PLYMOUTH, England, Jan. 16 .- Two officers and nine men, the crew of the British submarine "A-7." are trapped tonight in their craft beneath the waters of Whitesand Bay, about five miles southwest of Plymouth. Whether the men are dead or alive has not been established, but navy officials expressed the opinion tonight

The "A-7" was in charge of Lieu tenant Gilbert M. Welman. A number of the seamen aboard were making their first trip in a submarine.

Whether the submarine's machinery Potomac Valley Residents Attribute became disabled or whether she tore a hole in herself on some sun'en ob ject is the merest speculation. Navil officers estimate that in case the vessel's hull has not been punctured the men on board her might live. The Navy men say the crew might live 12 hours.

This is the sixth submarine of class government ought not to abandon this type of boat in favor of the more modern vessels of the "C" and "D" classes.

Craft Bullt in 1904.

The "A-7" was built in 1904 and engines developed 600 horsepower, dam. which gave her a surface speed of 18 knots and a submerged speed of nine knots.

Of the class "A" submarine which have caused the British government grievous losses in men through accident were the A-1, wrecked in 1904, on board which 12 men were drowned; the A-5, in 1905, with a loss of four lives; the A-8, in 1906, when 15 men perished.

Author of Proposed Law Confers With President but Disclaims It Is to Be Official Administration Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 .- Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, after a conference with President Wilson, introduced late today an amendment to the Sherman law which would make illegal the monopolization of restraint of trade "in any degree."

It is designed to eliminate the "rule of reason" laid flown by the Supreme Court in the Standard Oil case. The amendment also would invest the Circuit Courts of the United States with the jurisdiction to restrain and preof the Attorney-General.

It was drawn to meet the wish of the President, expressed in his last message to Congress to reduce the debatable area surrounding the Sherman

Three Words Inserted.

Representative Stanley discussed the measure with the Presid at today, and previously had corresponded with him on the subject. The Kentucky member, who was chairman of the special committee which investigated the United States Steel Corporation, does not offer the measure as an Adminisbe of service to the committee of Congress which will draft the anti-trust legislation after the President's special trust message is delivered next week.

The Stanley bill would amend the second and fourth sections of the Sherman law. In section 2, into which the Supreme Court injected the "rule of reason," the words "in any degree" are inserted so that the section would read:
