

SALEM OFFICIALS JUST REEMPLOYED

Capital City Splits in Twain "Army" and Escorts Each Division to Limits.

ONLY 4 OF 40 LIKE WORK

Chief of Police Says He Has All Roads Leading to City Guarded and Next "Army" Will Not Be Allowed to Enter.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The city council members were not sincere in their demands for work and that they were here to foment trouble and to encourage idleness, the Salem authorities today made short shift of the I. W. W. "army," which had been commissaried and sheltered in the capital city since Sunday afternoon.

The hungry horde of non-toilers began getting on the nerves last night of Salem residents, who have to work hard themselves to make a living, and the town was astray early today.

Chief of Police Shedeck received his orders early to tell the men to move out of town, but before he could put them into effect four of the invaders had been arrested for ordering meals in restaurants and being unable to pay for them. About a dozen others who entered restaurants also were arrested.

The chief then marched to the Army, where the men slept last night, and informed those who remained that they were to leave town, and that they were to be fed before they departed, and the chief said he would see about that.

Army Escorted Out of Town. About 35 members of the "army" appeared at the police station and insisted upon being fed or locked up. The chief again told them they would have to leave town, and after a parley of several minutes agreed to feed them. They were fed in the basement of the City Hall, after which they were marched on the Oregon Electric tracks to the southern limits of the city and informed to keep marching.

Those who had been arrested and others who came in from city institutions where they were held until late in the afternoon, when they were led to the Southern Pacific tracks, and the city limits, and warned not to return to the city. The "army" having been split in twain and told to keep moving, Salem rested more comfortably tonight.

Chief of Police Shedeck learned that the detachment had obtained shelter in a hop barn near the southern limits of the city, and the other one had prepared to pass the night in an old building near the reform school, on the Southern Pacific line.

That the men would not work was thoroughly demonstrated, so the Salem authorities declared. Governor West sent 40 of them to state institutions Monday morning, agreeing to see that they were paid $1 a day, from which $4 was to be taken for board, and if they had taken interest in their work he intended that they wanted employment, it is safe to say that others would have been handled.

Many Get Jobs; Four Stuck. However, ten of the men, after being provided with a good dinner at the People-Minded Institute, returned to the city, declaring that the accommodations did not suit them. Ten who were sent to the asylum farm worked hard yesterday, but late this afternoon began complaining, and Superintendent Steiner informed them if they did not like their jobs they could quit. They quit, each receiving $1. Six of the ten men given work at the tuberculosis institute quit tonight.

A detachment of the "army," although the superintendent had provided work for them for a week or more.

But 40 men given work only four have evinced a desire to continue making their living, and the superintendent of the tuberculosis institute, where they are employed, believes they will remain.

The chief of Police declared tonight that he had all the roads leading into the city well guarded, and he had no fear any of the men would return and commit depredations. He also declared that he would see that the other "army" which left Portland yesterday headed for Salem, did not enter the city.

EUGENE UTILITIES PAY

Statements Show Municipal Light and Water Plants Earn $95,131.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Eugene water and light plants, owned and operated by the city, earned $95,131 during the year ended December 31, 1913, according to statements made public this morning. Of this amount $46,900 was spent in operating expenses; $21,204 in interest and $26,825 in extensions and betterments of the plants. The water plant has been operated by the city less than three years and the electric plant was put in operation only a little more than two years ago.

Besides serving light and power to 1322 customers, the electric plant furnishes 243 street lamps of 106-watt tungsten type, and 52 ornamental post-lights.

STREET OPENING UPHELD

Walla Walla Council Will Not Block Improvement Despite Protests.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Following a meeting with property owners, the city council today tested against the opening of Pine street because of an alleged unequal assessment. The city commissioners this morning stated it will not block the opening of the street.

Mayor Gilis announced that O. W. E. & N. Company officials are trying to get the Elm-street condemnation suit dropped and offer to pay a share of the expenses of opening Pine street, which is parallel to Elm, and does not cross the railroad yards, as does Elm.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY IS ISSUE

Lumber Workers Consider Resolution at Aberdeen.

workers in all branches of the timber industry.

