REDUCTION ORDER IS CANCELED

The order of the County Commissioners mandating a reduction in the wages of the bridge foremen, carpenters and laborers was countermanded yesterday and the employees will receive the same salary through the winter. They were allowed after the increase was ordered last September. Last summer a meeting of the Multnomah County Board in December approved an order which was passed raising the pay to $6, $4 and $3 for the respective classes. The December order, which was to become effective January 1, reduced the pay to the old figures. The higher figures are the prevailing scale, Superintendent of Bridges, reported, and first-class men cannot be secured for less, he said, because the city and general contractors are paying the higher scale.

HIGHWAY REPRESENTATIVES MEET

Representatives from East Side organizations have been invited to attend a meeting of the Multnomah County Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday afternoon. The object of this organization is to secure a branch of the Pacific Highway along the river road on the east side of the Willamette. Part of this road has been built south from Milwaukie nearly to Clackamas River and covered with crushed rock, and it is urged that it would be a direct route to the proposed bridge.

REGISTRATION SYSTEM APPROVED

Because of a general mixup in the system of handling registrations and supplies in the office of the City Engineer, the City Commission are trying to straighten out affairs by culling out some of the features of the old system and substituting a new one. Several days ago with a special committee appointed to adjust affairs. The committee, headed by Commissioner Bigelow, reported to the Commission yesterday and the report was adopted.

DANCEHALL PROPOSED

Portland may have a municipal dancehall similar to the municipal hall being operated in Cleveland. Following suggestions from residents of the city interested in dancing, City Commissioner Bigelow has obtained reports of the system of conducting the halls in the East. The reports show the places to be successful financially and also morally. Commissioner Bigelow will then his information over to Commissioner Brown, who has charge of the Park Department, and will suggest a dancehall such a dancehall would come.

ISAIAH BUCKMAN'S FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of Isaiah Buckman, who died Wednesday night at the Park Apartments, Albina avenue, near Killingsworth avenue, will be conducted today at 10 o'clock in the chapel of A. R. Zeller Company, 234 Williams avenue. The interment will be in Oswego cemetery. Mr. Buckman had been a resident of this city for 40 years. His holdings are extensive, although he has been disposing of his property, the largest recent sale being the Alameda tract some months ago.

CITY SAVES CARPENTRY

Under a new system of the City Commission less care is being used now than previously, necessary repairs were made yesterday by City Commissioner Dieck. The reduction of the amount is the result of an order against the use of city car tickets by employees going to and from work in the mornings and evenings. Up to the time of the recent order there was no check on the way the tickets were expended. Now every ticket has to be accounted for.

CITY TO REPAIR DAMAGE

The city will be required to replace and repair a chimney on the corner of Marquam Gulch which were damaged by a mud slide there last Sunday. This was the decision yesterday of City Attorney LaRoche after an investigation. The mud slide came from a hill across the gulch made by the city. It is now up to repairing the building the city will commence at once to block up the hill to prevent future slides.

JUDGES DISAGREE ON FINE

On the recommendation of Deputy City Attorney Myers, Judge Morrow yesterday reduced the fine of Carry Sing and Ah Lee, charged with conducting a gambling game, from $200 to $50. The defendants were found guilty in Municipal Court and fined $200 by Judge Stevenson. They were permitted to appeal and fined the lesser amount by Judge Morrow.

JUDGE GATENS SAYS FRASER INSTITUTION IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

Fraser Detention Home is in a dangerous condition, Circuit Judge Gatens reported to the County Commission yesterday. The request was made that the Commissioners have improvements made there to comply with the requirements of the State of Oregon. The report was laid on the table, pending the receipt of information as to whether or not funds set aside for the purpose would be sufficient to meet the requirements. The electric wiring throughout the building is defective, Judge Gatens reports. Other improvements needed, according to Chief Dowell's recommendations, are a standard fire escape on the west side of the building, a large door to replace a window leading from the main sleeping room to the porch, a new ladder from one of the porches to the ground, and a rack on which to keep the attic hoist.
