County Commissioner then goes to hospital for operation.

Official Tells Grand Jury of Alleged Effort to Bribe Him When Interstate Bridge Contract Was Up.

Before going to the hospital yesterday for an operation, County Commissioner Hart reported that the grand jury and told his story about the efforts to bribe him in connection with the choice of a designing and consulting engineer for the construction of the new Columbia River Interstate bridge.

Mr. Hart's story is worth the most thorough investigation, and we shall not drop the matter until we have acquired into every possible phase of the matter. We owe this investigation to the interstate bridge commission and to Multnomah and Clark County.

During the interim between meetings of the interstate bridge commission at which the selection of a designing engineer was under discussion, Commissioner Hart reported that he was approached by representatives of three of the competing firms, two of them offering him $1000 and the third $1500 for his vote.

The commissioner's refusal to choose Waddell & Harrington for the position. Mr. Hart has refused to di-