No action is expected from the resolutions committee until Friday or Saturday, though there is talk tonight that the resolution will come in tomorrow so that ample time for debate can be provided.

Sentiment in favor of the resolution appears strong in the convention. Antislavery sentiment, however, appears just as strong, and delegates today said that even if the resolution should be adopted, authority to strike in the event the demand should not be granted by employers would likely be withheld. A strike in any event would be a last resort, it was declared.

Coupled with the request for an eight-hour day will be a proposal probably agreeing to accept a proportionate cut in wages. The working day is now 10 hours, and delegates expressed their

CIVIC DISORDER IS TARGET OF HEPPNER'S NEW MAYOR.

W. W. Smead. HEPPNER, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—W. W. Smead, the new Mayor of Heppner, assumed his official duties January 12, and appointed J. R. McGraw the new Marshal, to succeed M. C. Smith, whose official act became an issue at the last election. Marshal McGraw is a brother of A. H. McGraw, who was killed at Whitney, Baker County, last year.

The Mayor, on taking office, instructed the Marshal to prevent disorder by the saloon element. He asked endorsement from the Council, and recommended that the City Recorder be placed on a flat salary instead of that of an official receiving a part of all fines levied. The Mayor has requested a financial statement monthly. This has not been forthcoming heretofore.

Heppner is unwilling to ask at this time 10 hours' pay for eight hours' work. The only resolution of importance adopted today was one calling for the use of ventilating fans in shingle mills so that the air of the plants could be cleared of the sawdust, which, it is stated, has an injurious effect on shingle workers. The contest over the first vice-presidency, A. I. McCall contesting, has not yet reached a head. The convention is largely attended.

CITIZENS' TICKET WINS

TWO MEDFORD COUNCILMEN RE- CALLED AT CITY ELECTION.

Several Administration Candidates Lose—Women's Vote Heavy. Contest May Result. MEDFORD, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The city election today resulted in a victory for the Citizens' ticket. Councilman Miller in the Third Ward was recalled. Dr. Hargrave, the Citizens' candidate, winning by a vote of 283 to 244, and Councilman Stewart in the Second Ward was recalled. V. J. Emerick winning 388 to 309.

Councilman Mitchell, who ran for re-election in the First Ward, was defeated by F. V. Medynski by 83 votes. In a large field Elmer Foss, City Recorder, was re-elected by a large majority and G. Samuels was re-elected City Treasurer. The other members of the Citizens' ticket elected were T. W. Miles, Councilman in the Third Ward, and Colonel H. H. Sargent, Councilman in the Second Ward.

The women lined up throughout the city in the primary fight. The administration forces threaten to contest the result.

A strong effort will be made, however, to forestall this action. Present returns indicate the passage of the charter amendment cutting off the salaries of the Mayor and City Recorder. The amendments granting the California-Oregon Power Company a 25-year franchise has apparently passed. The $55,000 water bonds are, according to present returns, snowed under.

MANIAC KILLED IN FIGHT

Man From Portland Meets Death at Salem Battling With Attendant.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Frank E. Wallace, an inmate of the insane asylum, committed from Portland, today gave his occupation as a soldier, and was engaged in a fight with an attendant, Whitney, an attendant today. Wallace, it is said, frequently attacked attendants.

While he was polishing the floor in the day ward early today Whitney approached and asked him a question. Wallace jumped upon the attendant and a rough and tumble fight of several minutes resulted. Finally Wallace was thrown to the floor, his abdomen striking a polishing block which he had been using. Other attendants went to the assistance of Whitney, but their help was not of avail.

Wallace's groans indicated that he had been severely injured and a physician found that several of his ribs had been fractured and that he was injured internally. He lived about two hours.

Records at the asylum give Wallace's place of birth as New York. He served as a soldier in the Philippines and his wife lives in Bellingham, Wash., and was committed from Portland May 12, 1913.

HOTEL MEN PLEAD GUILTY

Sale of Liquor on Sunday Is Admitted at Pendleton.

