IDLE TO END, W. W. RULE OF QUARTERS

Industrial Workers of World Try to Starve Out Worthy Unemployed Men.

PROTEST MEETING CALLED

Self-Appointed Rulers of Shelter "Hog" All Comforts and Food for Members of Agitating Body and Do Not Go to Work.

More than 600 unemployed men, who are housed in the Gipsy Smith Tabernacle will hold a protest meeting at 8 o'clock tonight to try to oust the Industrial Workers of World from their present management of the place.

The men who will attempt at the meeting to throw out the I. W. W. committee members of the floor committee are also of the same organization, and that the men not connected with the shelter house, and with treating unfairly the men who do not belong to their organization.

There are five members of the executive board, and Foley, who is their head, is an I. W. W., and so are all the others. They have charge of the cooks and bunkies, and they have run in 30 other I. W. W. on these jobs.

"Two stoves in the place are fenced off, and on the fences is a sign saying that the stoves are for committee men only. There are two barbers and one shoemaker in the place, but the men who don't belong to the I. W. W. can't get a shave or have their boots repaired."

"In the breakfast line the I. W. W. show their membership cards and get full helpings, while we get little and that usually uncooked. I got a bit of salmon tonight, the size of two fingers, and so full of salt that I could not eat it. They are trying to drive out the honest workers and make the place a hangout for the I. W. W. There are about 50 yeggs and punks in the place, too."

Further than this, the executive committee tonight announced they would collect all money and contributions, and that others should not collect. They have received much money and food that never got to the working men in the crowd.

To hang such alleged conditions, the protest meeting will be held tonight. Police under Captain Jenkins will preserve order.

Good Things in Markets

DESPITE the prevalence, locally, of "Oregon mist" and the transient visits of old Sol, Spring is actually headed this way, unrolling her emerald carpet before her as she advances up the Pacific coast.

Mexican tomatoes, 30 cents a pound; Heeden mushrooms, of large size, 51 cents a pound; a new supply of Merritt cut cumpers, from Tazo Robles, the slender, smooth-skinned variety, eight and 12 inches in length, at 20 and 30 cents each, respectively.

Florida grapefruit are getting scarce and are held at 15 and 20 cents a dozen, but all the California shipping points are sending up an abundant supply of fresh ripe navel stock, which bring from 25 to 60 cents a dozen; Weber "old glove" oranges, at 20 cents a dozen are very attractive.

California grapes—which it seems is about the only variety obtainable—are 30 cents a pound; fresh pineapples, 10 cents a dozen and new coconuts, 15 cents each; bananas, 25 to 30 cents a dozen.

The reserve stock of apples, which is now being exhibited, is a veritable show in itself. Spitzenberg, Newtown, "Blushing Bertie" and Moss pippins are all held at $3.50 a box; Arkansas Black are $4 a box. The different varieties sell by the dozen at 40 and 50 cents.

Skogman's Delight, a tart cooking apple, is $3 a box or 30 cents a dozen; Merritt (also a cooking variety), $1.50 a box. The only pears now offered are "Latta" Fridge—a rough-skinned fruit—and Moss Beauty, each 50 cents a dozen.

The new season stock of California ripe olives is unusually large and includes those offered in bulk, large, medium and small, at 70, 60 and 50 cents a quart; "Jumbo," a very large variety, in jars, at $1.25 a quart; the Merritt ripe olive, also in jars, 65 and 85 cents a quart; Jacobson's pitted, at 45 cents and 75 cents, in glass; the "White Cross" brand, extra fine, at 50 and 75 cents a can, and, lastly, the "Pee-Wee" olive, a very small variety—mostly used in the manufacture of cocktails—which sell at 15 cents a tin or $1.50 a dozen.

"Three minutes—That's all the time I need to produce a perfect bisque or cream-of-tomato from Campbell's Tomato Soup. Just follow the plain easy directions on the label. Use only a small pinch of baking-soda. Use fresh sweet milk with only a little cream in it, if any. After mixing the soup and the milk together let them come to boiling-point, but do not let them boil!"
