Refuge Is Sought on German Vessel.

CONFLICT STARTS AT CAPITAL

Rebel Forces Try to Capture Port au Prince.

LEGATION UNDER GUARD

Arrival of American and Teutonic Cruisers Relieves Anxiety Regarding Foreigners—Battle-ship Racing to Scene.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Jan. 27.—The president of Haiti, Michel Oreste, fled from the capital today and took refuge aboard the German cruiser Vineta.

Fighting began in the city at 1 o'clock this afternoon. An hour later the president left the palace under escort and was conveyed in a launch to the warship lying in the harbor.

President's Life in Danger.

Firing continued throughout the afternoon and it was evident that the revolutionary movement, which began in the North and spread to some of the Southern towns, has gained sufficient strength in the capital to threaten not only the power, but the life of President Oreste.

The new Congress, which met in extraordinary session yesterday, failed to take adequate measures to check the revolution. It had been conceded for a long time, however, the position of the executive was weak. Opposed to him were Senator Davilaire Theodore, in command of the rebel troops at Cape Haitien, and General Bellard, both of whom have a strong following.

Abdication Plan Abandoned.

It was the intention of Oreste to abdicate several days ago, but later he declined to do so, hoping with the aid of Congress to prevent the overthrow of his administration.

The arrival of the Montana and Vineta has relieved the situation here so far as foreign residents are concerned. The legations are now under guard.

BATTLESHIP SPEEDS TO SCENE

Montana's Force Believed Adequate to Protect Foreigners.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The battleship South Carolina was started tonight by Rear-Admiral Badger commanding, on a 600-mile run at top speed from Guantanamo, Cuba, to Port au Prince, warning from American Minister Smith of the purpose of President Oreste to abdicate and had in a measure, prepared the United States fleet at Guantanamo, who had been in wireless communication with the cruiser Montana. The dispatch said:

"The President of Haiti has abdicated, leaving no government. The Montana has landed 150 men, her deck force, to safeguard the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners. A German cruiser at Port au Prince was also landing a force at the same time. The South Carolina is leaving for Port au Prince. Captain Russell will act in his discretion for the protection of lives and property, assisting the force already landed if it becomes necessary."

An senior naval officer on the scene, Captain Russell will direct the operations of the international force. No specific instructions will be sent to him from Washington as Secretary Daniels said tonight he had utmost confidence in Captain Russell's discretion and ability to deal with the difficult situation. The Captain was Judge Advocate-General of the Navy until he was detailed for sea duty recently.

POPE FINDS TANGO DULL; BAN IS OFF

NAME TO BE CHANGED, HOWEVER, AS CONDITION.

Paris Newspaper Says Pontiff Much Prefers Old Venetian Dance Known as "Furlana."

PARIS, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Pope Pius personally initiated a revival of the old Venetian dance, "furlana," after the cardinal vicar had banned the Argentine dance, says tonight's Temps.

The Pope summoned a young couple belonging to a princely Roman family before him and bade them do the tango. Afterwards the Pope said: "It is one of the dullest things imaginable. If a sinner were compelled to dance the tango as a penance he would be treated harshly."

Thereupon he called in two Venetian domestics and ordered them to dance the "furlana," which is like the Brazilian maxixe, and praised its gracefulness.

Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, has been cited to appear before the civil tribunal in a suit for 20,000 francs ($4000), brought by M. Stillson, a teacher of dancing.

Stillson sets forth that the admission issued by Cardinal Amette early in January, forbidding the dancing of the tango as a sin and condemning the dance as indecent, not only caused Stillson financial loss by driving away all his pupils, but was an aspersion on his moral character.

FEAR OF FINES PACIFIES

Jewelry Seller and Dissatisfied Customer "Make Friends."

"Making friends" saved C. M. Scheiner and C. A. Allen from a $10 fine each in Municipal Court yesterday.

Allen charged that Scheiner sold him some cheap jewelry and that it fell to pieces shortly after he bought it. He said he tried to get Scheiner to refund the $1 he had paid.

"If you can settle this and make friends before 2 o'clock, I will release you both," said Judge Stevenson, before whom each had hailed the other on disorderly conduct charges. "Otherwise, I'll impose $10 fine."

CIRCULATORS TO BE BARRED

Petitions Not to Be Allowed in Corridors of Courthouse.

By an order passed by the County Commissioners yesterday, in the future no petitions may be circulated in the corridors of the Courthouse. In the past it has been the practice of circulators of petitions for initiative or referendum, or the recall of officials, to solicit signatures in or about the registration quarters. This will be stopped, according to the order passed yesterday.

Superintendent of Building Kehoe was directed to put the order into effect at once.

GOETHALS WILL BE 'ONE MAN' AT CANAL

Builder Will Be Governor of Zone.

WILSON ANNOUNCES INTENT

Authority to Be Second Only to Secretary of War.

NEW SALARY $5000 LESS

Officers of Army and Navy, Hereafter to Be Designated for Other Positions Must Serve for Reduced Compensation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Organization of a permanent government for the Panama Canal zone to supersede the Isthmian Canal Commission on April 1 was authorized by President Wilson today with the announcement that the nomination of Colonel George W. Goethals to be first Governor of the Panama Canal will be sent to the Senate in a few days.

Colonel Goethals' idea of a "one man" government is carried out in the executive order which was made public by Secretary Garrison after today's Cabinet meeting. The authority of the Governor is to be supreme under the Secretary of War.

Salary Reduced $5000 a Year.

Official notification of his selection was cabled to Colonel Goethals at Panama. Secretary Garrison said he was confident there would be no question about his acceptance. The change in title will mean a loss of $5000 a year to the head of the zone, as the Governor's salary will be $19,000, and he now receives $15,000 as chairman of the commission.