PENDLETON, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—George Darveau, Gus La Fountain and John Fouts, prominent hotel and restaurant men, arrested last July by members of Governor West's moral squad, today changed their pleas of not guilty to guilty and were fined $50 each.

They were charged with selling liquor on Sunday and were given the minimum fine.

WOMAN DESCRIBES TREATMENT BY MOB

Mrs. Ross Says Men Made Her Walk Half Mile Through Mud and Ice Water.

NOOSES BARELY ESCAPED

Deportation Victim Charges Attack on Herself and Sons Is Outcome of Feud Between Clans in North River District.

HOOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The two factions or clans live in the North River district is the charge made by Mrs. Margaret M. Ross, who says the attack on herself and her two sons is the result of activity against the Howard faction, whereby several of the members lost public offices. The trouble has been brewing since an election several months ago between her two sons and one of the residents of the section.

Of the trip Sunday night from her ranch after her house and barn had been burned by the mob, Mrs. Ross gave further details tonight. "I was wearing a gingham dress, as I had none of my heavy clothes at the ranch," said Mrs. Ross. "My sons and myself were not more than 15 feet from the door of the house when no less than seven of the mob were at our backs with their guns almost pushing us along. Others set to work at the house and barn, wrecking them and then set fire to the barn. One of the men rapped at his door. They took us to the barn and his team was already harnessed. When we were ready to start he asked if he was to have an escort and four saddle-horses, already saddled, were found in the barn. I recognized these horses, just as I did at least 10 of the men."

"I refused to go into the barn, as we learned they had nooses ready for us in the barn. They put in a wagon and started for the Chehalis County line. When we passed the ranch of Mrs. Ed Vaughn, the postmistress, a friend of mine, I asked for help and clothing. I was nearly frozen. Most of my clothing was at Mrs. Vaughn's where I left my extra suits when I went to the ranch. The contest over the first vice-presidency, A. I. McCall contesting, has not yet reached a head. The convention is largely attended.

"I rode the remaining eight miles to the McCormack place in my cold, wet clothing. I was suffering terribly by the time we reached the ranch. "We could not get back to South Bend through the district, as we could not get horses because of the danger to anyone who would aid us. We came out to the harbor and I shall go to South Bend tomorrow and sweat out the warrants for the members of the mob."

WARRANTS TO BE SWORN OUT.

"My son threw up his hands and caught the rope. If he had not done so and the rope had caught he would undoubtedly have shot the man, for he had a Colt's revolver in his hand, and he had concealed under his clothing."

"So I rode the remaining eight miles to the McCormack place in my cold, wet clothing. I was suffering terribly by the time we reached the ranch. "We could not get back to South Bend through the district, as we could not get horses because of the danger to anyone who would aid us. We came out to the harbor and I shall go to South Bend tomorrow and sweat out the warrants for the members of the mob."

WOOL BY CANAL LIKELY

IDAHO MEN CONSIDER ROUTING SHIPMENTS BY PORTLAND.

Ex-Governor Gooding Tells Association in Session at Boise That Plan Means Big Saving. BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Idaho wool may be shipped to Eastern markets via the Panama Canal when it is opened, going from Idaho points by rail to Portland and taking the waterway across the Isthmus. The Idaho Woolgrowers' Association, which closed its annual session here today, discussed the transportation feature of the wool business.

Ex-Governor Gooding made the statement to the growers that a great saving could be made by sheepmen by routing their wool by way of the canal.

The large meat and packing companies of the East were denounced by the sheepmen for monopolizing trade.

COUSIN OF POLICEMAN WISE, LONG ILL, DIES.

Oscar Leonard Holman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Holman, 710 Albion avenue, died at 10 o'clock Saturday night after an illness of several months. Mr. Leonard was 21 years and 11 months old. He was known by a great number of family friends in Portland and at Moro, where his father was engaged in farming for a number of years.

Mr. Holman attended the Portland public schools. He was a cousin to Patrolman Holman of the police department. The funeral will take place Wednesday from the family residence.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Louise Poggensee, 10 years old,

NEW MAYOR OF HAMMOND ADVOCATES WATERWORKS.

