was being marketed plainly to distinguish it from American meat resulted in the passage of a resolution by the Senate today calling on the Department of Agriculture for information.

Canadian Loan Goes Begging.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Eighty-three per cent of the Canadian government loan of $20,000,000 issued at 97, was left in the hands of the underwriters. The poor public response seems to have been due to a prevalent feeling that Canadian borrowing has been much overdone.
