French Promoter Wants Charge of ex-Champion to Meet Winner of Langford - Jeannette Battle. Fight for Title Is Plan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17 .- (Special.) -"Arthur Pelkey will draw the color any part of the world."

The statement was made by Burns after he had glanced at a cable message sent to him from Paris by Leon See, the French promoter, who wants Pelkey to meet the winner of the Langford-Jeannette bout, soon to be staged in the French capital.

It is evident that Burns means business, for he immediately cabled See that he would not consider this offer, although the Frenchman is willing to hang up a purse of $20,000 for the bat-

When Foxhall Keene's team was licked in 1902 he took polo in hand, threw his immense wealth in hand, threw his immense wealth into the game, retained the brothers Waterbury and Devereaux Milburn, with the result that his Big Four trounced Burlingham in 1909 and brought the Westchester cup across the Atlantic. The team has since defended successfully. Louis Stoddard likely will be the new captain. His chief quality is a long purse.
