SHIP WITH 500 HITS OFF NO MAN'S LAND

Roma Battles for Six Hours, Calls for Aid and Then Floats in Safety.

SCENE IS ISOLATED PLACE

Vessel Grounds During Blizzard After Getting Off Course 20 Miles. Night Radio Assures of Safety.

GAYHEAD, Mass., Feb. 16.—For six hours the Fabre Steamship Company's liner Roma, with more than 400 passengers and a crew of 100, from Marseilles for Providence and New York, was reported in a precarious condition on the rocky shoals off No Man's Land.

Shortly after 10 o'clock a message was picked up saying the vessel had floated and was proceeding to Providence. This was confirmed by a late message to the Naval radio station at Newport.

Conditions for wireless work were poor, and details of the accident were lacking, but from the messages sent by the Roma's radio there seemed to be no grave concern on the part of the company over news of the safety of ship or passengers.

Gale's Direction Saves.

The Roma struck on the southerly side of the bleak little island during a blizzard. The direction of the gale, it is believed, was the salvation of the steamer.

The Roma was not expected to reach Providence before daylight.

The Fabre line steamers rarely attempt to move up Narragansett Bay at night when the weather is thick, and it was believed she would anchor off Newport to await favorable conditions.

The revenue cutter Itasca, in the western end of Long Island Sound, was the first to respond to the distress signals, but had before her a hard fight of several hours. The revenue cutter Acushnet set out from New Bedford at 10 o'clock on an equally difficult trip.

The Roma was due at Providence last Saturday and, after bucking storms all the way across the Atlantic, ran into a gale. Apparently the vessel was 20 miles off her course when she brought up on the south shore of No Man's Land.

Island Isolated Place.

The egg-shaped island with a coast line of three miles, lies about eight miles south of Gayhead light and is the most isolated place of habitation on the Atlantic coast. A single family lives there this Winter.

The first wireless message from the Roma was picked up at the naval station at Newport at 4:10 o'clock this afternoon. It read:

"Ashore south side No Man's Land. Send powerful tugboat with well provided towing material. Impossible for us to get off with our own power."

Captain Combernous is said to be making his first voyage as master of the ship. He communicated with the owners at New York and gave the impression that the vessel was in no great danger and would be floated with the aid of tugs.

The Roma apparently went ashore at half tide.

NEW CHARTER ADOPTED

Hotly Contested Election Ends in Favor of Administration.

UMATILLA, Or., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—At one of the most hotly contested elections ever held in this city a new city charter was adopted and a water bond limit of $20,000 for the city water works passed. This election is a decisive victory for the present city administration.

ROAD COST IS APPROVED

Plans and Specifications for Riverside Drive Filed.

Plans, specifications and estimates of the cost of hard-surfacing Riverside Drive from the city limits to Riverwood were approved yesterday by the County Commissioners and filed with County Clerk Coffey for record, and the second resolution of intentions to improve the roadway will be passed and entered on the journal today.

After the expiration of ten days the commissioners will appoint three appraisers to view the abutting property and make assessments on each tract. Following the report of the appraisers and publication of notice of the proposed improvement, 20 days will be allowed in which to receive remonstrances against the proposed improvement. If no remonstrances are filed bids will be received and the contract let. Roadmaster Yeon hopes to let the contract for the road not later than the middle of April.

Petitions were started yesterday by property owners on the Section Line road to have that road hard-surfaced from the city limits to Gresham, a distance of about seven miles. Property owners along that section of the road from the west end of the Ruhl ranch to Gresham, a distance of about three and a half miles, yesterday presented a petition to macadamize this stretch of road to Roadmaster Yeon. The petition, which was signed by William Childers and 24 other property owners, was presented and called for a macadam road, but Mr. Yeon talked to those who brought the petition and they left with others asking for a hard-surfaced road.

Nearly a dozen of the property owners who are interested signed the hard-surfaced petition yesterday, which calls for improving the road from the city limits through to Gresham, a distance of about seven miles, and one of the party said he believed he could get every property owner along the line to ask for hard surface.

