—And see how much real shoe-goodness is built into our shoes.
—Not every shoe dealer, of course, can afford to give such advice, as shoes in the average sales around town cannot bear such close inspection—but the shoes in this sale WILL stand such inspection—even by shoe experts. Their material and workmanship are just as excellent as their pleasing lines and finish. And when you buy such "real shoe goodness" in shoes at

San Francisco Charge to Have Right-of-Way—Young Man Laughs at Miss Meyers' Denial They Were Engaged.

DENVER, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—John R. Dew, the debonair young prisoner arrested at the Albany Hotel here for impersonating Adolphus Busch, of St. Louis, will be extradited to San Francisco if plans made today are not changed. A warrant has been issued in the Coast city charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. It is considered that the San Francisco case against Dew is stronger than the one in Denver, as the only charge that can be placed against him here is "harrowing" under false pretenses. Dew declared in jail today that he had no hope of regaining the confidence of Wilma Meyers, the daughter of a wealthy Los Angeles man, who he says was engaged to marry him. A denial in Portland by Miss Meyers that there was an engagement caused him to laugh. "I guess her letters are evidence enough," he declared. He referred to letters he turned over to the police and which are couched in most endearing terms. Dew takes the situation calmly. He declares he knew he would be caught some day, but that it was so easy to obtain money by representing himself as a member of the millionaire St. Louis brewing family he could not resist. He refused to discuss his divorce record in St. Louis. "That has nothing to do with this case, but I do not intend to involve others," he said. Asked again who the St. Louis married woman was who he says caused his downfall, he said: "A gentleman never gives the lady's name." GIRL DENIES ENGAGEMENT—Miss Meyers Says Dew Seems Bent on Spreading Report. That J. R. Dew has repeatedly asserted that he was engaged to marry her, although she has no more than a passing acquaintance with him, was the statement of Miss Wilma Meyers, 585 Twentieth street, North, last night. She said she met Dew in Los Angeles. The Meyers recently moved here from California. "I think Mr. Dew must be crazy," she said, laughing. "We were good friends, in a way, although I never thought of marrying him. But the first thing I heard when I arrived in Portland was that we were engaged. He seems bent on spreading the report all over the United States. "I met him in Los Angeles last summer. He was a nice boy, but you know he is only about 20 years old. This talk about my sending him home to make a man of himself is all the work of his own imagination." Klamath Falls Club Elects. KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce resulted in the choice of George J. Walton as president and W. T. Lee as vice-president for the year. The local directors are Sid B. Evans, R. E. Smith, Charles Graves, H. J. Darling, Charles Martin, Leslie Rogers, Charles F. De Lap, J. W. Siemens and H. J. Savidge. From outside Klamath Falls, J. Frank Adams, Merrill, F. W. Broadword, Bonanza, and James Felton, of Fort Klamath, were elected.