Secretary Garrison announced that it was proposed to resolve the members of the commission with the exception of Colonel Goethals into a new commission to arrange for and conduct the ceremonies incident to the opening of the canal. Congress will be asked to provide the necessary legislation.

As today's legislative order not only terminates the existence of the Panama Canal Commission on April 1, but also the present organization of the working force in the zone, many of the Army officers connected therewith will lose the increased pay which they have

"Big Tim" Healey Foils Supposed Attempt to Rob.

KEATING HOME IS SCENE

Three Young Women Halt Fugitives; Who Send Bullets Whistling Over Their Heads—Special Officer and Victim in Hospital.

With two bullet wounds in his body T. J. Healey, popularly known as "Big Tim," a special watchman on Portland Heights, late last night returned the fire of two armed men, shot one of them in the right side and then fell to the pavement in front of John A. Keating's residence, 568 Montgomery Drive.

The two men ran up the road to a point opposite St. Helens Court, where three young women stopped them, asking if anyone was shot. The men answered by sending three shots over the girls' heads. They then jumped down a steep incline, falling into a deep gulch ending at Canyon Road.

Wounded Man Described.

The man shot by Healey, who gave his name as Louis Stros, was found half way up a steep slope at the base of the canyon, where he had been deserted by his companion, who had evidently attempted to drag the man with him in his flight. Healey was rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital and his wounded victim to Good Samaritan Hospital.

Healey told the police that he was walking along Montgomery Drive on his regular inspection, when he came upon two men acting suspiciously near the Keating residence.

"I asked them what they were doing around the house and the smaller man said, 'Who are you?' I drew my gun, but before I could fire he shot me through the right shoulder. I fired point blank at him, not 15 feet away, and saw I hit him. He fired again and doubled me up with a bullet in my stomach. They ran on up the drive, but I felt too sick to pursue them."

WOMEN MEASURED BY DEAD RECKONING

HAT NEED NOT BE REMOVED IN REGISTERING VOTE.

Precedent Established in San Francisco by Which Allowance for Hat Distance Is "Estimated."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—A man's height is the number of inches he stands on his two feet, but for purposes of registration a woman's height in California is the number of inches from the floor to the tip of her hat, minus what the registration clerk may estimate to be the distance between the crown of her head and the summit of the hat.

Mrs. Oscar Hocks, wife of a San Francisco Supervisor, established this precedent today, with the co-operation of Registrar Zemansky. Mrs. Hocks wished to register. The registrar wished her height first. Mrs. Hocks wore a particularly lofty hat and was emphatically disinclined to remove it in order that she might be measured.

Several women took her side and a compromise was reached under which the theoretical height was taken as a substitute.

It has been two years since Mr. Horst has been active in the hop market. His appearance has caused excitement among the dealers and growers.

BY WALTER GIFFARD.

All the world and his wife seemed to be present at the Armory last night when a new debutante made her bow to an audience first expectant, then critical and finally delighted. It was the automobile of 1914, which, in composite, marks still further advance in engineering skill, in designs for bodily comfort, in absolute dependability of running and durability. The setting was one of superb beauty and the crowd by far the largest that has ever attended an opening night.

More than 90 exhibits were on view and factory representatives did not hesitate to proclaim this the finest show ever staged on the Coast.

Functionally at 7:30 Judge Gatens was introduced by Captain W. H. Gray, president of the Portland Trade Automobile Association, under whose auspices the show is being held. In a few words the speaker announced the absolute necessity of the automobile today; its universal use by people in all walks of life, both rich and poor alike; its triumphant march in the commercial world. He ended by saying that never had a show been held so absolutely worthy of the support of the entire city.

Show Opens With Cheers. As Judge Gatens was speaking all except the sidelihts had been turned low. On his words, "I announce the show open," a gorgeous stream of light flooded the vast area, people cheered, the band struck up a stirring march, and the fifth annual show had opened.

In the arrangement of the setting decorators had excelled themselves. The general color scheme was one of green and white, bunting of that color completely covering the roof and falling in gentle folds to the sides. White posts with green electric lights announced the cars. In the center hung glittering massive chandeliers with myriads of lights, throwing a softened glow over car and visitor alike.

Along the sides were beautiful flowers of many colors, growing in boxes, with trellis work beneath them and a light above them.

Underneath the alstee was a wonderful painting, leading the visitors out of the city, past the Yeon building, along through Laurelhurst, past the Automobile Club and the Sandy River, even down to Crater Lake, a most realistic reproduction.

Mount Hood, the Three Sisters, St. Helens, Rainier and other mountains stretched towards the blue sky, cleverly brought out by the use of blue bunting. Further on came the broad Columbia with its view looking towards the mountains.

Bridge Is Reproduced. Still a little further on came a reproduction of the Columbia River bridge, which caused a great amount of favorable comment, and finally the visitor was brought back to the Armory again.

The outdoor effect was still further heightened by the green paths along which people strolled. Palm trees here and there, flowers in the individual booths, and occasionally the bright and almost blinding lights from some of the cars all tended to increase the beauty of the occasion.

Leading into and out of the show was a trellis archway covered with creeping ivy and not a particle of the old Armory could be seen. It was as if its bare old walls had shrunk from sight in shame when they saw how the martial air of the place had given way to the atmosphere of the automobile; when they saw how the whole building had been transformed into a fairy palace and the home of mechanical beauty and perfection.

The cars had been burnished, polished, rubbed and painted until they glittered in the light, and now the dealers and their corps of salesmen stood ready to show off their wares, as it were, to explain the hundred and one details of construction, the improvements and incidentally the necessity of possessing an automobile.

The crowd itself was what is known,