D. C. Lewis, of St. Johns, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Multnomah County.

Mr. Lewis has adopted as his slogan, "More law and fewer laws." In his platform he promises to work for equitable arbitration laws guaranteeing just and fair compensation to the wage-earner; for good roads legislation, but so safeguarded that the cost of highway building will not deprive any poor person of his home; a 40-foot channel to the sea; a law applying the Mann white slave act to local counties; lessening of the expense of Supreme Court appeals, and privilege of paying taxes in two semi-annual installments, as well as other amendments to the tax laws.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—Frank W. Blaker, deputy county treasurer, announced his candidacy for nomination for his chief's office today and distributed his cards. He has been in the Treasurer's office for four years. W. R. Fletcher, retiring Treasurer, will go to Hood River to engage in the furniture business.

E. S. (Bert) Biesecker, Sheriff here when the notorious outlaw, Tracy, passed through, and who has a hat with a bullet hole in it, placed there through the courtesy of Tracy, announced that he will throw this 'hat in the ring' for election as Sheriff.

The law in Washington is that no county officer shall hold office more than two successive terms. Ira C. Cresap, Sheriff, has been in office two years, so retires.

It is rumored that at least three women will be candidates for county offices, those of County Auditor, County Clerk, and County Superintendent.

CLUB IN NEW QUARTERS

Weekly Luncheon of Live Wires to Be Held There Today.

OREGON CITY, Or., Feb. 16.—(Special.)—The Commercial Club of Oregon City has moved into its new quarters in the Weinhard building that was recently completed on the corner of Main and Eighth streets, and the weekly luncheon of the Live Wires will be held there Tuesday. The quarters on the fourth floor of the Masonic building, vacated by the club last week, have not yet been rented.

While the new clubrooms are not quite as spacious as the old quarters, there is a distinct advantage in light and location. The second floor of the building is divided into three sections, connected with folding doors, with the parlor in the front of the building, facing Main street, the main reading, billiard and poolroom in the center and the dining-room and kitchen in the rear. New furnishings have been provided and within a week the club will have a formal reception for its members to inaugurate its removal.

New Bills Open at the Vaudeville Houses

Pantages.

RHODA ROYAL, picturesque and piquant, dashes madly onto Pantages stage perched on a big black charger, gaily caparisoned. Behind her prance two other steeds, each bearing a rider and the three trained equines perform amazingly. It's just like one ring of a huge circus. The horses kneel in acknowledging applause, Miss Royal's horse tangoes and one of the others does an Oriental dance. The act is an unusual one and novel for a vaudeville headliner.

Murray K. Hill sauntered out with a sunny smile and an engaging way of making friends with his audience. Hill is a distinct sensation as a monologist, his clever stories all have point and purpose and are new. His big hit was a travesty on the idea sprung by so many actors on hailing Portland as his birthplace. His constant referring to a bit of note paper so as to keep the name Portland in his memory, kept the audience in laughter.

An act of merit is a dancing turn in which two graceful maids and two men dancers give the tango, Brazilian and Argentine, and the hesitation waltz and some others. They wear masks, and are billed as four of Portland's beax and belles dancing incognito. The act is dainty and exceedingly attractive.

Hal Davis and a company of five players offer a farce called "Stockton's Busy Day," which is full of laughs. Most of the fun is sponsored by Hal Davis himself, a comedian of ability.

The Brighton Four are vocalists who sprinkle their renditions with comical asides and bits of amusing business. All sing well and made a ten strike.

Opening the bill is the Melnotte-Lanole four, tight-wire artists, who have a lot of new ventures. The animated pictures closing the bill lead off with a trio of Portland's well-known men.

Empress.

BERT LESLIE, the king of slang, is the headliner at the Empress this week in his clever little vehicle, "Hogan the Painter." The act is realistic and teems with laugh-provoking localisms.

An extra attraction is offered by Charles B. Lawlor and his attractive daughters, Mabel and Alice, formerly of the Orpheum circuit. They present "The Sidewalks of New York" in a clever and original manner, and the Misses Lawlors' gowns are a revelation.

Burke and McDonald present a genuine bit of Irish humor entitled "My Good Friends." They score a great success over the Orpheum circuit a few years ago.