Preston Kuhns. FORT STEVENS, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Preston Kuhns, the new Mayor of Hammond, Or., is a past commander of the commandant of the Knights Templars of Vancouver, Wash., and has been in the employ of the United States Government for 40 years.

His election by a large majority is conceded to be largely attributable to the women's organizations of the City of Hammond, who endorsed his candidacy.

Among the improvements he advocates for the city is the installation of a new water system in co-operation with the citizens of Warrenton, who are planning to build a pipe line conveying their water supply from the Lewis and Clark River. He hopes to interest the Warrenton water authorities in the proposed water system, that a better supply may be brought to Fort Stevens. Mayor Kuhns also proposes to change the charter of Hammond to permit the voting of improvements by the city. He also proposes the installation of a telephone system and a more economical lighting system.

W. C. SPENCER IS INDICTED

Grand Jury Sitting at Coquille Acts on Alleged Forgeries.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—W. C. Spencer was indicted today by the grand jury at Coquille on charges of forgery and of obtaining money under false pretenses. Spencer is charged with forging the signature of Howard Brett, a cripple, with one arm and one leg gone, as a result of an accident in a logging camp, drew the checks which Spencer passed on the Marshfield merchants at Christmas time, and that Brett called merchants on the telephone and represented himself to be E. G. Forham, whose supposed signature the checks carried.

Brett is now at Coquille under subpoena and will be investigated tomorrow. Spencer's story of Brett's implication has been related to the grand jury by Herbert Smith of Bandon, who was discharged by the jury after having been investigated on statutory charges and no true bill found.

ODD MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Cottage Grove Character Dies in Lonely Shack.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Jake Yalnek, an odd character, who had been a resident of the Cottage Grove country for a number of years, was found dead in his shack here Friday. Death appeared to have been from natural causes and no inquest was held.

The body was discovered by Mrs. August Labach. Mr. Yalnek was an Austrian, could speak little English, was about 55 years old, and has no relatives known as is known here. He had been a naturalized citizen since 1890, and at one time owned a ranch in the Lorane Valley. The ranch was sold for taxes, the owner declaring that the Government had given him the land and that he didn't have to pay taxes. Not a penny was found on his person or in the house, although he always paid cash for all purchases.

FIREMEN END WORK

Banquet Marks Disbanding of Albany Volunteer Corps.

EVENTFUL HISTORY TOLD

Many Men Prominent in Public Life Former Members of Department That Steps Aside for Paid Workers.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Albany's volunteer fire department formally died tonight after 45 years of successful service and an eventful history. The department has been abolished by ordinance of the City Council and replaced by a paid department.

A banquet attended by 150 members of the department and exempt firemen, held in Moose Hall, marked the end of the volunteer fire corps' career.

The Albany fire department established many noteworthy records in the old days of horse races and other contests between the firemen of various cities. It won honors in almost every city of the Pacific Northwest and in 1888, in a big meet at Tacoma, Wash., captured the Northwest championship and established a world's record in laying hose and obtaining water at a certain distance. Three of the members of that championship team are now in Albany. They are J. E. Ross, Calvin Watson and Burr Sloan.

First Company Formed in 1869. Albany Engine Company, No. 1, was organized at a meeting held in the Lion County Courthouse, January 4, 1869, a preliminary meeting having been held December 15, 1868. Joseph Webber, who died a few years ago in Portland and who had been a member of the paid department in San Francisco, was a moving spirit in forming the organization. On February 25 the City Council of Albany ordered the purchase of an old hand fire engine, hose carts, etc., appropriating $2000 for that purpose.

Webber knew of a second-hand engine that could be obtained in San Francisco and it was purchased, arriving here May 17, 1869. Linn Engine Company, No. 2, was formed in 1875. An effort was made at the time to form a hook and ladder company and C. H. Stewart, now manager of the Albany Commercial Club, who is a former chief of the fire department and was an active fireman for many years, carried a petition for its organization. The meeting, however, voted for the engine company.

The hook and ladder company and the chemical engine company were organized at a meeting held in the Lion County Courthouse, January 4, 1880, a preliminary meeting having been held December 15, 1868.
