THE X-RAY SHADE IS DOOMED Real Privacy Is Obtained by ELLMO Light-proof Window Shades.

Window Shades.

"The Shade Without a Shadow" The one great objection to ordinary light-colored shades has been their X-ray characteristics. When the room is illuminated at night the ordinary shades do not provide privacy. The VELLMO shading does away with this objection, and paves the way for universal adoption of the light-colored shade. The citch used in VELLMO shadings is subjected to an original process whereby material of the lightest color is made absolutely opaque. Besides preventing prints eyes from seeing what is going on in your home at night they prevent damage to your ruge and tapestries by excluding the too fierce rays of the midday sun.

VELLMO shades cost but a trifle more than ordinary shades but their advantages far outwelgh this trifling difference.

VELLMO light-colored light-proof shades are sold by most dealers. If yours will not demonstrate their superfority to you, write to our factory, for sample books and the name of a reliable dealer in your vicinity who will be giad to show you verter.