A Portland boy, Earl Girdellar, made a decided hit with his comedy and his acrobatic dogs.

Aubria Rich and Ted Lenore shine in a sparkling bit of musical comedy.

Lyric.

TWO distinct shows, all for the price of one, are given at the Lyric Theater this week, with "The Matinee Girls" as the regular bill and John Spain, the 1911 Pendleton Roundup broncho-busting champion, with a company of expert riders and rope throwers as the added attraction.

There's a clever little girl in Mr. Spain's company, too, with the color of a rose and a youthful exuberance of spirits, who "bulldogs" a steer and throws it to the floor of the stage. She is the only woman bulldogger in the world, according to announcements, and her applause for the unusual and thrilling achievement was hearty.

Mr. Spain rides two of his horses, one a broncho that bucks and another that almost turns somersaults.

An Indian youth and another rope thrower give exhibitions of twirling and lariat spinning that are edifying.

"The Matinee Girls" is a merry, nonsensical recital of the mishaps of a musical comedy company which loses its two comedians. Mike Brady and Adolf Schultz, globe trotters, are pressed into service, but not before they are led into various walks of life, first as easy marks for a spiritualistic medium, and later as helpers in a hotel.

Billy Onslow is Brady with an Irish makeup and a brogue that are irresistibly funny, while Max Steinle as Schultz a round, happy Dutchman, helps put over the comedy.

Joe Kemper, a dashing young singer and a dancer of the Cohanesque school, is the leading man of the "troupe" that "goes busted," and Tommy La Rese is Dionesius, an all-around character man, props, comedian and what not.

Dorothy Raymond is the prima donna of the Lyric company and also of the troupe of matinee girls, and wears a stunning frock of black charmeuse and white shadow lace.

GIRLS! DON'T WASH HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and luster.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.—Adv.

AD WRITER MAKES TALK

ADVANCE MADE IN PAST FIVE YEARS, THEME AT CLUB.

Cleaner Methods and More Up-to-Date Systems Are in Vogue Among Business Men.

R. D. Carpenter, of the Meier & Frank Company, talking on "Retail Advertising" at the meeting of the Inner Circle of the Portland Ad Club at the Portland Hotel last night, declared that the development of the advertising business in the West in the past five years has placed it on a footing fully as advanced as in the most progressive trade centers of the East.

Mr. Carpenter, through a comparison of advertisements in use by the big department stores of Portland at the present time and those of five years ago, traced the principal features of change and advancement in the advertising business in that time. Not only did he declare that the methods of handling space in advertising today are far in advance of those of a half dozen years ago, but the influence of the movement for clean advertising has brought into advertising of the present elements of complete reliability which were not always to be found in those of the old style.

Mr. Carpenter defended the method of using comparative prices in advertising of special sales, declaring that in the big, reliable retail firms of the city this method is never abused, and that it is the only sure and effective method of giving the customer a clear idea of just what is offered. It was brought out in the discussion that deception in advertising can be carried out more easily without the use of the comparative price system than with it.

The address by Mr. Carpenter was followed by an illustrated stereopticon lecture on retail advertising.

MRS. GEREN CONVICTED

Father Also Found Guilty of Real Estate Fraud.

Mrs. Helen M. Geren and her father, R. L. Mathison, were convicted yesterday in Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court of fraudulent real estate transactions and will be sentenced Friday. The penalty provided by law is from one to five years in the Penitentiary. Attorney Frank Collier, of counsel for Mrs. Geren and Mathison, announced that he would appeal the case, and Judge Kavanaugh allowed him 15 days in which to prepare a bill of exceptions.

Immediately following the conviction of Mathison and his daughter, Judge Kavanaugh took up the trial of J. H. Tipton, indicted jointly with Mrs. Geren and Mathison, but who demanded a separate trial. When court adjourned last night the jury in the Tipton trial had been secured and the opening statements of counsel made.

Mrs. Geren and her father and Tipton were charged with defrauding Miss Mary Burke out of $1900 by giving a mortgage on a vacant lot after representing that the mortgage was on a house which had been shown to Miss Burke and on which she thought she was making the loan. The two lots—the one on which the house stands and the one on which the mortgage was given—are adjoining lots.

