SHELBY CULLOM'S LONG LIFE IS ENDED

Public Career Extending From Time of Lincoln Had Continued Half Century.

SINGLE REGRET EXPRESSED

Ex-Senator Wished to Live to See Memorial to Martyred President Completed - Views of Future Life Given in Memoirs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 .- Shelby M Cullom, ex-Senator from Illinois, died here today. He was ill more than a week. He was 86 years old and had been in public life nearly 60 years. Mr. Cullom's last words were a wish that he might have lived to see the completion of the National memorial to Abraham Lincoln, who was his personal friend.

Senator Cullom, who was born in Wayne County, Kentucky, November 22, 1829, entered public life at the age of 24. It is 57 years since he was elected to the 20th Illinois Assembly and 48 years since be took his seat in the lower house of Congress. sonal friend.

Schuyler Colfax Then Speaker. When Mr. Cullom took his seat in the When Mr. Cullem took his seat in the House of Rppresentatives Schuyler Colfax was Speaker, Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont, was chairman and James A. Garfield, Roscoe Conkling, John Wentworth and William B. Allison were members of the committee of ways and means. Thaddeus Stevens was chairman of the committee on appropriations. One day before he died, in recalling the incidents of the first Congress in which he sat, Mr. Cullom

"John Morrissey, the prizefighter, who was down in the directory as a "molder," was a member of that Con-gress and there was another quaint character named Hotchkiss, from one of the interior districts of New York State. I remember a forcible retort he once made to somebody who referred to the assassination of President Lincoln as an act of Divine Providence:

"You kill Lincoln and get Andy Johnson into the White House and then blame it to God,' exclaimed Hotchkiss. "In those days Pennsylvania avenue was about the muddlest and ugliest street you ever saw. It was sometimes impassable for carriages. I have seen wagons stuck in the mud and Burton C. Cook, one of my colleagues, had charge of a bill making an appropriation to pave the avenue. Speaker Collion to pave the avenue. Speaker Colon to pave the avenue. Speaker Colfax called me to the chair in the com mittee of the whole and I helped Bur ton along as much as I could, but Proc-tor Knott, of Kentucky, got the floor and made a funny speech, ridiculing the bill and everything else and finally worked the House up into such an up-roar that it was lost sight of and Cook event in his experience, and he replied:

"That question is very difficult to answer, because there are so many different kinds of events. I should regard the emancipation proclamation of President Lincoln as the greatest of political events, the laying of the Atlantic cable by Cyrus W. Field as the greatest of commercial events, and the invention of the reaper by Cyrus H. McCormick as having the most important influence upon the agricultural and economic development of the country. By the ald of McCormick's inventry. By the ald of McCormick's inven-tion the farmer was relieved of his hardest work, his capacity was multi-plied many times, and he was enabled hardest work, his capacity was multi-plied many times, and he was enabled to extend the area of his farm and in-crease his crop many fold. The United States would not be able to feed the mouths of the world but for that in-Vow of Retirement Broken. Mr. Cullom vowed, after he had served six years in Congress, that he would have no more of public life, but he became Speaker of the Illinois Legislature and afterward Governor. His career as a United States Senator began in 1883. His service in the Sen-ate chamber was an unbroken one for 20 years—five consecutive terms—a record excelled only by two other men—Senator Allison, of Lowa, and Senator Morrill, of Vermont, He entered the Senate in 1884, a spry, active man of 54. He left in 1913, a fading, tottering man of 84, but with a brain will bright and active still bright and active.

During the last few years his friends today appointed postmaster at Basin, had seen him become so feeble that his Or., vice W. B. Bales. had seen him become so feeble that his voice in the Senate chamber was not the $2,000,000 memorial in this city.

Views as to Hereafter Defined. Mr. Cullom's views on the subject of the future state are included in his memoirs, only recently completed. He

'I have no great fear of death except the natural dread of the physical pain which usually accompanies it. I certainly wish beyond any words I have power to utter that I could have greater assurances that there will be a reuniting with those we love and those who have loved us in some future world; but from my reading of the Scripture, and even admitting that there is a hereafter, I cannot find any satisfactory evidence to warrant such a belief. Could I believe that I could meet the loved ones who have gone before, I do not know but that I should look forward with pleasure to the before, I do not know but that I should a look forward with pleasure to the 'passing across.' Not having this belief, I am quite content to stay where I am as long as I can, and finally, when old Charon appears to row me over the River Styx, I shall be ready

The best proof of this is that he passed through the flery ordeal of holding public office without having ever been accused of enriching himself in public life and died comparatively poor. The grafter and corruptionists never dared approach this honest son of Illinois and he remained a shining example of honesty in official life. He merited and will receive the verdict of having been a faithful servant of the having been a faithful servant of the people. He should receive the honor of a public funeral from the officials and citizens of Illinois."

MUCH PAVING IS IN VIEW Bids for Large Number of Contracts Are Opened.

That the coming Summer is to be a ousy one for the paving companies in Portland is indicated by the number of street improvement proceedings now under way in the public works department. The season is starting out at a rate that indicates that the various companies will break a record in the amount of improvement work for the veer ear. Bids were opened yesterday by the City Commission for a number of large improvements, a long list of contracts are now ready for commencement and many others will be started within the next few days. The bids for improve-ments received yesterday were on the following streets:

East Sixty-ninth street, from East Glisan freet to Pacific street; East Eighteenth freet, from Clinton street to Powell street; bebraska street, from Macadam street to

STRIKE INQUIRY RESENTED

Copper Corporation Head Regrets Action Ordered by Congress.

NEW YORK, Jun. 28.—In a state-nent issued tonight, Quincy A. Shaw, oresident of the Calumet & Hecia Min-ng Company of Michigan, "regrets and esents" the resolution recently adopted by Congress for the investigation of the Michigan copper strike. Mr. Shaw says that the action proposed would prolong the "semblance" of the strike. The investigation is not desirable, Mr. Shaw asserts, "because the terms of direction which Congress gives in the resolution are unfairly aimed at one side of the controversy and ex-clude from investigation the notorious lisorders and bloodshed inspired by the leaders of the strike."