The case was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorneys Murphy and Maguire and C. T. Haas, special prosecutor.

SLAVE FILMS VIEWED

CENSORS, PASTORS AND OTHERS SEE PICTURE AT HEILIG.

Majority of Those at Private Exhibition Are Strongly in Favor of Permitting Public Production.

Members of the censorship board for motion pictures, representatives of the various civic organizations of the city, several members of the clergy, a large delegation of judges and others interested in the moral and social being of the city and the welfare of the children in particular were present yesterday afternoon at the Heilig at the private showing of the films entitled "The Inside of the White Slave Traffic."

These pictures have been exhibited in all parts of the country and have created a great amount of discussion. Positive opinions both for and against them have been expressed. The majority of those present strongly favored the production of the films in Portland.

Mayor Albee, speaking on the question of allowing the pictures to be shown, said:

"It is a right hard question to decide. We know the minds of our own children, but do not know how it would affect the minds of others."

The Board of Censors will meet this morning at 11 o'clock at Mrs. Trumbull's office and after careful consideration will make their decision. The personnel of the board includes Mrs. E. B. Colwell, Mrs. Trumbull, Mrs. Sol Hart, Mrs. A. C. Newill, and W. H. Warren, secretary to Mayor Albee.

BOURNE PETITIONS ARE OUT

Charley Lockwood and Friends Beg ex-Senator to Enter Race Again.

Charley Lockwood and his "Republican" Club are still active in behalf of the candidacy or Jonathan Bourne, Jr., for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

Lockwood is circulating petitions asking Mr. Bourne to become a candidate. One of the petitions is for signatures of Republicans as individuals, the other for their signatures as members of "the Republican Club." As it was after being asked to run by signers to similar petitions two years ago that Mr. Bourne "consented" to become a candidate, it is regarded as not unlikely that his announcement will be made shortly.

COMMISSIONERS IN RAID

MESSRS. BIGELOW AND DALY JOIN SLUMMING EXCURSION.

Police Conduct Tour of Underworld in Which Doors Are Smashed and Chinese Taken to Station.

Nearly three hours were passed by City Commissioners Bigelow and Daly in Chinatown last night under the escort of Sergeant Harms and Patrolmen Long and Wise. The Commissioners received a series of thrills seldom experienced by the layman.

Interested in the methods employed by the police department and seeking first-hand information as to the actual conditions existing in the "underworld," Commissioners Bigelow and Daly appeared at police headquarters shortly after 8 o'clock and set out on a tour of the North End. They followed Sergeant Harms and his men in a raid on a house at 95 North Fourth street. Axes and jimmies were used in forcing entrance. Sing Lee and five patrons were arrested. Sing Lee was charged with conducting the place.

The raid over, the Commissioners were shown notorious resorts of the past, now dark. Visits were made to Greek coffee houses where young American girls are employed as waitresses. Commissioner Bigelow regretted the employment of American girls in these places. Commissioner Daly concurred.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP

MRS. WALTER BAKER AND DAUGHTER.

"I can always say a good word for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Walter Baker, Crooksville, Ohio. "It has been used by my daughter Norma Louise ever since she was a baby. She is subject to croup, and a few doses of this remedy given when that croupy cough comes on her quickly dispels the attack. She does not object to taking it as it is pleasant to the taste, and being free from opiates, I know it cannot harm her. It certainly deserves all the good things I can say of it."

Sub-Postoffice Will Be Moved to Commercial Club Block.

Resulting from negotiations begun some time ago by the president of the Portland Commercial Club, the Postal Inspector has reported favorably on the proposal to remove station 3 of the Portland Postoffice from the Henry building to rooms on the ground floor of the Commercial Club building.

The plan was taken up by the president of the Commercial Club with Postmaster Myers and his report in its favor was promptly sent to Washington. Mr. Myers said the quarters offered in the Commercial Club building were to be secured more cheaply than the same amount of room on any other corner at Fifth and Oak streets.

For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion.
